Ike Will Press For Tariff Cut Early In 1955

President Will Go Trout Fishing With Hoover Next Week

DENVER, Aug. 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower today reaffirmed administration intentions to press for swift congressional action next year on his controversial program to cut tariffs. He called the plan essential to better international relations.

The chief executive's vacation headquarters announced, meanwhile, that he will put business almost entirely aside next week to go trout fishing with former President Hoover.

Starting Tuesday, Eisenhower and Hoover — both experts with a fly rod — will spend four or five days at a secluded Rocky Mountain ranch at Fraser, Colo., 70 miles west of here on the western slope of the Continental Divide.

Ike Signs 71 Bills

There the 80-year-old Hoover will get a chance to sample some of the President's cooking — such Eisenhower specialties as flapjacks, vegetable soup, beef stew and charcoal broiled steaks.

Eisenhower plans a day of trout fishing tomorrow, in advance of the get-together with Hoover next week. He will drive early in the morning to a South Platte River fork to try his luck with dry and wet flies at the ranch of an old friend, Bal F. Swan. The ranch is located about 40 miles southwest of Denver at Pine, Colo.

Cleaning up his Summer White House desk today in preparation for that outing, the President signed 71 bills. They included a measure authorizing $3,252,868,000 in foreign aid to help bolster the free world against any Communist aggression.

Appropriation Bill Signed

He also approved a supplemental appropriation bill providing $1,659,120,429. Among other things, the measure carries 100 million dollars for military construction works and family housing for servicemen, 88 million for veterans unemployment compensation, and 33 million in grants to states for unemployment compensation.

The President's new statement that he intends to press for fast congressional action next year on his much debated tariff program was in a letter to Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills and a trustee of the Committee for Trade Developments.

Bullis had written Eisenhower that "some of your friends are concerned" as to whether the President planned to stand firm for the program, which calls for a gradual 15 per cent cut in tariffs.

In reply, the President wrote that the program he sent to Congress last March 30 "remains firmly the administration position."

Son Of College Student Stolen From Playpen

LANDOVER, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—The 16-month-old son of a George Washington University student was picked up from a playpen today and taken off by a man and woman wearing dark glasses.

Prince Georges County police said the child is Roger A. Porter, son of Reed A. Porter, 22, a student and part-time elevator operator at the Capitol, and his estranged wife, Maureen.

Porter lives at the home of his brother, Francis A. Porter, in nearby Kent Village. Francis Porter said his brother went to Salt Lake City last week to the home of his mother where Roger has been living and brought the child here.

Mrs. Francis Porter said a car bearing Utah tags drove up to their apartment while Roger was in a playpen with his 11-month-old cousin, Penelope.

Mrs. Porter said she went into the kitchen for a moment and was followed by the man who told her that he and his woman companion were going to take Roger with them.

"You can't do that without a court order," she said she told the stranger.

"We've got the baby's birth certificate," the man told Mrs. Porter before the couple took Roger and drove off.

"We think the child was taken as a result of the quarrel between his father and mother," Francis Porter said, "But we can't be sure."

Former Junk Dealer Seeks Control Of Big Mail Order Company

(AP Wirephoto)

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Louis E. Wolfson, once a Florida junk dealer, today launched a bid to gain control of the giant Montgomery Ward & Co., presaging probably one of the bitterest business fights in years.

It was the boldest move in the spectacular career of the 42-year-old industrialist who in the last few years has gained control of corporations with assets of more than 200 million dollars. Ward's with its 700 millions in assets would bring the total close to a billion.

At a news conference Wolfson said he believes he and his associates now own the largest single block of Montgomery Ward's 6,700,000 voting shares. He did not disclose the exact number of shares.

"Our continuing investment in Montgomery Ward stock, candidly, has been with the intention to strengthen our position in the company with a view to superseding the present management," the rugged tanned former college football star declared.

His antagonist will be Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the board of the big Chicago firm that has sales of a billion dollars a year through its mail order business and retail stores.

Avery, now 80, is a legendary figure on the American business scene and has been head of Montgomery Ward for 23 years. He has beaten off several attempts in the past few years to unseat him. During the Roosevelt administration, he defied the government in a union dispute and troops carried him bodily from his Chicago office.

In Chicago, Avery's secretary said he was not in his office and she did not think he would comment immediately on the Wolfson announcement.

Montgomery Ward stock closed at $75.87 a share on the New York Stock Exchange where trading had ended when Wolfson made his announcement. But on the San Francisco Exchange, where trading still was underway, it closed at $78.50.

Wolfson centered his fire on what he termed Avery's pessimistic view on the country's postwar outlook and his conservative policies in operating Montgomery Ward while the rival Sears, Roebuck & Co. had steadily pulled away in sales and profits.

"At the present rate, Montgomery Ward's sales have dropped under one billion a year in volume while its chief competitor's will have soared over three billion," he declared in a statement.

Flanders Gets Ready For Battle With McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) said today he is "documenting" charges in support of his resolution asking the Senate to censure McCarthy (R-Wis).

The charges are now under preliminary study by a special six-man committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), which will open hearings next Tuesday.

Flanders said he would not be a witness at the hearings just on the basis of a demand by McCarthy but that he would of course appear if asked by the committee. At any rate, he said, he would have written documentation ready for the investigators.

Returns From Europe

Flanders, 73, returned to the United States this week from a European vacation. Looking fit and rested, the man who offered the resolution to condemn McCarthy's conduct as "contrary" told newsmen he was fully satisfied with progress to date by the special probe committee of three Democrats and three Republicans.

He described as "ample to start with" the five broad categories of charges the committee has decided are the "most important" and which will form the basis of the hearings, at least at the start.

Heard "Softening" Rumors

"I feel assured that the committee is going to run the hearings properly," Flanders said. "I heard rumors of softening by the committee while I was in Europe but Sen. Watkins' statement yesterday was a very clear statement of the logical and proper way to go about this work."

This referred to the committee's announced decision to start its inquiry on the basis of the five categories of charges. These cover 13 specific allegations culled from among 46 leveled against McCarthy by Flanders and Sens. Morse (Ind-Ore) and Fulbright (D-Ark). Some of the 46 overlap.

10 Millionaires' Shoes Are Shined By TV Contestant

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 26 (AP)—Ten millionaires gathered in the offices of Jesse H. Jones today to have their shoes shined.

Jones decided to make the job easy for Floyd Jackson, 43, Los Angeles, who came here to fulfill a mission as a contestant on a TV show.

Jackson had been promised $100 for each shine if he would come to Houston and shine the shoes of 10 millionaires.

"I'd shined Mr. Jones' shoes when I used to live in Houston," Jackson said, "and figured I'd start with him."

Jones, wartime head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and former secretary of commerce, called nine other millionaires.

Jackson completed the job in about 20 minutes.

CBS Head Urges McCarthy Probers To Lift Ban On TV

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, appealed over the CBS television network tonight to the McCarthy hearing committee to lift its ban on radio and TV coverage of its hearings.

"Lift the curtain of silence," Stanton said in what he described as "a CBS editorial." He asked the public's support.

Federal Judge Harold A. Medina, who is opposed to radio and television coverage of such hearings, has accepted a CBS invitation to deliver a rebuttal one week from tonight over the same facilities.

A special six-man Senate committee is to open hearings next Tuesday on a resolution to censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Stanton said "it is not the broadcasting industry's interest in this matter which concerns me chiefly this evening....

"We ask the committee itself to consider its ruling against radio and television so that you, sitting in your own home, always may exercise one of your most precious rights: the right to be informed."

Stanton hit at arguments that radio and television coverage create a circus atmosphere, cause legislators and others to misbehave and generally rob the hearings of a "judicial atmosphere."

He said "If legislators find it impossible to behave themselves or measure up to their obligations when the public is looking in, the remedy is not to bar the public.

"Once the public has had an opportunity to see and hear for itself, we think that we can count on the public to reach its own conclusion."

Stanton emphasized that the hearings are not judicial but legislative proceedings related to "making laws directly affecting you and me. Issues as far reaching and as grave as this are most certainly our business."

Brazil Seizes Over 100 Reds; Vargas Buried

Authorities Press Campaign Against Communist Party

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 26 (AP)—Authorities pressed a campaign against Brazil's outlawed Communist party today as 71-year-old Getulio Vargas was buried in the cattle country he loved and his successor moved rapidly to shape a new government.

More than 100 Communists were arrested, copies of the party newspaper were seized and quantities of subversive material were confiscated after two days of bloody demonstrations. Signs that the Reds played a major role in sparking the riots continued to mount. Vargas' suicide Tuesday set off the demonstrations, aimed partly against the United States, and left four persons dead and scores wounded throughout the country.

Troops Fire Over Crowd

Troops fired rifles over a crowd demonstrating against the U. S. Consulate today at Porto Alegre, the capital and cultural center of Rio Grande Do Sul, Vargas' native state. The crowd started on a shouting spree after the city had been quiet for several hours, but dispersed when military reinforcements moved in.

Vargas' flag-draped coffin remained overnight in the Town Hall at his native prairie village of Sao Borja, where thousands viewed it, and then was removed for burial at noon.

Thousands attended the burial service at the Vargas family mausoleum in the Municipal Cemetery.

Rio De Janeiro Quiet

Rio De Janeiro was generally quiet today, although a few troops still were to be seen. Banks, shops and public offices reopened. Police this morning seized copies of the Communist newspaper, Imprensa Popular, which headlined its account of the riots with anti-American attacks. The paper publishes openly despite the party ban.

Joao Cafe Filho, the 55-year-old vice president who succeeded Vargas as chief executive, continued his consultations with political leaders to set up his Cabinet and his government policies. It is not expected that Brazil's foreign policy or present financial policy will be modified radically under the new President, but the new government may be one of freer economy. Greater freedom for foreign investors is one plank in Cafe's Social Progress party platform.

5th Air Force To Quit Korea

SEOUL, Friday, Aug. 27 (AP)—The U.S. 5th Air Force, scourge of Communist air power in the Korean air war, soon will pull its crack jet fighter units out of forward bases in South Korea where they are regarded as "sitting ducks" for the truce-fattened Red MIG air force in North Korea.

"Where we are now," a high Air Force source explained, "Communist planes crossing the 38th Parallel could burn our fighters on the ground."

Headquarters of the 5th will be moved to Nagoya, Japan. The announcement today said only that the fighter units, including the deadly Sabrejets, would be redeployed elsewhere in the Far East.

The source said all "alert" units —the jet fighters at forward bases —will be moved out of Korea within the next few months. The units will be designated later.

The move will take 100,000 men out of Korea, experts said.

The Air Force decision was part of fast-moving Far East command action to give American military might the mobility to hit back at aggression anywhere in the Far East.

Guatemalan Junta OKs Armour As Envoy

GUATEMALA, Aug. 26 (AP)—The government junta announced today its agreement to the appointment of Norman Armour as ambassador from the United States.

Armour, a veteran career diplomat, has been ambassador to Spain, Chile, Argentina and Venezuela.

The junta authorized Foreign Minister Carlos Salazar to negotiate an agreement with the United States for technical assistance under the Point Four program.

Quadruple Amputee, Girl Reconcile

Clarence (Red) Mosley, who lost both hands and both feet in the Korean War, is shown yesterday at Paterson, N .J., with his fiancee, Ruth Shaw, whom he plans to marry Sept. 25. Ruth's mother, Mrs. John Shaw, said yesterday morning the wedding was off because the couple had a spat. But Mosley denied any rift. "Everything is going to be all right now," he told reporters. Lid Apparently On All American Talk About EDC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The State Department parried all questions about the European Defense Community today, thereby hoisting a signal that apparently the lid is on all American talk about EDC until the issue is finally decided by the French Parliament.

French Premier Mendes-France sent the question of ratifying EDC to the French National Assembly this week without support of his government. By washing his hands of it, Mendes-France left EDC on its own in debate beginning Saturday.

This refusal by the Premier to stake his government's life on the outcome of the ratification vote—defeat would mean he would have to resign if he endorsed it—came after he failed to win agreement on his proposed changes from the five other EDC countries.

Dulles Gave Tipoff

The United States and Britain, although not members, have pledged to take some action to restore West Germany's sovereignty and rearm Germans for Western defense if EDC fails. Under EDC, West Germans would be rearmed in an international army including also troops of France, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy.

Secretary of State Dulles gave a tipoff last Tuesday that U. S. officials would soft pedal any EDC comment until after the French Parliament acts. He refused to discuss alternatives at his news conference, saying he still held hope if not expectations that France would go along.

Suydam Declines Comment

State Department press officer Henry Suydam was asked at his news conference today for comment on reports that the foreign ministers of Britain, the United States and the six EDC nations would meet at Paris early in September.

Purpose of this eight-power conference, according to the reports, would be to chart West Germany's future in the event EDC fails, The U. S. high commissioner's office in Germany has denied any plans for such a meeting, as have British and French spokesmen.

"I am unable to comment on any phase of EDC," Suydam told inquiring reporters.

Safe Holding $200,000 In Cash, Bonds Stolen

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—A small safe holding nearly a quarter of a million dollars in cash and securities was stolen from the Riverdale home of Mr. and Mrs Hans Lichtenstern today, police reported.

Lichtenstern, a vice president of Associated Metals and Minerals, Inc., of Manhattan, was reported staying at the Tarleton Club in Pike, N.H., with his wife. Police said he was expected home Friday.

The theft was reported by a maid, Mrs. Helma Helmchen. She told police she found burglars had broken into the house while she was out on a two-hour errand.

Maryland Kids May Go On Totin' Their Sidearms

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Charles Mathias, an assistant attorney general of Maryland, rated today among such "good guys" as Hopalong Cassidy and The Lone Ranger.

He ruled that the little podners of Maryland may go on totin' their sidearms.

Until Mathias rode to the rescue with his trusty law book, those Congressmen in Washington had cowboys and gals on the spot. They had passed a law making it illegal to ship fireworks into a state such as Maryland which outlaws them.

Does that mean cap pistols? Nervously asked store owners.

Alleged Thrill Killers Facing Electric Chair

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Four teen-agers were indicted on first degree murder charges today—just nine days after their chance arrest as alleged thrill killers.

The indictments automatically cast the shadow of the electric chair over the Brooklyn quartet. The death sentence is mandatory upon conviction of first degree murder.

Their age is no bar to their execution, if convicted. Boys as young as 17 have gone to the chair in New York. However, commutation of a death sentence is more likely for a boy.

Two of the boys indicted today are 17 — Jerome Lieberman and Melvin Mittman. A third, Jack Koslow, is 18, and the fourth, Robert Trachtenberg, is only 15.

They are accused of a senseless weeks-long orgy of beating and torture in Brooklyn parks, during which two men were slain. The only motive the state has suggested is the thrill they derived from their savageness. All came from decent homes and none had a past criminal record, although at least one was a problem child.

Deserter's Claim Of German-NATO 'Deals' Is Denied

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (AP)—West Germany's latest defector to the East, plugging hard for the Soviet propaganda campaign against Western unity, charged today NATO and Bonn officials have agreed secretly to quadruple German contributions to the proposed unified European army.

The charge — promptly denied by Allied and German authorities —was made by Karl Schmidt-Wittmack, 40, former trusted member of the West German Parliament's European Defense Community and All-German Defense Committees, at a news conference in the Soviet sector. He spoke in the East Berlin press headquarters once used by Joseph Goebbels' Nazi ministry for propaganda.

In Line With Red Drive

His appearance was in line with the current Communist drive aimed generally at disrupting the unified army plan and specifically at preventing French ratification of the EDC treaty.

Schmidt-Wittmack, former Hamburg deputy chairman of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party, crossed into East Berlin with his family just a week ago.

He charged that NATO's commander in chief, U.S. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, and two German generals acting for Adenauer, had agreed secretly in June and July at Bad Godesberg, near Bonn, to build a 24-division German army with another 24 divisions in reserve. This would be four times the size of the 12-division force, previously announced as West Germany's contribution to the proposed EDC.

Says New Wehrmacht Planned

Schmidt-Wittmack told newsmen Gruenther and Gen. Adolf Heusinger and Gen. Ludwig Cruewell of the West German Defense Commission had agreed on a 500,000-man revived Wehrmacht, supplied with American armaments and backed by 30 U.S. atomic cannon with shells each as deadly as the bomb that smashed Hiroshima. He said this force—consisting of 400,000 in the army, 80,000 in the air force and 20,000 in the navy—would be activated Nov. 1.

Battle To Keep Sweetheart Won By Quadruple Amputee

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 26 (AP)—Clarence (Red) Mosley, 23, who lost both hands and both feet fighting for his country in Korea, won a new battle today—to keep his pretty sweetheart.

Even as 170 relatives and friends were getting invitations to the wedding of the ex-Air Force hero and Ruth Shaw Sept. 25, Mosley's prospective mother-in-law announced this morning:

"The wedding has been called off by mutual agreement."

Not so, responded the shocked Mosley.

"I don't care what her mother says, I'll straighten it out," he told newsmen. "We had a little fight last night, but that doesn't mean the wedding is off."

He was right.

For hours he tried to reach his 22-year-old fiancee unsuccessfully. Finally, he was able to see her, smoothed things over and said:

"Everything's going to be all right now."

Ruth and her mother, Mrs. John Shaw, smilingly agreed.

Nobody would go into detail about what caused the quarrel. Earlier Mrs. Shaw had called newspapers to say "This is the end" — that Ruth positively would not give in to Mosley in a dispute they'd had.

Red and Ruth met at a party eight months ago — about a year after he left a hospital.

One of the Korean War's five quadruple amputees, he lost his limbs because of frostbite. He had lain in the snow for four days after leaping from a burning B26 over Korea in December 1952. Finally, two South Koreans rescued him from enemy territory.

Peiping Claims 10 Nationalist Soldiers Slain

Landing On Quemoy, Just Off Mainland, Called Successful

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 27 (AP)—About 40 Chinese Communist soldiers made a hit-and-run raid on the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy, just off the Red mainland, Monday night, Peiping radio said today.

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 27 (AP)—Peiping radio today claimed "People's liberation forces" successfully landed on the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy, just a few miles off the Red Chinese mainland, on the night of Aug. 23.

The radio indicated there had been fighting in the city of Kuningtou, on the northwest tip of Quemoy.

The Chinese language broadcast, heard here by Radio Press, did not reveal the size of the Communist landing force. It said 10 Nationalist soldiers were killed and one captured, indicating the assault force was comparatively small.

No Nationalist Confirmation

There was no immediate confirmation from Nationalist sources at Taipeh.

The action, if actually carried out by the Reds, would mark the first teeth the Communists have put into their oft-repeated threats to "liberate" Formosa and destroy the government of President Chiang Kai-shek.

Even if the action were successful, it would leave the Chinese Reds far from their goal. Formosa is 100 miles across the Formosa Strait from the mainland.

The U.S. 7th Fleet is in the area, and President Eisenhower has said any Red invasion of Formosa would have to ride over it. Chiang Kai-shek has about 600,000 troops on his island fortress.

Quemoy 5 Miles From Amoy

Quemoy is about five miles from the former South China treaty port of Amoy. Amoy has one of the first Chinese ports opened to trade with the British and Dutch and once had a large foreign community.

Quemoy itself is one of many hundreds of small islands just off the China mainland held by Chiang Kai-shek's forces. Small garrisons hold most of the islands, retained by the Nationalists when the Reds drove them off the mainland in 1948.

Missing Bomber Wreckage Found In California

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Mather Air Force Base Public Information Office said tonight a B25 plane missing with eight aboard has been sighted about five miles southeast of Monticello.

The air base said an ambulance was en route to the scene from Travis Air Force Base but it was not know if there were any survivors.

Monticello is in eastern Napa County about 90 miles west of here.

The Mather PIO said paramedics had jumped into the crash area and had verified the wreckage as the twin engine bomber that vanished about midnight. It was last heard from 70 miles south of here and was reported flying north.

Then it disappeared without a trace. At the last reported altitude, the medium bomber would have hit the Sierra foothills if it veered to the east, and the Coast Range to the west.

Funeral Services Arranged For Jet Ace

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—The body of jet ace Joseph McConnell Jr. will be sent tomorrow to George Air Force Base, not far from the McConnell home in Apple Valley.

Capt. McConnell, who knocked down 16 MIGs in Korea to become the nation's leading jet ace, was killed yesterday in the crash of an F86H Sabrejet on a routine test flight. He was 32.

A Catholic chaplain, Capt. William McTeat, will conduct funeral services in the George AFB chapel at 10 a.m. Saturday. The body will be placed in a vault in nearby Victorville, the Air Force said, until a cemetery is completed at Apple Valley.

Weather Forecast

10 Millionaires' Shoes Are Shined By TV Contestant

HOUSTON, Tex., Aug. 26 (AP)—Ten millionaires gathered in the offices of Jesse H. Jones today to have their shoes shined.

Jones decided to make the job easy for Floyd Jackson, 43, Los Angeles, who came here to fulfill a mission as a contestant on a TV show.

Jackson had been promised $100 for each shine if he would come to Houston and shine the shoes of 10 millionaires.

"I'd shined Mr. Jones' shoes when I used to live in Houston," Jackson said, "and figured I'd start with him."

Jones, wartime head of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and former secretary of commerce, called nine other millionaires.

CBS Head Urges McCarthy Probers To Lift Ban On TV

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, appealed over the CBS television network tonight to the McCarthy hearing committee to lift its ban on radio and TV coverage of its hearings.

"Lift the curtain of silence," Stanton said in what he described as "a CBS editorial." He asked the public's support.

Federal Judge Harold A. Medina, who is opposed to radio and television coverage of such hearings, has accepted a CBS invitation to deliver a rebuttal one week from tonight over the same facilities.

A special six-man Senate committee is to open hearings next Tuesday on a resolution to censure Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Stanton said "it is not the broadcasting industry's interest in this matter which concerns me chiefly this evening....

"We ask the committee itself to consider its ruling against radio and television so that you, sitting in your own home, always may exercise one of your most precious rights: the right to be informed."

Stanton hit at arguments that radio and television coverage create a circus atmosphere, cause legislators and others to misbehave and generally rob the hearings of a "judicial atmosphere."

He said "If legislators find it impossible to behave themselves or measure up to their obligations when the public is looking in, the remedy is not to bar the public.

"Once the public has had an opportunity to see and hear for itself, we think that we can count on the public to reach its own conclusion."

Stanton emphasized that the hearings are not judicial but legislative proceedings related to "making laws directly affecting you and me. Issues as far reaching and as grave as this are most certainly our business."

Brazil Seizes Over 100 Reds; Vargas Buried

Authorities Press Campaign Against Communist Party

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 26 (AP)—Authorities pressed a campaign against Brazil's outlawed Communist party today as 71-year-old Getulio Vargas was buried in the cattle country he loved and his successor moved rapidly to shape a new government.

More than 100 Communists were arrested, copies of the party newspaper were seized and quantities of subversive material were confiscated after two days of bloody demonstrations. Signs that the Reds played a major role in sparking the riots continued to mount. Vargas' suicide Tuesday set off the demonstrations, aimed partly against the United States, and left four persons dead and scores wounded throughout the country.

Troops Fire Over Crowd

Troops fired rifles over a crowd demonstrating against the U. S. Consulate today at Porto Alegre, the capital and cultural center of Rio Grande Do Sul, Vargas' native state. The crowd started on a shouting spree after the city had been quiet for several hours, but dispersed when military reinforcements moved in.

Vargas' flag-draped coffin remained overnight in the Town Hall at his native prairie village of Sao Borja, where thousands viewed it, and then was removed for burial at noon.

Thousands attended the burial service at the Vargas family mausoleum in the Municipal Cemetery.

Rio De Janeiro Quiet

Rio De Janeiro was generally quiet today, although a few troops still were to be seen. Banks, shops and public offices reopened. Police this morning seized copies of the Communist newspaper, Imprensa Popular, which headlined its account of the riots with anti-American attacks. The paper publishes openly despite the party ban.

Joao Cafe Filho, the 55-year-old vice president who succeeded Vargas as chief executive, continued his consultations with political leaders to set up his Cabinet and his government policies. It is not expected that Brazil's foreign policy or present financial policy will be modified radically under the new President, but the new government may be one of freer economy. Greater freedom for foreign investors is one plank in Cafe's Social Progress party platform.

5th Air Force To Quit Korea

SEOUL, Friday, Aug. 27 (AP)—The U.S. 5th Air Force, scourge of Communist air power in the Korean air war, soon will pull its crack jet fighter units out of forward bases in South Korea where they are regarded as "sitting ducks" for the truce-fattened Red MIG air force in North Korea.

"Where we are now," a high Air Force source explained, "Communist planes crossing the 38th Parallel could burn our fighters on the ground."

Headquarters of the 5th will be moved to Nagoya, Japan. The announcement today said only that the fighter units, including the deadly Sabrejets, would be redeployed elsewhere in the Far East.

The source said all "alert" units —the jet fighters at forward bases —will be moved out of Korea within the next few months. The units will be designated later.

The move will take 100,000 men out of Korea, experts said.

The Air Force decision was part of fast-moving Far East command action to give American military might the mobility to hit back at aggression anywhere in the Far East.

Guatemalan Junta OKs Armour As Envoy

GUATEMALA, Aug. 26 (AP)—The government junta announced today its agreement to the appointment of Norman Armour as ambassador from the United States.

Armour, a veteran career diplomat, has been ambassador to Spain, Chile, Argentina and Venezuela.

The junta authorized Foreign Minister Carlos Salazar to negotiate an agreement with the United States for technical assistance under the Point Four program.

Quadruple Amputee, Girl Reconcile

Clarence (Red) Mosley, who lost both hands and both feet in the Korean War, is shown yesterday at Paterson, N .J., with his fiancee, Ruth Shaw, whom he plans to marry Sept. 25. Ruth's mother, Mrs. John Shaw, said yesterday morning the wedding was off because the couple had a spat. But Mosley denied any rift. "Everything is going to be all right now," he told reporters. Lid Apparently On All American Talk About EDC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The State Department parried all questions about the European Defense Community today, thereby hoisting a signal that apparently the lid is on all American talk about EDC until the issue is finally decided by the French Parliament.

French Premier Mendes-France sent the question of ratifying EDC to the French National Assembly this week without support of his government. By washing his hands of it, Mendes-France left EDC on its own in debate beginning Saturday.

This refusal by the Premier to stake his government's life on the outcome of the ratification vote—defeat would mean he would have to resign if he endorsed it—came after he failed to win agreement on his proposed changes from the five other EDC countries.

Dulles Gave Tipoff

The United States and Britain, although not members, have pledged to take some action to restore West Germany's sovereignty and rearm Germans for Western defense if EDC fails. Under EDC, West Germans would be rearmed in an international army including also troops of France, Belgium, Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy.

Secretary of State Dulles gave a tipoff last Tuesday that U. S. officials would soft pedal any EDC comment until after the French Parliament acts. He refused to discuss alternatives at his news conference, saying he still held hope if not expectations that France would go along.

Suydam Declines Comment

State Department press officer Henry Suydam was asked at his news conference today for comment on reports that the foreign ministers of Britain, the United States and the six EDC nations would meet at Paris early in September.

Purpose of this eight-power conference, according to the reports, would be to chart West Germany's future in the event EDC fails, The U. S. high commissioner's office in Germany has denied any plans for such a meeting, as have British and French spokesmen.

"I am unable to comment on any phase of EDC," Suydam told inquiring reporters.

Safe Holding $200,000 In Cash, Bonds Stolen

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—A small safe holding nearly a quarter of a million dollars in cash and securities was stolen from the Riverdale home of Mr. and Mrs Hans Lichtenstern today, police reported.

Lichtenstern, a vice president of Associated Metals and Minerals, Inc., of Manhattan, was reported staying at the Tarleton Club in Pike, N.H., with his wife. Police said he was expected home Friday.

The theft was reported by a maid, Mrs. Helma Helmchen. She told police she found burglars had broken into the house while she was out on a two-hour errand.

Maryland Kids May Go On Totin' Their Sidearms

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Charles Mathias, an assistant attorney general of Maryland, rated today among such "good guys" as Hopalong Cassidy and The Lone Ranger.

He ruled that the little podners of Maryland may go on totin' their sidearms.

Until Mathias rode to the rescue with his trusty law book, those Congressmen in Washington had cowboys and gals on the spot. They had passed a law making it illegal to ship fireworks into a state such as Maryland which outlaws them.

Does that mean cap pistols? Nervously asked store owners.

Alleged Thrill Killers Facing Electric Chair

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Four teen-agers were indicted on first degree murder charges today—just nine days after their chance arrest as alleged thrill killers.

The indictments automatically cast the shadow of the electric chair over the Brooklyn quartet. The death sentence is mandatory upon conviction of first degree murder.

Their age is no bar to their execution, if convicted. Boys as young as 17 have gone to the chair in New York. However, commutation of a death sentence is more likely for a boy.

Two of the boys indicted today are 17 — Jerome Lieberman and Melvin Mittman. A third, Jack Koslow, is 18, and the fourth, Robert Trachtenberg, is only 15.

They are accused of a senseless weeks-long orgy of beating and torture in Brooklyn parks, during which two men were slain. The only motive the state has suggested is the thrill they derived from their savageness. All came from decent homes and none had a past criminal record, although at least one was a problem child.

Deserter's Claim Of German-NATO 'Deals' Is Denied

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (AP)—West Germany's latest defector to the East, plugging hard for the Soviet propaganda campaign against Western unity, charged today NATO and Bonn officials have agreed secretly to quadruple German contributions to the proposed unified European army.

The charge — promptly denied by Allied and German authorities —was made by Karl Schmidt-Wittmack, 40, former trusted member of the West German Parliament's European Defense Community and All-German Defense Committees, at a news conference in the Soviet sector. He spoke in the East Berlin press headquarters once used by Joseph Goebbels' Nazi ministry for propaganda.

In Line With Red Drive

His appearance was in line with the current Communist drive aimed generally at disrupting the unified army plan and specifically at preventing French ratification of the EDC treaty.

Schmidt-Wittmack, former Hamburg deputy chairman of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democratic party, crossed into East Berlin with his family just a week ago.

He charged that NATO's commander in chief, U.S. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, and two German generals acting for Adenauer, had agreed secretly in June and July at Bad Godesberg, near Bonn, to build a 24-division German army with another 24 divisions in reserve. This would be four times the size of the 12-division force, previously announced as West Germany's contribution to the proposed EDC.

Says New Wehrmacht Planned

Schmidt-Wittmack told newsmen Gruenther and Gen. Adolf Heusinger and Gen. Ludwig Cruewell of the West German Defense Commission had agreed on a 500,000-man revived Wehrmacht, supplied with American armaments and backed by 30 U.S. atomic cannon with shells each as deadly as the bomb that smashed Hiroshima. He said this force—consisting of 400,000 in the army, 80,000 in the air force and 20,000 in the navy—would be activated Nov. 1.

Battle To Keep Sweetheart Won By Quadruple Amputee

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 26 (AP)—Clarence (Red) Mosley, 23, who lost both hands and both feet fighting for his country in Korea, won a new battle today—to keep his pretty sweetheart.

Even as 170 relatives and friends were getting invitations to the wedding of the ex-Air Force hero and Ruth Shaw Sept. 25, Mosley's prospective mother-in-law announced this morning:

"The wedding has been called off by mutual agreement."

Not so, responded the shocked Mosley.

"I don't care what her mother says, I'll straighten it out," he told newsmen. "We had a little fight last night, but that doesn't mean the wedding is off."

He was right.

For hours he tried to reach his 22-year-old fiancee unsuccessfully. Finally, he was able to see her, smoothed things over and said:

"Everything's going to be all right now."

Ruth and her mother, Mrs. John Shaw, smilingly agreed.

Nobody would go into detail about what caused the quarrel. Earlier Mrs. Shaw had called newspapers to say "This is the end" — that Ruth positively would not give in to Mosley in a dispute they'd had.

Red and Ruth met at a party eight months ago — about a year after he left a hospital.

One of the Korean War's five quadruple amputees, he lost his limbs because of frostbite. He had lain in the snow for four days after leaping from a burning B26 over Korea in December 1952. Finally, two South Koreans rescued him from enemy territory.

Peiping Claims 10 Nationalist Soldiers Slain

Landing On Quemoy, Just Off Mainland, Called Successful

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 27 (AP)—About 40 Chinese Communist soldiers made a hit-and-run raid on the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy, just off the Red mainland, Monday night, Peiping radio said today.

TOKYO, Friday, Aug. 27 (AP)—Peiping radio today claimed "People's liberation forces" successfully landed on the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy, just a few miles off the Red Chinese mainland, on the night of Aug. 23.

The radio indicated there had been fighting in the city of Kuningtou, on the northwest tip of Quemoy.

The Chinese language broadcast, heard here by Radio Press, did not reveal the size of the Communist landing force. It said 10 Nationalist soldiers were killed and one captured, indicating the assault force was comparatively small.

No Nationalist Confirmation

There was no immediate confirmation from Nationalist sources at Taipeh.

The action, if actually carried out by the Reds, would mark the first teeth the Communists have put into their oft-repeated threats to "liberate" Formosa and destroy the government of President Chiang Kai-shek.

Even if the action were successful, it would leave the Chinese Reds far from their goal. Formosa is 100 miles across the Formosa Strait from the mainland.

The U.S. 7th Fleet is in the area, and President Eisenhower has said any Red invasion of Formosa would have to ride over it. Chiang Kai-shek has about 600,000 troops on his island fortress.

Quemoy 5 Miles From Amoy

Quemoy is about five miles from the former South China treaty port of Amoy. Amoy has one of the first Chinese ports opened to trade with the British and Dutch and once had a large foreign community.

Quemoy itself is one of many hundreds of small islands just off the China mainland held by Chiang Kai-shek's forces. Small garrisons hold most of the islands, retained by the Nationalists when the Reds drove them off the mainland in 1948.

Missing Bomber Wreckage Found In California

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Mather Air Force Base Public Information Office said tonight a B25 plane missing with eight aboard has been sighted about five miles southeast of Monticello.

The air base said an ambulance was en route to the scene from Travis Air Force Base but it was not know if there were any survivors.

Monticello is in eastern Napa County about 90 miles west of here.

The Mather PIO said paramedics had jumped into the crash area and had verified the wreckage as the twin engine bomber that vanished about midnight. It was last heard from 70 miles south of here and was reported flying north.

Then it disappeared without a trace. At the last reported altitude, the medium bomber would have hit the Sierra foothills if it veered to the east, and the Coast Range to the west.

Funeral Services Arranged For Jet Ace

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Aug. 26 (AP)—The body of jet ace Joseph McConnell Jr. will be sent tomorrow to George Air Force Base, not far from the McConnell home in Apple Valley.

Capt. McConnell, who knocked down 16 MIGs in Korea to become the nation's leading jet ace, was killed yesterday in the crash of an F86H Sabrejet on a routine test flight. He was 32.

A Catholic chaplain, Capt. William McTeat, will conduct funeral services in the George AFB chapel at 10 a.m. Saturday. The body will be placed in a vault in nearby Victorville, the Air Force said, until a cemetery is completed at Apple Valley.

Nehru Declares Codestruction Is Alternative To Coexistence

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 26 (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru told Parliament today codestruction is the only alternative to coexistence with Communist countries. A pro-Western leader of India's untouchables charged him with hostility to the United States, while Red deputies complained Nehru did not do enough to fight "Anglo-American imperialism."

"Whether one likes the present state of affairs in the world or not, one has in fact to choose between a policy likely to lead to war in the biggest scale and acceptance of the general approach meant by the word coexistence," Nehru declared.

Nehru defined coexistence as nations existing where they are and not interfering with each other. He said India and Red China were bound to come together either in a friendly or unfriendly way—and he wants it to be friendly. Columbia-educated B. R. Ambedkar, a prominent spokesman of 60 million Indians below the Hindu caste system, countered that Nehru shows repugnance at anything suggested by the United States.

Ambedkar, law minister until he broke with Nehru to lead an Untouchables' party in the 1951 elections, said Nehru had accepted the Communist coexistence idea without much thought.

Long one of India's few outright pro - American voices, Ambedkar lost out in the elections but later entered the upper chamber. His party, the Scheduled Castes Federation, won only a handful of Parliament seats.

They were among 25 stricken including two crew members. All left the hospital today.

Authorities were still trying to pin down the cause of their illness. Preliminary diagnosis indicated food poisoning.

Seamstress Jailed Again For Having Too Many Mates

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26 (AP)—A 25-year-old French Quarter seamstress, jailed twice for having too many husbands, was arrested again today when her husband complained she spent his money on a wedding gown to marry another man.

Police identified the woman as comely Mrs. Betty Jean Batton Daure Davidson Telle and said she is now married to three men.

Police records revealed that she was convicted of bigamy in 1948 and sentenced to three years. She was paroled one year later.

She was convicted of bigamy again in 1952 and sentenced to one year, but was paroled after about six months.

Man To Stick By Wife Who Threw Infant Into Lake

BRAINERD, Minn., Aug. 26 (AP)—"I'm going to stick by her no matter what happens," a bewildered young father said today after his wife admitted throwing their six-weeks-old daughter into a lake where the family had gone for picnics.

Mrs. Archie Sanders, 27, who told authorities late Wednesday "a bad man" had taken little Janet Ruth, admitted early today she waded into Pelican Lake near her home and threw the baby "as far as I could." The body was found soon after the mother's confession.

Mrs. Sanders, a Sunday School worker, was under doctor's care for shock at a hospital here today and could not be questioned further. No charges have been filed.

Sanders, 28, a carpenter, wiped tears from his eyes as he returned to his small rural home around noon. He was greeted at the gate by tail-wagging "Penny," the Sanders' mongrel pup.

As he stood at the side of the baby's empty crib and took a fuzzy brown teddy bear from the shelf, Sanders said:

"She has always been such a good mother and wife. She was so kind to the youngsters she didn't even want to spank them. She always had the house spic and span when I came home at night.

"She just couldn't have been in her right mind when she did that to the baby."

French Are Resigned To Few POW's Return

HANOI, Indochina, Aug. 26 (AP)—The French appear resigned to getting back fewer than a third of the 28,000 French Union war prisoners they estimate the Communist-led Vietminh are holding. The official deadline for exchanging POWs in North Viet Nam passed today and the French had received only 3,000.

A French source associated with the exchange said earlier this week the Vietminh had told French officials they would release about 6,000 North Africans and foreign legionnaires and 2,000 Vietnamese.

The French say they have released just short of 20,000 Vietminh prisoners. Earlier unofficial estimates said they had held about 20,000 captives in the north.

Issuance Of $2 Stamps Halted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The post office is discontinuing issuance of $2 stamps because practically no one buys them.

Postmaster General Summerfield said today no more will be distributed to post offices when the present supply is exhausted.

The $2 stamp, printed in green and black with former President Harding's picture on it, was first issued in 1938.

Woman Wins Battle For New Contempt Trial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jane Keeney, convicted of contempt of Congress last year for not answering a question before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee, won a new trial today.

The U.S. Court of Appeals reversed the case on the ground that U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff erred in letting the jury hear evidence allegedly linking the defendant to a "nefarious" Communist movement.

Mrs. Keeney, a New Yorker, had been asked by the Senate Inquiry group whether anyone in the State Department had aided her in obtaining employment with the United Nations.

She did not answer, claiming U.N. regulations forbade her to testify on that point. She was prosecuted on the ground that she had "refused" to answer the question.

The three appellate judges, John Danaher, Henry W. Edgerton and E. Barrett Prettyman, held varying views on whether her failure to answer was legally a refusal.

But they agreed unanimously that the trial court had erred in allowing the jurors to hear certain testimony. This testimony had been presented in an effort to show the pertinence of the subcommittee's questions about her U. N. employment.

Judge Danaher said that from the very outset of the trial the jury heard Mrs. Keeney "linked to a nefarious worldwide Communist movement, with her associates numbered among those performing acts of espionage and sabotage even as they purloined secrets of the United States government in favor of the Russian government."

All three judges, in ordering a new trial, directed that evidence of the pertinency of questions asked by the Senate group be taken in the absence of the jury.

World Church Council Wavers At Crossroads

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 26 (AP)—The World Council of Churches today wavered at a major turning point—whether it can speak unitedly on the central goals of Christianity concerning this world and the next.

The prospects appeared uncertain, following a day of disagreement. Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, the council's American secretary, said it was possible the Assembly may merely approve a statement of differences regarding Christian hope, rather than any joint over-all declaration on the subject.

But leaders of the various strands of the faiths went into new conferences today to try to draft a message that would ring true for all — about Christ's purposes now and for his Kingdom to come.

The heart of the matter seemed to revolve around how much emphasis should be placed on the hope for Christ's Second Coming, or on the hope for success in working toward Christ's Kingdom in the present earthly realm.

To strike a balance between these objectives that would meet the approval of the varying views of the representatives from 161 denominations in 48 countries was the stumbling block.

It touched off lengthy wrangling in two sessions yesterday, which ended with no decision as to whether the Assembly would commend a full report on the subject to the churches, or simply forward it to them without approval or disapproval.

The report itself, dealing with The Assembly's main theme, "Christ—the hope of the world," was drawn up during two years of discussions among leading theologians and scholars of the Council's various denominations.

It expresses both Christian confidence in working toward justice on this earth, and the "ultimate hope" that the final goal will be realized in the flowering of Christ's Kingdom.

When Christ first came to the world, the report holds, he planted his Kingdom among men, and "as we walk by the Spirit," Christians take part in the processes leading toward his final victory.

But the church, the report says, "must look not only to the course of earthly history itself, but beyond it" to the time when Christ brings in "a new heaven and a new earth."

But there were complaints both that the report failed to stress adequately the reliance on the Second Coming, and also that it did not sufficiently register the responsibility of man now in battling for Christ's ideals.

Hooded Man Testifies Reds Raped Daughter 27 Times

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26 (AP)—A man wearing a black hood testified in his native tongue today that nine years ago in Hungary, Russian soldiers raped his young daughter 27 times.

He was identified only as "Mr. Z," now a resident of Cleveland. Because he has relatives still behind the Iron Curtain, he was permitted to wear the black cloth mask, which covered his head.

"Mr. Z" said he was torutured and left for dead in a Budapest street, later making his escape from Hungary.

Speaking through an interpreter, his voice faltered when he spoke of his daughter:

"As a result of this experience my daughter became so mentally disturbed that she committed suicide by taking poison."

He was a witness before the House subcommittee on Communist aggression, which opened a two-day hearing here today.

In response to questions, "Mr. Z" also declared he saw three Protestant clergymen given horrible beatings for consoling other prisoners in a concentration camp; that another of his daughters was taken from a convent, disrobed in public by Russian soldiers, and then disappeared.

A Unitarian minister now living in Lancaster, Mass., Alexander St. Ivanyi, once head of that church in Hungary, testified "there is no religious freedom in Hungary today.

"We have learned from refugees arriving from Hungary, and other channels, that Roman Catholic monasteries have been abolished; hundreds of priests, ministers and rabbis are in prison; no church is allowed to publish anything without the permission of the minister of religion."

He declared that "there is a new and determined effort to worship secretly in Hungary. It is called underground Christianity."

19 Taken Ill On Plane Leave Alaska Hospital

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 26 (AP)—Nineteen Filipino and Japanese exchange students, taken ill on a flight from the Orient, were discharged from an Anchorage hospital and flew to Seattle on another plane today.

They were among 25 stricken including two crew members. All left the hospital today.

Authorities were still trying to pin down the cause of their illness. Preliminary diagnosis indicated food poisoning.

Seamstress Jailed Again For Having Too Many Mates

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26 (AP)—A 25-year-old French Quarter seamstress, jailed twice for having too many husbands, was arrested again today when her husband complained she spent his money on a wedding gown to marry another man.

Police identified the woman as comely Mrs. Betty Jean Batton Daure Davidson Telle and said she is now married to three men.

Police records revealed that she was convicted of bigamy in 1948 and sentenced to three years. She was paroled one year later.

She was convicted of bigamy again in 1952 and sentenced to one year, but was paroled after about six months.

Man To Stick By Wife Who Threw Infant Into Lake

BRAINERD, Minn., Aug. 26 (AP)—"I'm going to stick by her no matter what happens," a bewildered young father said today after his wife admitted throwing their six-weeks-old daughter into a lake where the family had gone for picnics.

Mrs. Archie Sanders, 27, who told authorities late Wednesday "a bad man" had taken little Janet Ruth, admitted early today she waded into Pelican Lake near her home and threw the baby "as far as I could." The body was found soon after the mother's confession.

Mrs. Sanders, a Sunday School worker, was under doctor's care for shock at a hospital here today and could not be questioned further. No charges have been filed.

Sanders, 28, a carpenter, wiped tears from his eyes as he returned to his small rural home around noon. He was greeted at the gate by tail-wagging "Penny," the Sanders' mongrel pup.

As he stood at the side of the baby's empty crib and took a fuzzy brown teddy bear from the shelf, Sanders said:

"She has always been such a good mother and wife. She was so kind to the youngsters she didn't even want to spank them. She always had the house spic and span when I came home at night.

"She just couldn't have been in her right mind when she did that to the baby."

French Are Resigned To Few POW's Return

HANOI, Indochina, Aug. 26 (AP)—The French appear resigned to getting back fewer than a third of the 28,000 French Union war prisoners they estimate the Communist-led Vietminh are holding. The official deadline for exchanging POWs in North Viet Nam passed today and the French had received only 3,000.

A French source associated with the exchange said earlier this week the Vietminh had told French officials they would release about 6,000 North Africans and foreign legionnaires and 2,000 Vietnamese.

The French say they have released just short of 20,000 Vietminh prisoners. Earlier unofficial estimates said they had held about 20,000 captives in the north.

Issuance Of $2 Stamps Halted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—The post office is discontinuing issuance of $2 stamps because practically no one buys them.

Postmaster General Summerfield said today no more will be distributed to post offices when the present supply is exhausted.

The $2 stamp, printed in green and black with former President Harding's picture on it, was first issued in 1938.

Woman Wins Battle For New Contempt Trial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jane Keeney, convicted of contempt of Congress last year for not answering a question before a Senate Internal Security subcommittee, won a new trial today.

The U.S. Court of Appeals reversed the case on the ground that U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff erred in letting the jury hear evidence allegedly linking the defendant to a "nefarious" Communist movement.

Mrs. Keeney, a New Yorker, had been asked by the Senate Inquiry group whether anyone in the State Department had aided her in obtaining employment with the United Nations.

She did not answer, claiming U.N. regulations forbade her to testify on that point. She was prosecuted on the ground that she had "refused" to answer the question.

The three appellate judges, John Danaher, Henry W. Edgerton and E. Barrett Prettyman, held varying views on whether her failure to answer was legally a refusal.

But they agreed unanimously that the trial court had erred in allowing the jurors to hear certain testimony. This testimony had been presented in an effort to show the pertinence of the subcommittee's questions about her U. N. employment.

Judge Danaher said that from the very outset of the trial the jury heard Mrs. Keeney "linked to a nefarious worldwide Communist movement, with her associates numbered among those performing acts of espionage and sabotage even as they purloined secrets of the United States government in favor of the Russian government."

All three judges, in ordering a new trial, directed that evidence of the pertinency of questions asked by the Senate group be taken in the absence of the jury.

World Church Council Wavers At Crossroads

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 26 (AP)—The World Council of Churches today wavered at a major turning point—whether it can speak unitedly on the central goals of Christianity concerning this world and the next.

The prospects appeared uncertain, following a day of disagreement. Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, the council's American secretary, said it was possible the Assembly may merely approve a statement of differences regarding Christian hope, rather than any joint over-all declaration on the subject.

But leaders of the various strands of the faiths went into new conferences today to try to draft a message that would ring true for all — about Christ's purposes now and for his Kingdom to come.

The heart of the matter seemed to revolve around how much emphasis should be placed on the hope for Christ's Second Coming, or on the hope for success in working toward Christ's Kingdom in the present earthly realm.

To strike a balance between these objectives that would meet the approval of the varying views of the representatives from 161 denominations in 48 countries was the stumbling block.

It touched off lengthy wrangling in two sessions yesterday, which ended with no decision as to whether the Assembly would commend a full report on the subject to the churches, or simply forward it to them without approval or disapproval.

The report itself, dealing with The Assembly's main theme, "Christ—the hope of the world," was drawn up during two years of discussions among leading theologians and scholars of the Council's various denominations.

It expresses both Christian confidence in working toward justice on this earth, and the "ultimate hope" that the final goal will be realized in the flowering of Christ's Kingdom.

When Christ first came to the world, the report holds, he planted his Kingdom among men, and "as we walk by the Spirit," Christians take part in the processes leading toward his final victory.

But the church, the report says, "must look not only to the course of earthly history itself, but beyond it" to the time when Christ brings in "a new heaven and a new earth."

But there were complaints both that the report failed to stress adequately the reliance on the Second Coming, and also that it did not sufficiently register the responsibility of man now in battling for Christ's ideals.

Hooded Man Testifies Reds Raped Daughter 27 Times

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26 (AP)—A man wearing a black hood testified in his native tongue today that nine years ago in Hungary, Russian soldiers raped his young daughter 27 times.

He was identified only as "Mr. Z," now a resident of Cleveland. Because he has relatives still behind the Iron Curtain, he was permitted to wear the black cloth mask, which covered his head.

"Mr. Z" said he was torutured and left for dead in a Budapest street, later making his escape from Hungary.

Speaking through an interpreter, his voice faltered when he spoke of his daughter:

"As a result of this experience my daughter became so mentally disturbed that she committed suicide by taking poison."

He was a witness before the House subcommittee on Communist aggression, which opened a two-day hearing here today.

In response to questions, "Mr. Z" also declared he saw three Protestant clergymen given horrible beatings for consoling other prisoners in a concentration camp; that another of his daughters was taken from a convent, disrobed in public by Russian soldiers, and then disappeared.

A Unitarian minister now living in Lancaster, Mass., Alexander St. Ivanyi, once head of that church in Hungary, testified "there is no religious freedom in Hungary today.

"We have learned from refugees arriving from Hungary, and other channels, that Roman Catholic monasteries have been abolished; hundreds of priests, ministers and rabbis are in prison; no church is allowed to publish anything without the permission of the minister of religion."

He declared that "there is a new and determined effort to worship secretly in Hungary. It is called underground Christianity."

Fairchild And Dutch Firm To Produce New Airliner

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—An American aircraft company and a Dutch firm announced plans today to produce together a twin engine plane to replace the DC3—the old two-engine work horse of the airlines.

Fairchild of Hagerstown, Md., and Fokker of the Netherlands also disclosed that earlier plans to use conventional piston engines in the plane have been discarded. They said the craft will be a turboprop—jet engines driving propellers.

Richard S. Boutelle, Fairchild president, said the new plane, the F27 Friendship, will be especially suitable for the short and medium haul business of local service airlines.

Boutelle said the recent purchase by Capital Airlines of the British Vickers turboprop Viscount, a larger airliner, paved the way for consideration of turboprop development.

The twin - engine Friendship, like the four-engine Viscount, will have British Rolls-Royce Dart engines. Negotiations are under way for production of the engines in the United States.

Boutelle said that under the renewed agreement with Fokker, Fairchild has the right to build and sell the F27 in the Western Hemisphere, except in Brazil where Fokker has a subsidiary company.

Boutelle said that after the airplane has been seen here, about next July, his company will start taking orders.

Deliveries are expected to start in 1956.

Fokker originally estimated the cost of the airplane at $394,800, including $64,400 for two engines and $14,000 for the propellers. However, cost increases and further developments have raised the estimated price to around $460,000, compared with $75,000 for the obsolete DC3.

James Ray, an aviation consultant who conducted a recent market survey for Fairchild, said at least five American local service airlines have sufficient capital to replace their present DC3 fleets with an airplane in the $400,000 class within six months. He declined to identify these prospective customers, however.

The standard seating arrangement of the F27 is for 28 passengers, but it can carry up to 36.

The manufacturers also plan a cargo carrying version, called the friendship, and a plush model for 10 or 12 passengers, for use as company executive aircraft.

The plane will have a 95-foot wing span, will be 73 feet long and 26½ feet high.

Two Marines Plead Innocent To Murder

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Two Marines pleaded innocent yesterday to charges they murdered Frank Bernard, brother-in-law of Eddie Joost, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Marines—Sgt. Bobby Lee Hitzfield, 24, Fort Worth, Tex., and Pvt. Henry Shirley Jr., 21, Salina, Kan.—were represented by the public defender's office.

Preliminary hearing was set for next Tuesday.

Army's Ordnance Research Office Seeks Possible Earth Satellites

DURHAM, N. C., Aug. 26 (AP) — The Army Office of Ordnance Research (OOR) at Duke University has confirmed it is sponsoring a search for possible earth satellites. But it reported none has been located.

OOR didn't deny a report in Aviation Week magazine that two previously unobserved satellites have been spotted and identified by Dr. Lincoln la Paz of the University of New Mexico as natural, not manmade, objects. But Col. Walker W. Holler, OOR commanding officer here, said he was sure the ordnance group would know about such bodies if they were observable.

Aviation Week said the reported satellites caused a Pentagon scare until they were identified as natural objects. The magazine said, "One satellite is orbiting at about 400 miles out, while the other track is 600 miles from the earth." The article added that the "Pentagon thought momentarily the Russians had beaten the United States to space operations."

The ordnance office here said that Dr. La Paz "has no connection with any project of the Office of Ordnance Research."

But it noted:

"The Office of Ordnance Research, among its basic research projects, has one project at White Sands Proving Ground with which Dr. Clyde W. Tombaugh, discoverer of the planet Pluto, is connected. Part of his activity is in the satellite field."

OOR continued: "As to the success of current efforts to locate an earth satellite of the type described we are not aware of all the work that may be going on outside of ordnance auspices. The ordnance-sponsored work has not as yet located any earth satellites. Release of details of possible future discoveries would necessarily be governed by considerations of military security."

Rail Unions Seek Benefits Under New Pact Provisions

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Five unions, whose nearly 400,000 members operate the nation's railroad trains, are seeking benefits under new contract provisions.

The unions, representing engineers, conductors, trainmen, firemen and enginemen and switchmen, received a five cent hourly wage boost earlier this year.

In drafting new bargaining plans yesterday, the union's general chairmen from 175 railroads decided to seek more money indirectly through rules changes, rather than from a direct wage hike.

The Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, have served notice of their desire for collective bargaining on individual railroads.

Final negotiations, however, are expected to be handled by conference committees that represent the railroads collectively.

SMILES COME LATER—French prisoners of war, still grim-faced after their prison camp ordeals, get their first look at Hanoi, Indochina, after release by their Vietminh captors at Viet Tri. The group arrived in the Viet Nam capital after a four-hour boat trip down the Red River from Viet Tri.

Woman Is Freed After She Risks Life In Gamble

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — A poised 25-year-old woman walked down the steps of the Queens County Courthouse yesterday, free for the first time in nearly nine years.

She had won a gamble that could have cost her her life in the electric chair.

For this was Helena Theresa Nienstedt, who as a 16-year-old bobby soxer was adjudged hopelessly insane for the ax-murder of an elderly Queens tailor who had tried to hold her hand.

"It feels just wonderful to be walking down the street again and to be breathing fresh air," she said.

She smiled and talked freely to reporters after Judge Peter T. Farrell released her in her own custody and postponed sentencing until next Feb. 18.

"In the interim we will see how you behave," the judge said.

Miss Nienstedt had fought to be released as cured from Matteawan State Hospital for the criminal insane, so that she could face the charge against her in court.

She was released in June and was allowed to plead guilty to second degree manslaughter in the slaying of John Wagner, 71, in 1945. She hoped to gain her freedom.

She had it yesterday when she virtually was placed on probation.

Her attorney, James D. C. Murray, told the court on her release from Matteawan that "She never had a helping hand in the past, but if your honor can see his way clear to giving her a suspended sentence and putting her on probation, there are those who will extend a helping hand."

China Deluge Called Heaviest In 100 Years

TOKYO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Red China's weather expert described his country's devastating deluge as "the heaviest rainfall in 100 years in the Yangtze and Huai River basins," Peiping radio reported today.

The radio quoted Tu Chang-Wang, director of the Central Bureau of Meteorology, as offering this bit of consolation to his countrymen: The rest of the world has also been drenched by the heaviest rainfall in many years.

The Yangtze, China's largest river system, along which teeming millions live, rose to an all-time high of 97.51 feet Aug. 18. The previous recorded high was 92.50 in 1951.

Peiping radio said the Yangtze water level had dropped to 97.11 feet at noon yesterday and indicated the worst was over.

Rail Unions Seek Benefits Under New Pact Provisions

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Five unions, whose nearly 400,000 members operate the nation's railroad trains, are seeking benefits under new contract provisions.

The unions, representing engineers, conductors, trainmen, firemen and enginemen and switchmen, received a five cent hourly wage boost earlier this year.

In drafting new bargaining plans yesterday, the union's general chairmen from 175 railroads decided to seek more money indirectly through rules changes, rather than from a direct wage hike.

The Order of Railway Conductors, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, have served notice of their desire for collective bargaining on individual railroads.

Final negotiations, however, are expected to be handled by conference committees that represent the railroads collectively.

SMILES COME LATER—French prisoners of war, still grim-faced after their prison camp ordeals, get their first look at Hanoi, Indochina, after release by their Vietminh captors at Viet Tri. The group arrived in the Viet Nam capital after a four-hour boat trip down the Red River from Viet Tri.

Woman Is Freed After She Risks Life In Gamble

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — A poised 25-year-old woman walked down the steps of the Queens County Courthouse yesterday, free for the first time in nearly nine years.

She had won a gamble that could have cost her her life in the electric chair.

For this was Helena Theresa Nienstedt, who as a 16-year-old bobby soxer was adjudged hopelessly insane for the ax-murder of an elderly Queens tailor who had tried to hold her hand.

"It feels just wonderful to be walking down the street again and to be breathing fresh air," she said.

She smiled and talked freely to reporters after Judge Peter T. Farrell released her in her own custody and postponed sentencing until next Feb. 18.

"In the interim we will see how you behave," the judge said.

Miss Nienstedt had fought to be released as cured from Matteawan State Hospital for the criminal insane, so that she could face the charge against her in court.

She was released in June and was allowed to plead guilty to second degree manslaughter in the slaying of John Wagner, 71, in 1945. She hoped to gain her freedom.

She had it yesterday when she virtually was placed on probation.

Young Driver Killed

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 26 (AP)—Grover C. Loy, a 22-year-old driver, was killed yesterday on U. S. 11 in Berkeley County, State Police headquarters reported today.

Loy's death was the 32nd on West Virginia highways in August and the 213th for the year.

Her attorney, James D. C. Murray, told the court on her release from Matteawan that "She never had a helping hand in the past, but if your honor can see his way clear to giving her a suspended sentence and putting her on probation, there are those who will extend a helping hand."

China Deluge Called Heaviest In 100 Years

TOKYO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Red China's weather expert described his country's devastating deluge as "the heaviest rainfall in 100 years in the Yangtze and Huai River basins," Peiping radio reported today.

The radio quoted Tu Chang-Wang, director of the Central Bureau of Meteorology, as offering this bit of consolation to his countrymen: The rest of the world has also been drenched by the heaviest rainfall in many years.

The Yangtze, China's largest river system, along which teeming millions live, rose to an all-time high of 97.51 feet Aug. 18. The previous recorded high was 92.50 in 1951.

Peiping radio said the Yangtze water level had dropped to 97.11 feet at noon yesterday and indicated the worst was over.

Mexicans Try to Break Traffic Jams With Laws

One-way Cinco de Mayo where it costs you money if you run out of gas!

By EMIL ZUBRYN
Central Press Correspondent

MEXICO CITY—Rush hour traffic jams still are the major headache of this capital's Traffic bureau.

Rerouting of buses, elimination of street parking and other measures have only partially eased the bottlenecks that occur each day.

Now the Traffic bureau has come out with a new regulation: motorists will run afoul of the law if they run out of gas in the main downtown congested traffic area.

Stalled cars, it has been found, have created some jams of disastrous consequences in the business section in the past. Special Traffic bureau motorcycle squads have had to rush for gas to the nearest station to get a stalled car out of the way in the narrow streets.

Now, motorists are warned they had better check gas tanks, oil, tires, etc., before driving into the sector at the height of the rush hour, or else. Stiff fines are imposed on the motorist who runs out of gas now.

Traffic bureau heads also may prohibit the area to venerable mobile wrecks that have an exasperating habit of breaking down at crucial rush hour periods. And other "secret emergency measures" are being planned to assure a smoothly flowing, midtown traffic.

Age Should Dictate Amount Of Exercise, Doctor Says

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Doctors should advise their patients "to sprint up to 25 years, to trot from 25 to 40, to walk from 40 to 60—and after 60 they can dawdle at golf."

That's the advice of Dr. Joseph W. Still of George Washington University School of Medicine who says such a system of gradually slowed-down activity can do much to assure a long and pleasant life.

Dr. Still, a physiologist, said such advice to patients will help impress upon them the fact that there is a need for some activity in advancing years—but that it must be adjusted in proportion to the body's "gradual loss of reserves and resilience with age."

Addressing the fifth annual conference of the American Assn. of Rehabilitation Therapists, Dr. Still said it has been scientically proved that "inactivity and bed rest can be as stressing as, say, overexposure to heat or cold."

"In our advice to the aged," he said, "I believe we should generally emphasize activity, rather than rest. My observation is that older people tend to be too sedentary and I think this tendency must be combated."

But he also indicated that activity should not be overdone.

Dr. Samuel Sherman, of Montefiore Hospital, Pittsburgh, and a consultant to the Veterans Administration, said that at present there are between 12 million and 13 million persons in the United States 65 years or over—a number "equal to the present population of Canada."

And Clark Tibbits of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare said that this number will increase to nearly 21 million in the year 1975, due to an increasing population and to extension of life spans through medical advances.

Both these speakers, and others on the conference program, called for increased attention to the "problems of an aging population."

Patricia Tepper Selects Sept. 11 For Wedding Date

To Become Bride Of Sgt. R. P. Capaldi

Miss Patricia Anne Tepper, fiancee of Sgt. Robert P. Capaldi, has selected September 11 for the date of their marriage. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Tepper, LaVale. Her fiance is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Capaldi, Frederick Street.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 3 p. m., in First Presbyterian Church, with Rev. Maurice Robertson officiating.

A surprise kitchen shower and prenuptial party was given for Miss Tepper by her bridal attendants, earlier in the week. It was in the form of a cook-out in the garden at her home. For the outdoor setting, a green table cloth was used with garden flowers. The shower gifts were arranged in a wheel barrow.

The group went indoors for a dessert party, where a pale blue cloth covered the table and a tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom formed the centerpiece. Pastel satin ribbons were tied to the cake dish and extended to the place cards and a corsage of each guest. The attendants presented the bride with a wedding gift, from them.

Entertainment consisted of seeing colored slides of the Oberammergau passion play, sent by the prospective bridegroom. Sgt. Capaldi, who is making the Army his career, has been stationed with the 98th General Hospital in Neubrucke, Germany, and sailed yesterday for the states.

Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Moyer, who will be the bride's matron of honor; Miss Joan Bennett, Miss Mary Lou Twigg, Miss Vivian Bennett and Miss Marilyn Kreider, bridesmaids. Miss Leslie Millenson and Miss Alma Lauder were guests.

Patricia Tepper Selects Sept. 11 For Wedding Date

To Become Bride Of Sgt. R. P. Capaldi

Miss Patricia Anne Tepper, fiancee of Sgt. Robert P. Capaldi, has selected September 11 for the date of their marriage. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Tepper, LaVale. Her fiance is the son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Capaldi, Frederick Street.

The wedding ceremony will be solemnized at 3 p. m., in First Presbyterian Church, with Rev. Maurice Robertson officiating.

A surprise kitchen shower and prenuptial party was given for Miss Tepper by her bridal attendants, earlier in the week. It was in the form of a cook-out in the garden at her home. For the outdoor setting, a green table cloth was used with garden flowers. The shower gifts were arranged in a wheel barrow.

The group went indoors for a dessert party, where a pale blue cloth covered the table and a tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom formed the centerpiece. Pastel satin ribbons were tied to the cake dish and extended to the place cards and a corsage of each guest. The attendants presented the bride with a wedding gift, from them.

Entertainment consisted of seeing colored slides of the Oberammergau passion play, sent by the prospective bridegroom. Sgt. Capaldi, who is making the Army his career, has been stationed with the 98th General Hospital in Neubrucke, Germany, and sailed yesterday for the states.

Hostesses were Mrs. Richard Moyer, who will be the bride's matron of honor; Miss Joan Bennett, Miss Mary Lou Twigg, Miss Vivian Bennett and Miss Marilyn Kreider, bridesmaids. Miss Leslie Millenson and Miss Alma Lauder were guests.

Three Held In Plot Against Rubinstein

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Three men were seized today in an alleged $535,000 extortion plot against millionaire draft dodger, Serge Rubinstein.

One of the trio, Emanuel Lieberman, was arrested in Rubinstein's Fifth Avenue home by detectives from the district attorney's office. Two other men were seized on the street outside.

The Russian-born Rubinstein was convicted as a draft dodger in 1947 and served two years in prison.

Toastmasters In Washington For Convention

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — If Washington seems wordier than usual there's a reason. Between 1,500 and 2,000 after-dinner speakers are gathering for the 23rd annual convention of Toastmasters International.

It's startling to learn that every week in this nation, 50,000 after-dinner speakers make after-dinner speeches to each other.

But they do. And apparently they love it.

"Applications for new clubs are coming in at the rate of 2¼ clubs a day," said Wayland A. Dunham, editor of the club's publication, the Toastmaster.

It was around 30 years ago, Dunham said, that Ralph C. Smedley, a Santa Ana, Calif., YMCA secretary, became so distressed at the ineffectiveness of communication that he got some business and professional men together and started them talking.

Now 77 and still an enthusiastic after-dinner speaker, Smedley has seen the organization grow until it has a club in every state but one—taciturn Vermont remains unimpressed—and in foreign countries from Australia to Greenland.

Each of the 1,700 clubs is limited to 30 members, so everyone will have a chance to say his piece. Each speaker is assigned a critic, and there's even a critic who criticizes the critic.

Dunham believes this by-product of the club, learning to listen critically and analytically, is even more important than toastmastering.

Can you ever think of a time," he asked, "when we needed to analyze what we hear more than we do today?"

Dunham says any would - be speaker must learn two things: He must learn to overcome the blind fear that seizes almost everyone when he first faces an audience, and he must learn to think on his feet.

The worst case Dunham ever saw was a West coast insurance clerk.

"I heard his first attempt at a speech," Dunham said, "and I never was so sorry for a man in my whole life. First he turned red, then white, then a sickly, yellowish green. He opened his mouth, but he couldn't make a sound. Finally he slumped into his seat."

From this all-American bust, the clerk carried on until he finally won top honors in a speech contest. He now is a minor executive in his firm and can say, "This reminds me of a little story," at the drop of an introduction.

It was suggested that what Washington needs isn't a club to encourage speaking, but an organization to put a gag on some we already have.

Dunham said he didn't know about that, but it turned out he doesn't think much of political speaking, largely because, he says he can't shake his habit of analyzing everything he hears.

"Now I greatly admire Eisenhower," Dunham said, "and I like his east method of delivery. But a friend of mine and I listened to him the other night, and we punched his speech full of holes."

Would Eisenhower profit from Toastmasters, Inc.?

"I think," Dunham said, "that we would do him some good all right."

Northern U. S. Chilly As South Swelters

(By The Associated Press)

Two sharply contrasting air masses stretched across the nation Thursday, bringing chilly weather to the North and temperatures around the 100-degree mark in the South.

In between was a zone of shower and thunderstorm activity from southern New England southwestward through the Ohio Valley, then northward to the southern tip of Lake Michigan.

To the north, a mass of cool air from Canada held temperatures in the 60s and 70s during the afternoon.

It was humid, as well as hot in the Southern tier of states and through the Southwest. Tulsa, Okla., reported the early afternoon high of 101 degrees. The mercury reached 99 at Memphis.

An estimated 160 million tons of salt are added to the sea each year by rivers.

CLOQUET, Minn., Aug. 26 (AP) — When John L. Thornton, 25, was home on an Army furlough in 1952, he saw a picture of a very beautiful blind girl in the window of a photo studio here.

A card under the picture said the girl had won second place honors in a national beauty contest for sightless girls. Thornton forgot her Six months later he was blinded in action in Korea.

On Sept. 25, Thornton will marry Joyce Campbell, 21, the Cloquet blind girl.

The two have never seen each other, but met by chance in April of 1953.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

ALLENHURST, N. J. (INS)—La Petite Antics, I think the name was, have come and gone in this snug harbor on the Cadillac and canasta coast of Jersey. A form of order has been restored. Small children have gone back to the realism of sand and sea and rigidly enforced naps. Summer wistfully wanes. Some slightly older ones have decided maybe they won't be great stars after all, but who wants to be a great star? Others await only the amassment of years and the call from Hollywood or Broadway.

This was the annual show involving the moppets and the sub-teen agers of the place. Is there a place where it isn't being duplicated? Messrs. Rodgers and Hammerstein may conceivably have lavished more care on "South Pacific" than Mrs. Stafford squandered on LaPetite Antics, but only the desperate would risk a bet on that. If Theatre Guild rehearsal wages were paid, Allenhurst today would be a ghost town.

There were weeks of rehearsals, hours of singing and reciting the grand finale number, "When You're Young at Heart," full many a jarring pirouette and entre chat, and endless buck and wings that caused the elders of the household to wonder when the floor and porch — circa Diamond Jim Brady — would go.

Then the great day. The careful preparation of the stiff little dress with the garish tulip design sewn on front, and the trim little Dutch cap. And, by all means, the yellow nylon panties. "Yellow nylon panties," thundered father, emerging from the woodwork and looking very forbidding.

"All of my friends wear yellow panties," the little girl said with stout resolve. She struggled to make it, even more conclusive. "Everybody does," she added, not without a little heat.

The long day spent itself leisurely while the children of the village dozed and fretted, and the big ones — going on 12 and 13 — showed their utter lack of concern by breaking training and guzzling milkshakes. But at last the reluctant night closed in. Mayor Selby and the families edged in for places on the benches before the little stage, and the music hurled a thin but brave defi at the great basso of the Atlantic.

A queen was crowned. A queen named Priscilla Meehan, and though she is at the dear age between leased and permanent teeth, no queen ever smiled more radiantly nor took her honors more lightly as she kicked resolutely at her royal purple train, moved to her throne, jumped up on it backwards, and wiggled back contentedly to the back-rest.

At functions of this nature, the families often suffer a great deal more than the infantile thespians. But there was no need to worry. If the Washington Redskins football team could get as steamed up and ready to go as Mrs. Stafford had the small fry of this milestone in the American theater, George Marshall could stop firing coaches.

In our little girl's case, she and her partner, Nancy Kless, chosen to lead a dazzling bevy of starlets (or was it starlings?) on stage, apparently made use of starting blocks or jet propulsion. For as Mrs. Stafford musically chimed, "And our next number is . . ." out they charged from behind a cardboard dike, their Dutch caps a'flutter, their yellow panties hidden in yards of petticoats.

Strong adults prodded them back in the starting gates again, the pianist "vamped" until his knuckles bled, and out they came again. Every little girl was perfectly content that only she was in step. Veteran fight writers in the audience hid their eyes in horror as traffic signals jammed and they all raced and skipped their separate ways. There were grinding collisions, bone-breaking embraces on the turns and, in all, the most colorful chaos of the summer season.

But when the carnage ended, the families clapped vigorously. And soon at our side, bundled in a coat against the nip in the air, but not in the nip in father's hip pocket, was a breathless child.

"Were we good? Were we good?"

"Wonderful, sweetheart....wonderful."

Mushroom Growing Plant Swept By Fire

PROVIDENCE, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—A three-hour fire caused "at least $60,000 damage" to a mushroom growing plant and five firemen from companies in three states were overcome by smoke putting out the blaze yesterday.

The mushroom plant is 400 yards from a paper mill which burned recently at an estimated loss of $250,000.

Ancil King, who leased the mushroom plant from Robert Mackey, said there "is no logical explanation" for how the fire started.

Firemen from Elkton, seven miles south of Providence, Newark, Del., and Oxford, Pa., went to the fire. Those overcome by smoke were taken in ambulances to Union Memorial Hospital in Elkton. None of them was harmed seriously.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

ALLENHURST, N. J. (INS)—La Petite Antics, I think the name was, have come and gone in this snug harbor on the Cadillac and canasta coast of Jersey. A form of order has been restored. Small children have gone back to the realism of sand and sea and rigidly enforced naps. Summer wistfully wanes. Some slightly older ones have decided maybe they won't be great stars after all, but who wants to be a great star? Others await only the amassment of years and the call from Hollywood or Broadway.

This was the annual show involving the moppets and the sub-teen agers of the place. Is there a place where it isn't being duplicated? Messrs. Rodgers and Hammerstein may conceivably have lavished more care on "South Pacific" than Mrs. Stafford squandered on LaPetite Antics, but only the desperate would risk a bet on that. If Theatre Guild rehearsal wages were paid, Allenhurst today would be a ghost town.

There were weeks of rehearsals, hours of singing and reciting the grand finale number, "When You're Young at Heart," full many a jarring pirouette and entre chat, and endless buck and wings that caused the elders of the household to wonder when the floor and porch — circa Diamond Jim Brady — would go.

Then the great day. The careful preparation of the stiff little dress with the garish tulip design sewn on front, and the trim little Dutch cap. And, by all means, the yellow nylon panties. "Yellow nylon panties," thundered father, emerging from the woodwork and looking very forbidding.

"All of my friends wear yellow panties," the little girl said with stout resolve. She struggled to make it, even more conclusive. "Everybody does," she added, not without a little heat.

The long day spent itself leisurely while the children of the village dozed and fretted, and the big ones — going on 12 and 13 — showed their utter lack of concern by breaking training and guzzling milkshakes. But at last the reluctant night closed in. Mayor Selby and the families edged in for places on the benches before the little stage, and the music hurled a thin but brave defi at the great basso of the Atlantic.

A queen was crowned. A queen named Priscilla Meehan, and though she is at the dear age between leased and permanent teeth, no queen ever smiled more radiantly nor took her honors more lightly as she kicked resolutely at her royal purple train, moved to her throne, jumped up on it backwards, and wiggled back contentedly to the back-rest.

At functions of this nature, the families often suffer a great deal more than the infantile thespians. But there was no need to worry. If the Washington Redskins football team could get as steamed up and ready to go as Mrs. Stafford had the small fry of this milestone in the American theater, George Marshall could stop firing coaches.

In our little girl's case, she and her partner, Nancy Kless, chosen to lead a dazzling bevy of starlets (or was it starlings?) on stage, apparently made use of starting blocks or jet propulsion. For as Mrs. Stafford musically chimed, "And our next number is . . ." out they charged from behind a cardboard dike, their Dutch caps a'flutter, their yellow panties hidden in yards of petticoats.

Strong adults prodded them back in the starting gates again, the pianist "vamped" until his knuckles bled, and out they came again. Every little girl was perfectly content that only she was in step. Veteran fight writers in the audience hid their eyes in horror as traffic signals jammed and they all raced and skipped their separate ways. There were grinding collisions, bone-breaking embraces on the turns and, in all, the most colorful chaos of the summer season.

But when the carnage ended, the families clapped vigorously. And soon at our side, bundled in a coat against the nip in the air, but not in the nip in father's hip pocket, was a breathless child.

"Were we good? Were we good?"

"Wonderful, sweetheart....wonderful."

Mushroom Growing Plant Swept By Fire

PROVIDENCE, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—A three-hour fire caused "at least $60,000 damage" to a mushroom growing plant and five firemen from companies in three states were overcome by smoke putting out the blaze yesterday.

The mushroom plant is 400 yards from a paper mill which burned recently at an estimated loss of $250,000.

Ancil King, who leased the mushroom plant from Robert Mackey, said there "is no logical explanation" for how the fire started.

Firemen from Elkton, seven miles south of Providence, Newark, Del., and Oxford, Pa., went to the fire. Those overcome by smoke were taken in ambulances to Union Memorial Hospital in Elkton. None of them was harmed seriously.

Mahoney Fails To Drop Other Shoe, Concede Byrd's Victory

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Maryland Democrats listened all day today for George P. Mahoney to drop the other shoe.

He still did not concede the Democratic nomination for governor to Dr. H. C. Byrd, who bested him narrowly in the primary election almost nine weeks ago.

The possibility remained Mahoney might try still another court fight to upset the outcome. The day went by without his uttering a decision on it.

Party leaders went ahead meantime with plans to present the nomination formally to Byrd when the Democratic State Convention goes back into session here Monday morning.

There were rumblings of a movement to vote the nomination to Byrd regardless of what Mahoney does.

Byrd emerged from the primary with an 80-72 margin in county unit convention votes, which governs the nomination. He also had an edge of about 4,000 in the statewide popular vote.

Maryland's Court of Appeals dropped one shoe for Mahoney yesterday when it ruled against him on the seven county unit votes he had challenged in Talbot and Queen Annes counties.

This virtually snuffed out any chance Mahoney had of taking the nomination from Byrd.

The only possibility apparently left was another court test seeking to overturn the election results in Baltimore's 4th Legislative District.

Philip H. Dorsey Jr., who went down to defeat as candidate for the nomination for attorney general on the Mahoney ticket, had done the spadework for such a contest.

For more than a week he had examined voter authorization cards used in the 35th precinct of the 4th District on election day last June 26.

By going to court he had won the right to compare the signatures on these cards with names on the registration books.

Dorsey pointed out a big batch of what he considered to be discrepancies. At one time, he indicated he had found enough evidence of fraud to justify his filing a suit to seek invalidation of the results in the precinct.

Almost a week passed without his actually filing suit, however, and the feeling grew he was ready to abandon the idea.

Hyman A. Pressman, attorney for Mahoney, continued to insist Mahoney should join Dorsey in a court test on the chance it could gain both of them the nominations they sought.

Mahoney arranged to talk about it today with Dorsey, Pressman and Francis Burch, another of his attorneys. But no announcement was forthcoming on what he had decided.

The 35th precinct in the 4th District is the home grounds of Jack Pollack, controversial Baltimore political figure who backed Byrd.

The margin by which Byrd and his running mate for attorney general, State Sen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, carried the 4th District was rolled up mostly in the 35th precinct.

Dorsey had hopes of reversing the outcome in the whole 4th District by getting the vote in the one precinct invalidated.

The 4th District was the only one in the city to go for Byrd and Sybert and a shift of its seven unit votes could upset the outcome of both the primary races.

Order Of Phoenix Honors McKeldin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Gov. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland was awarded the Cross of the Grand Commander of the Royal Order of the Phoenix at the Green Embassy today.

The decoration, presented by Greek Ambassador Athanase G. Politis, was awarded for his interest in the welfare of Greek-Americans living in Maryland.

McKeldin, in receiving the award said:

"It is a great honor indeed to receive this high award from the king of a nation that has contributed so much throughout history to the culture of the world and its stability.

"In our own times, we have seen the brave people of Greece defy and successfully resist the cruel forces of tyranny which have succeeded in bringing so many other peoples under their oppressive dominion."

Ground Broken For New By-Pass

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Ground was broken today for a six-mile controlled access dual highway to by-pass the overloaded streets and highways in this area about 10 miles south of Baltimore.

At the junction of Ritchie Highway and U. S. 301, Glen Burnie is subject to weekend hordes of drivers passing between Baltimore and Annapolis, heading for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, resorts along the west shore of the Bay or points south.

Gov. McKeldin broke the ground for an underpass, one of seven bridges to separate the by-pass from the roads it intersects.

The governor actually pulled his ground-breaking stunt several hours before the formal afternoon ceremonies.

It developed at the last minute that he had a conflict in his schedule, requiring his presence both at the ceremonies and at an affair at the Greek embassy in Washington.

So he came to the bridge site this morning and went through the motions of digging the first dirt.

When the ceremonies were held later, Russell H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, read a brief speech McKeldin had written for the occasion.

Injuries Prove Fatal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Douglas Wrentz, 5, died today of injuries suffered Tuesday night when he was struck by a car in front of his home here.

WOULD LEAD PLANES AGAINST REDS—Al Mah, 33-year-old British Columbia pilot and veteran of World War II and Korean War, displays an original Flying Tiger identification flag as he discusses his plan at Montreal, Que., for recruiting flying volunteers to fight communism in the Far East. Mah says he has been flooded with calls from airmen eager to join his still non-existent air force, which he hopes to pattern along the lines of the Flying Tigers of China fame.

Housewife Says Policeman Shot Her While "Making Like Hopalong Cassidy"

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — A young Baltimore woman said today a gun-twirling cop "making like Hopalong Cassidy" accidentally shot her while demonstrating his skill for her and a girl friend.

The slight leg wounds 18-year-old Mrs. Nancy George received 10 days ago have been something of a source of confusion to high police officials.

Police Commissioner Beverly Ober said the shooting report has been on his desk since Aug. 18 but details were not clear.

Patrolman Samuel V. Angil said he was called into the house the afternoon of Aug. 16 on a complaint of "family" trouble."

He said the shooting occurred when one of the complainants asked a question about his service revolver and in unloading and demonstrating it, the gun was accidentally discharged.

Mrs. George denied today there was any "family trouble." She said officer Angil had just dropped in for an afternoon visit.

The young woman said she first met Angil when she lived in another neighborhood but didn't know how he got her present address.

Ober said today reports indicated Angil was in uniform, but not on duty at the time.

Mrs. George said the officer displayed his gun when her girl friend, who was also visiting her, asked a question about it.

When Angil spun the gun around his finger on the trigger guard as Western movie stars sometimes do, it went off wounding her slightly in both legs, she said.

She was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital, treated and discharged.

Ex-Hospital Employes Indicted For Theft

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Two former women employes at Provident Hospital were indicted by the grand jury today on charges of embezzling a total of nearly $7,000 while working in the cashier's office at the hospital.

Accused are Mildred Waters and Emogene Williams, both Negroes.

The Waters woman is charged with embezzlement of $4,186 and the Williams woman with embezzlement of $2,748. Both defendants are free on $5,000 bail.

The state contends cash collections were withheld from the hospital on some patient accounts.

Maryland Democratic Women Open Meeting

OCEAN CITY, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Democratic candidates and party leaders will start gathering here Friday to get set for some campaigning at a three-day meeting of Maryland's United Democratic Women's Clubs.

The first formal affair on the program is a luncheon Saturday noon, at which Democratic members of the Legislative Council will be special guests.

Nominees for state offices and in the seven congressional districts will be honored at a reception Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. E. Brooke Lee, wife of the long-time party leader from Montgomery County, is president of the organization.

Convention sessions will be at the Atlantic Hotel.

Execution Of Veteran Stayed; Will Appeal

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Execution of Eugene Elmer Bryant, 21 year-old Korean war veteran condemned to die the week of Sept. 5 for the killing of his 17-year-old girl friend, has been stayed while he appeals.

The stay was granted by Judge James Clark, Howard County Circuit judge, who sentenced Bryant on July 23.

"You promised to marry the girl," said the judge at the time. "When she told you that she was going to bear you a child and asked you to keep that promise, you got a gun and shot her down."

The girl was Joan Marie Ruzza who was shot to death April 8 in an alley four blocks away from her home in Capitol Heights in suburban Washington. She was shot five times.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Maryland Democrats listened all day today for George P. Mahoney to drop the other shoe.

He still did not concede the Democratic nomination for governor to Dr. H. C. Byrd, who bested him narrowly in the primary election almost nine weeks ago.

The possibility remained Mahoney might try still another court fight to upset the outcome. The day went by without his uttering a decision on it.

Party leaders went ahead meantime with plans to present the nomination formally to Byrd when the Democratic State Convention goes back into session here Monday morning.

There were rumblings of a movement to vote the nomination to Byrd regardless of what Mahoney does.

Byrd emerged from the primary with an 80-72 margin in county unit convention votes, which governs the nomination. He also had an edge of about 4,000 in the statewide popular vote.

Maryland's Court of Appeals dropped one shoe for Mahoney yesterday when it ruled against him on the seven county unit votes he had challenged in Talbot and Queen Annes counties.

This virtually snuffed out any chance Mahoney had of taking the nomination from Byrd.

The only possibility apparently left was another court test seeking to overturn the election results in Baltimore's 4th Legislative District.

Philip H. Dorsey Jr., who went down to defeat as candidate for the nomination for attorney general on the Mahoney ticket, had done the spadework for such a contest.

For more than a week he had examined voter authorization cards used in the 35th precinct of the 4th District on election day last June 28.

By going to court he had won the right to compare the signatures on these cards with names on the registration books.

Dorsey pointed out a big batch of what he considered to be discrepancies. At one time, he indicated he had found enough evidence of fraud to justify his filing a suit to seek invalidation of the results in the precinct.

Almost a week passed without his actually filing suit, however, and the feeling grew he was ready to abandon the idea.

Hyman A. Pressman, attorney for Mahoney, continued to insist Mahoney should join Dorsey in a court test on the chance it could gain both of them the nominations they sought.

Mahoney arranged to talk about it today with Dorsey, Pressman and Francis Burch, another of his attorneys. But no announcement was forthcoming on what he had decided.

The 35th precinct in the 4th District is the home grounds of Jack Pollack, controversial Baltimore political figure who backed Byrd.

The margin by which Byrd and his running mate for attorney general, State Sen. C. Ferdinand Sybert, carried the 4th District was rolled up mostly in the 35th precinct.

Dorsey had hopes of reversing the outcome in the whole 4th District by getting the vote in the one precinct invalidated.

The 4th District was the only one in the city to go for Byrd and Sybert and a shift of its seven unit votes could upset the outcome of both the primary races.

Order Of Phoenix Honors McKeldin

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Gov. Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland was awarded the Cross of the Grand Commander of the Royal Order of the Phoenix at the Green Embassy today.

The decoration, presented by Greek Ambassador Athanase G. Politis, was awarded for his interest in the welfare of Greek-Americans living in Maryland.

McKeldin, in receiving the award said:

"It is a great honor indeed to receive this high award from the king of a nation that has contributed so much throughout history to the culture of the world and its stability.

"In our own times, we have seen the brave people of Greece defy and successfully resist the cruel forces of tyranny which have succeeded in bringing so many other peoples under their oppressive dominion."

Ground Broken For New By-Pass

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Ground was broken today for a six-mile controlled access dual highway to by-pass the overloaded streets and highways in this area about 10 miles south of Baltimore.

At the junction of Ritchie Highway and U. S. 301, Glen Burnie is subject to weekend hordes of drivers passing between Baltimore and Annapolis, heading for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, resorts along the west shore of the Bay or points south.

Gov. McKeldin broke the ground for an underpass, one of seven bridges to separate the by-pass from the roads it intersects.

The governor actually pulled his ground-breaking stunt several hours before the formal afternoon ceremonies.

It developed at the last minute that he had a conflict in his schedule, requiring his presence both at the ceremonies and at an affair at the Greek embassy in Washington.

So he came to the bridge site this morning and went through the motions of digging the first dirt.

When the ceremonies were held later, Russell H. McCain, chairman of the State Roads Commission, read a brief speech McKeldin had written for the occasion.

Injuries Prove Fatal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Douglas Wrentz, 5, died today of injuries suffered Tuesday night when he was struck by a car in front of his home here.

WOULD LEAD PLANES AGAINST REDS—Al Mah, 33-year-old British Columbia pilot and veteran of World War II and Korean War, displays an original Flying Tiger identification flag as he discusses his plan at Montreal, Que., for recruiting flying volunteers to fight communism in the Far East. Mah says he has been flooded with calls from airmen eager to join his still non-existent air force, which he hopes to pattern along the lines of the Flying Tigers of China fame.

Housewife Says Policeman Shot Her While "Making Like Hopalong Cassidy"

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — A young Baltimore woman said today a gun-twirling cop "making like Hopalong Cassidy" accidentally shot her while demonstrating his skill for her and a girl friend.

The slight leg wounds 18-year-old Mrs. Nancy George received 10 days ago have been something of a source of confusion to high police officials.

Police Commissioner Beverly Ober said the shooting report has been on his desk since Aug. 18 but details were not clear.

Patrolman Samuel V. Angil said he was called into the house the afternoon of Aug. 16 on a complaint of "family trouble."

He said the shooting occurred when one of the complainants asked a question about his service revolver and in unloading and demonstrating it, the gun was accidentally discharged.

Mrs. George denied today there was any "family trouble." She said officer Angil had just dropped in for an afternoon visit.

The young woman said she first met Angil when she lived in another neighborhood but didn't know how he got her present address.

Ober said today reports indicated Angil was in uniform, but not on duty at the time.

Mrs. George said the officer displayed his gun when her girl friend, who was also visiting her, asked a question about it.

When Angil spun the gun around his finger on the trigger guard as Western movie stars sometimes do, it went off wounding her slightly in both legs, she said.

She was taken to Johns Hopkins Hospital, treated and discharged.

Ex-Hospital Employes Indicted For Theft

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Two former women employes at Provident Hospital were indicted by the grand jury today on charges of embezzling a total of nearly $7,000 while working in the cashier's office at the hospital.

Accused are Mildred Waters and Emogene Williams, both Negroes.

The Waters woman is charged with embezzlement of $4,186 and the Williams woman with embezzlement of $2,748. Both defendants are free on $5,000 bail.

The state contends cash collections were withheld from the hospital on some patient accounts.

Maryland Democratic Women Open Meeting

OCEAN CITY, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Democratic candidates and party leaders will start gathering here Friday to get set for some campaigning at a three-day meeting of Maryland's United Democratic Women's Clubs.

The first formal affair on the program is a luncheon Saturday noon, at which Democratic members of the Legislative Council will be special guests.

Nominees for state offices and in the seven congressional districts will be honored at a reception Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. E. Brooke Lee, wife of the long-time party leader from Montgomery County, is president of the organization.

Convention sessions will be at the Atlantic Hotel.

Execution Of Veteran Stayed; Will Appeal

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Execution of Eugene Elmer Bryant, 21 year-old Korean war veteran condemned to die the week of Sept. 5 for the killing of his 17-year-old girl friend, has been stayed while he appeals.

The stay was granted by Judge James Clark, Howard County Circuit judge, who sentenced Bryant on July 23.

"You promised to marry the girl," said the judge at the time. "When she told you that she was going to bear you a child and asked you to keep that promise, you got a gun and shot her down."

The girl was Joan Marie Ruzza who was shot to death April 8 in an alley four blocks away from her home in Capitol Heights in suburban Washington. She was shot five times.

Longer Waists, Flatter Busts Are Clearest Fashion Trends

By CARL HARTMAN

PARIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—Waists are going to be long and busts are going to be flat—well, flatter, anyway.

Those are the clearest trends in the welter of fashion and would-be fashion known as the Paris Fall Collections. Christian Dior wants things that way, and what he wants he seems well on his way to get, despite a strong minority opinion from Jacques Fath.

Skirts? They stay about where they are, 17 inches above the floor, give and take an inch or two here and there. All that puttering above the waist is enough to make any woman's wardrobe out of date if she takes it seriously. And since that's the major purpose of any new fashion line, mischief can be made with skirt lengths another year.

Colors? Somber in the daytime—dark brown, grey and black; brighter in the evening—red, all shades, some green and blue. The Jean Desses collection shows almost everything in red.

Materials? Fur is nice if you can afford it. The fashion houses show a lot of it, including an evening gown by Pierre Balmain almost entirely in Russian broadtail. One interesting and somewhat more practical novelty: a washable, quick-drying nylon velvet.

How about the early jazz age shapelessness people talk about? Quite a few numbers, especially at Dior's, come close to that cylinder look of the 1920s. But reports about abolishing the bosom seem to have been exaggerated—like the bosom itself in recent years. Even some of the most radical creations were obviously designed by people who knew that woman isn't shaped entirely like a beer-can.

But like it or not, nature didn't make most women on the model of Marilyn Monroe, and if they wear Dior-style gowns they'll have less pretending to do.

Brassiere manufacturers have expressed their indignation. On the other hand, some fashion experts predict lush markets for a mysterious undergarment which is to have virtually the same effect as a washboard tied around milady's middle.

Dior's publicity talks a great deal about an H-line. One of his numbers he calls simply H—a simple, two-piece affair in black wool. The jacket, mid-thigh length, is cut straight with two rows of big black buttons to emphasize the vertical line. Once the jacket comes off though, there's no doubt that Alla, Dior's perennial Oriental mannequin, possesses hips and even a bosom.

Fath has an S-line, emphasizing nature's own curves. It's all pretty relative. Except to the expert's eye, quite a few of the Dior styles could be Fath's, and vice versa. That isn't surprising, since many designers are free-lances who sell their sketches to a number of fashion houses.

Many jackets this year go nearly as far down as does model H, creating a long-waisted figure. In some cases, this is emphasized by a wide belt dangling low and uselessly about the hips. On the other hand there are a lot of Eisenhower jackets, too, which end a good deal higher up.

No scarcity of hips is in sight, though occasionally the designers put them in odd places—note the fetching droopy-drawers effect on the Jean Desses cocktail gown.

What the American woman will really wear this winter depends, of course, on how much inspiration American manufacturers take from the Paris shows. American buyers in Paris have been enthusiastic, gushing even. The Dior line, they agreed, has just what they need to make a woman dump her wardrobe into a Korean relief truck and raid the old man's wallet for a new one.

The old man, of course, remains to be heard from.

Grandma Routs Would-Be Robber

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 26 (AP) — The management of a laundry told Mrs. Florence Gatewood, 60-year-old grandmother, not to resist if a robber entered her downtown branch.

But Grandma Gatewood got excited when a man pointed a pistol at her yesterday and dipped into the cash register.

Author Of "Rules Of Order" Honored By Toastmasters

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Many people go to Arlington Cemetery to lay wreaths on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. But today a little band of pilgrims made its way to the grave of another American hero buried in Arlington, Brig. Gen. Henry M. Robert, and gratefully placed a wreath there.

Robert was the man who wrote "Robert's Rules of Order," for more than 75 years the final authority on how to conduct a meeting.

The pilgrims were members of Toastmasters International, an organization which specializes in teaching how to conduct meetings and make speeches. It's holding its annual convention here.

Dr. Ralph C. Smedley, who founded the Toastmasters, said of Robert:

"He probably has done more for public-minded people who are interested in orderly meetings than anyone in the world."

Funny thing about Robert. He's now remembered chiefly because of an embarrassing moment he had when he was 25. Called upon to conduct a meeting, Robert didn't know how to go about it, nor could he find a handy manual to help him.

So, he wrote one.

It would be pleasant to report that publishers realized they had a sure winner the moment they saw Robert's work. But they didn't. He was turned down by both New York and Chicago publishers, and finally got the "Rules" published by agreeing to (a) stand financially responsible for it and (b) give away the first 1,000 copies to stimulate interest.

The book came out Feb. 19, 1876. Since then it has sold 1,300,000 copies, and has aided untold numbers of flustered presiding officers who have been confronted with the cry, "Point of order, Mr. Chairman! Point of order!"

Being a parliamentarian was a sideline with Robert, who was a soldier, mathematician and engineer, all rolled into one.

He was a Robert of Robertville, S. C., an old Southern family. A brilliant mathematician at West Point, he went in the Corps of Engineers after his graduation.

Funny thing about Robert. He's now remembered chiefly because of an embarrassing moment he had when he was 25. Called upon to conduct a meeting, Robert didn't know how to go about it, nor could he find a handy manual to help him.

So, he wrote one.

It would be pleasant to report that publishers realized they had a sure winner the moment they saw Robert's work. But they didn't. He was turned down by both New York and Chicago publishers, and finally got the "Rules" published by agreeing to (a) stand financially responsible for it and (b) give away the first 1,000 copies to stimulate interest.

The book came out Feb. 19, 1876. Since then it has sold 1,300,000 copies, and has aided untold numbers of flustered presiding officers who have been confronted with the cry, "Point of order, Mr. Chairman! Point of order!"

Not being a parliamentarian was a sideline with Robert, who was a soldier, mathematician and engineer, all rolled into one.

Mecca Chamber Manager Will Visit Here Tuesday

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will be host on August 31 and September 1 to Hasan Daghastany, manager of the Chamber of Commerce of Mecca, the sacred city in Saudi Arabia.

Daghastany is in the United States to pursue an eight-month program of study under the sponsorship of his government and the United States Foreign Operations Administration. Arrangements for his program, including visits to several city Chambers of Commerce, are being handled by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

Daghastany's major interest is in observing methods and techniques that will help to develop the economic potential of Saudi Arabia, so as to increase the living standards of its people.

He is also undertaking an intensive study of the Chamber of Commerce movement in the United States to learn how businessmen in this country have united to pursue their common interests in developing particular areas.

The U. S. Department of Commerce has informed Anthony Saeli, manager, that the Cumberland Chamber has been selected as a representative chamber that might give Daghastany "some insight into the manner in which a local Chamber of Commerce serves in the growth and development of its area."

While in Cumberland, Daghastany will observe operations of the local Chamber and will study local business and industrial methods. Local arrangements include visits to the Celanese Corporation and Kelly-Springfield plants and a brief talk before the Rotary Club, Saeli said.

Graham Crusade Film Scheduled Tomorrow

A documentary film, "London Crusade," on the three-months campaign conducted in Britain by Evangelist Billy Graham will be shown at 8 p. m. tomorrow at Allegany High School.

The film is being sponsored by the Tri-State Youth for Christ and the doors of the school will be opened at 7 p.m.

Local Air Squadron Will Meet Tonight

Cumberland's Flight E of the 9018th Air Reserve Squadron based at Altoona will meet at 8 p. m. today in the ORC Armory in the Footer Building, South Mechanic Street.

Lt. William Scott will lecture on chemical warfare and combat films will be shown.

Capt. Ernest J. Fauss, commander of the flight, said there will be weekly meetings starting September 3 when the training program set up by Air Force Headquarters will begin.

S/Sgt. William W. Fletcher of the 9018th Headquarters is expected to attend tomorrow in order to supply information for those wishing to join.

Capt. Fauss said those wishing to join may contact him by telephoning 5580-W.

Voting Machine Data Received By Board

William A. Wilson, president of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors, has informed the Board of County Commissioners that it would require 115 voting machines in the county under the system being studied by the Legislative Council.

Wilson said that by November 2 there will be 35 districts and 91 precincts in the county. The Legislative Council is seeking the information from the various counties in Maryland which do not have voting machines to further the studies in the matter.

Under tentative plans discussed by the council, the state would advance funds to the counties from a bond issue which would be floated by state government. The council said the entire proposition is merely in the talking stage and one proposal is to make it mandatory for all counties to have voting machines by the primary election in 1958.

$33,000 Damage Suits Removed To Court Here

Two damage suits filed in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland in which $33,000 is asked for injuries to a former LaVale couple, has been removed to Circuit Court here for trial at the next term of court.

The suits were docketed by Earl Meagher and his wife, Betty (Coffey) Meagher against Ray Edward Wilhelm and Leonard Wilhelm, both of Garrett County near Lonaconing. The former was the operator of the car involved in a crash with Meagher's car and the latter the owner.

The declaration states that Meagher was stopped at a traffic light at the intersection of East Main and Grant Streets in Frostburg on June 24, 1951 when a machine driven by Ray Edward Wilhelm crashed into the Meagher machine. The defendants' car was allegedly operated at a high rate of speed and in a careless and negligent manner, according to the declaration.

Meagher was thrown from his car, the declaration states, and suffered severe injuries to the scalp and head and also lacerations and abrasions. He incurred heavy medical and hospital expenses as a result, it added. He is asking $30,000 damages. His wife is asking $3,000 damages for her injuries.

Meagher resided here until about a year ago when he went to Chambersburg to manage a shoe store. He had been employed at the Peskin store here.

C. William Gilchrist is attorney for the Meaghers while Gunter and Geppert, local law firm, represents the Wilhelms.

After the parade there will be a dance in the fire hall to music furnished by the Blue Notes.

There will be games and rides for children.

neutral ground so that members of all Indian tribes might bathe in the waters, these hot springs are believed to have given rise to the story of the "Fountain of Everlasting Youth." Today, the city of Hot Springs is often referred to as the "Baden-Baden of America."

Arkansas was an important outpost of the western frontier of the United States after the purchase of the Louisiana territory from France. Fur-trading posts were established along the rivers and, in 1817, Fort Smith was established to help bring peace between the warring Indian tribes. Settlers flocked to the new land and in 1820 Little Rock, still the most important city in the state, became the capital. At the time of the Civil War, Arkansas at first voted against leaving the Union, but after Lincoln's call for volunteers, the state's convention adopted the Secession Act.

After the Civil War economic expansion began with the building of the railroad. Today the Wonder State is served by a network of great railroads, by three air lines and by more than 10,000 miles of state and federal roads.

Has Many Colleges

Arkansas has 24 institutions of higher learning—13 colleges and universities, one professional school, two teachers' colleges, and eight junior colleges. The University of Arkansas and Hendrix College have the leading art schools. The state has a total of 38 public library systems.

Arkansas points with pride to the fact that her sons and daughters include General Douglas MacArthur born in 1880, writers Albert Pike, and Charles Joseph Finger, Mrs. Hattie D. W. Caraway, the first woman senator and the first woman to preside over the United States Senate, and Joseph Taylor Robinson who was majority leader of the United States Senate from 1933 to 1937, and served as minority leader for the Democratic party in the Senate from 1922 to 1933.

The official symbols of the state are the mockingbird (state bird), apple blossom (state flower), and pine (state tree). The motto of Arkansas is "The people rule."

The Library owns and recommends the following books on Arkansas:

"The Arkansas" (River) by Clyde Brian Davis; "Arkansas—A Guide to the State" by the Federal Writers' Project; "Arkansas and Oklahoma Poets" edited by Henry Harrison; "Big Doc's Girl" by M. Medearis, a delightful story of an Arkansas doctor and his family; "Straw in the Sun" an interesting novel by Charlie May Simon and "We Always Lie to Strangers" by Vance Randolph —a collection of the humorous stories for which the South West is famous.

Hearing Concluded

When concluding testimony was heard yesterday afternoon in Allegany County Circuit Court in a dispute over rightful ownership of a property on East Mary Street, Associate Judge Henderson ordered an appraisal made of the property and a report given to him.

The hearing, which lasted two days, involved an equity suit brought by Jerald N. Barrett and his wife, Jeannette M. Barrett, of 113 Pennsylvania Avenue, against Joseph W. Lewis and his wife, Dorothy E. Lewis, of 1100 Ella Avenue.

The Barretts have asked the court to declare null and void a deed which they said they signed while under the impression that the paper was in the nature of a mortgage.

Meter Costs May Hamper Frostburg Water Program

Wrights Crossing Survey Is Completed

FROSTBURG—With a view of ascertaining the number of water users in the Welsh Hill-Wrights Crossing area having water meters, a committee headed by Earl Davis, chairman, made a canvas of the area Wednesday evening to list the names of non-meter users who would pledge themselves meters in the first step in securing city water from the town of Frostburg.

William Keiling stated that the situation with reference to an adequate supply of water will require the cooperation of all of the 85 families in the district.

Some families, he stated, are not in a financial condition to buy meters on a cash basis and some steps may have to be taken in order to enable all users to obtain meters, perhaps on a time payment plan.

Keiling stated that another meeting of the ways and means committee, appointed Monday evening, will be held Monday, 7:30 p.m., at the Bowling Center, Wrights Crossing.

Baltimore Police Arrest 14-Year-Old In Bicycle Thefts

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Police arrested a 14-year-old boy today and said they found in his basement four bicycles and parts of about seven others, all apparently stolen.

The arrest came as part of a campaign to break up a bicycle theft ring in Brooklyn, a suburban section on the south side.

Investigators said they thought the boy's basement served as a workshop where members of the ring dismantled stolen bicycles and assembled new ones with the parts.

The four seized bicycles were newly painted and appeared to have been rebuilt to thwart identification, police said. They quoted the boy as saying the bicycles had been given to him.

"Several other" boys have been arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities in connection with the investigation, officers said.

Meter Costs May Hamper Frostburg Water Program

Wrights Crossing Survey Is Completed

FROSTBURG—With a view of ascertaining the number of water users in the Welsh Hill-Wrights Crossing area having water meters, a committee headed by Earl Davis, chairman, made a canvas of the area Wednesday evening to list the names of non-meter users who would pledge themselves meters in the first step in securing city water from the town of Frostburg.

William Keiling stated that the situation with reference to an adequate supply of water will require the cooperation of all of the 85 families in the district.

Some families, he stated, are not in a financial condition to buy meters on a cash basis and some steps may have to be taken in order to enable all users to obtain meters, perhaps on a time payment plan.

Keiling stated that another meeting of the ways and means committee, appointed Monday evening, will be held Monday, 7:30 p.m., at the Bowling Center, Wrights Crossing.

Baltimore Police Arrest 14-Year-Old In Bicycle Thefts

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Police arrested a 14-year-old boy today and said they found in his basement four bicycles and parts of about seven others, all apparently stolen.

The arrest came as part of a campaign to break up a bicycle theft ring in Brooklyn, a suburban section on the south side.

Investigators said they thought the boy's basement served as a workshop where members of the ring dismantled stolen bicycles and assembled new ones with the parts.

The four seized bicycles were newly painted and appeared to have been rebuilt to thwart identification, police said. They quoted the boy as saying the bicycles had been given to him.

"Several other" boys have been arrested and turned over to juvenile authorities in connection with the investigation, officers said.

Pittsburgh Firm Commends City For Cooperation

With the announcement that preliminary construction work on Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's new plant here would be underway within a month, officers of the firm have expressed sincere thanks to the Cumberland community for cooperation extended to the firm during the past several months.

Speaking for the company, Harry B. Higgins, president, said that the cooperation of city and county officials of the civic groups and various individuals contributed substantially to the location of Pittsburgh Plate's $34,000,000 plant here.

Initial contact with the large manufacturing organization was established by Albert H. Hargreaves, director of Industrial Development, who serves in that capacity for the Chamber of Commerce, Industrial Development Department. The Chamber of Commerce, through Hargreaves, had been working with Pittsburgh Plate officials since the early months of 1953.

William C. Walsh, chairman of the industrial promotion committee, during the many months prior to the firm's committment to locate here, assisted Pittsburgh Plate in its contact with city and county agencies and departments. In addition, Judge Walsh handled the legal negotiations and the legal work pursuant to acquisition of the 603 acre plant site in the Mexico Farm area.

According to Higgins, Senator J. Glenn Beall, and all city and county officials, with whom Pittsburgh Plate had discussed the problems of plant location during the past year, have lent every possible assistance to assure location of the huge plant in this non-target and labor surplus area.

RC Bloodmobile Unit Will Visit Here On Monday

Cumberland will be out to maintain its record of having exceeded its quota of blood donations during the two visits made by the mobile unit of the Johnstown Regional Blood Center during the present fiscal year, when the unit comes here Monday.

Officials of the County Red Cross Chapter pointed out residents of this city contributed 155½ pints during the only visit made in the county during July, and then set a near record on August 3 when local donors gave 202½ pints. The quota for each visit is 150 pints, it was pointed out, and the one-day record is 217½ pints, made last February 2.

Mrs. Charles F. Helmrich, recruitment chairman, said the headquarters for the local visit Monday will be at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street, with the unit operating between noon and 6 p.m. On the following day, the unit will be in Frostburg at the home of Farrady Post 24, American Legion, for residents of that area.

Mrs. Helmrich has asked donors to keep their appointments if at all possible. If any person will be unable to, she said, such information should be phoned in at either 3556 or 4181 in order that a substitute can be notified.

It was "walk-in" donors last month who helped Cumberland to reach only the second time that the 200-pint mark was attained here since the monthly visits of the unit started in January 1952, Mrs. Helmrich stated. She explained that nearly half of the 307 persons scheduled to give blood on August 2 failed to show up for appointments. Walk-ins that day totaled 61, according to Mrs. Helmrich.

Mrs. Kathleen Todd and Mrs. J. C. Cobey are in charge of recruiting donors in the Frostburg area.

A Fleet Separates Reds And Formosa

If Peiping issued those bombastic threats to "liquidate" Chiang Kai-shek to ascertain if the United States would fight if an attack were launched against Formosa, it should no longer have the slightest doubt on that score. If the Chinese Reds should attack Formosa, President Eisenhower said, they would have to run over the Seventh U. S. Fleet. The President made it clear that on this issue the American position is not subject to change.

It also appears that the President is confident Red China will not go so far as to try to change it by compulsion. If there had been any great concern on that score, he would have consulted his advisers on what to do if the Seventh Fleet should prove unable to stop a full-fledged assault from the mainland. Chances are that the talk from Peiping has been noted but that observers on the ground have not seen proof that the Reds mean business.

The President posed a question, however, when he said that in 1953 he had reaffirmed existing orders to the Seventh Fleet with respect to Formosa. Those original orders were former President Truman's and they directed the fleet to do two things—prevent a Nationalist attack on the mainland as well as defend the island from the Reds. President Eisenhower rescinded the limitation on Chiang's troops in January 1953, but let the other part stand.

It is possible that the Chinese Reds are merely talking tough to find out what U. S. intentions are. It may be that they fear an attack—or at least would like to make some gullible persons believe they do. Now they been told again that if they attack Formosa they will be met by force.

The next move is up to them.

These Days

Prophets Of Gloom

It is no novelty in any age or in any place that the older generations see the movement of life before them with weary eyes. Change is alway uncomfortable for those who have become accustomed to their own ways. Jeremiah and Amos relive each century but so does St. Francis of Assisi who found in life itself, whatever the circumstances, an everlasting goodness.

So, in our times, there are prophets of gloom and doom who serve well because they counter-balance the over-optimistic and the blindly hopeful who believe that change is an end in itself. The prophets of gloom and doom, to use a phrase, do not believe that change for the sake of change serves a logical design of living. The concept of the permanent revolution is grounded in biology, not in morals.

Our people do not divide themselves into conservatives, liberals and radicals—nor for that matter, do any other people. In the good, old days of the anarchism of Emma Goldman, there were those who insisted that as there could be no God, they would not accept conventional morality.

A friend of mine of those days wanted to marry a young lady of extraordinary charm. Although he called himself a philosophic anarchist, he insisted on making the girl an honest woman according to the mores of his New England ancestors. She, on the other hand, insisted that a lawful marriage would involve a repudiation of her noblest ideal, which was that she alone could determine what was right or wrong for herself. I listened to this argument for months in my youth. They lived happily out of wedlock and had some children. Then the issue arose that the children might not care to be illegitimate. It might embarrass the children when their playmates discovered the noblest ideals of the mother. They might write words in chalk. So the parents finally married in accordance with the law.

Life is too complicated for anyone to set himself up as the sole judge even of his own conduct. He might not get a job on that yardstick of propriety; therefore even radicals wear dinner jackets with black ties to establish that one might think along the lines of Karl Marx and dress according to the style of Fred Astaire.

The prophets of gloom and doom are often very cheerful persons who have read much history and know some anthropology and psychology and even economics and who have reached the conclusion that while the human race has tried all sorts of experiments in living, some methods have worked better than others. The New Deal is as old as Joseph in Egypt who conceived of a planned economy that ultimately made everybody poor; fascism was proposed by Saint-Simon at the time of the French Revolution but his followers called it the "New Christianity." Many of his followers became arch-capitalists, the bourgeoisie of the 1830s, just as the current followers of Marx and Bakunin have produced a slave state while seeking a perfect society in which government will wither away.

The prophets of gloom and doom know that government will not wither away, just as they know that if a government spends too much, its currency will depreciate and the reservoirs of private capital will dry up. They know that an intermediate step of pirvate monopoly precedes the era of government monopoly. While the so-called liberal believes that he is saving his world from revolution, actually he is laying down a red carpet to welcome the revolution; that is, the change-over from private ownership of wealth to government ownership of the means of production and distribution. What he overlooks is the essential nature of those means, namely, that they consist not only of machines but of human beings.

Therefore, while he believes that he is producing a greater freedom for all, he is actually laboring for a government control of the lives of the people. Lenin saw that clearly and removed the liberals as an obstacle to scientific socialism. The conservatives ran away. So Lenin had the field to himself and his permanent revolution. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxembourg in Germany were less successful because they themselves were of a liberal tradition. In the United States, the prophets of doom and gloom give ballast to a trend toward the permanent revolution in the hope that it may run itself out.

Apathy Of Some Workers May Cause Defeat Of GOP

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The morale of precinct workers and local organizations of the Republican party in several states is shot to pieces, and this may prove a major cause contributing to the loss of Republican control of both houses of Congress in the elections next November.

Letters received by this correspondent from many parts of the country tell of influential Republican party workers, including some county chieftains, who have decided to be passive in the coming campaign. Some of them say they will not even vote.

Reasons for the apathy inside the Republican party vary. Some of it is due to a lack of interest on the part of President Eisenhower, and particularly of the White House staff, in the fortunes of the regular organizations. Some of it has arisen because the "Citizens for Eisenhower" movement is being interpreted as a threat to discipline regular Republicans who have conscientiously adopted views differing from some of those of the President.

Think Ike's a Captive

There is indeed a widespread feeling that, ever since the death of Senator Taft of Ohio, the so-called "liberal" wing has made a captive of President Eisenhower at the White House.

Perhaps the most serious cleavage in the Republican party arises from the mishandling of the McCarthy issue by the White House staff, whose influence is believed to be responsible for goading President Eisenhower into the position of seeking deliberately to punish the Wisconsin senator. For several months the direct and indirect attacks on Senator McCarthy at the President's press conferences have not gone unnoticed among Republicans who feel that the Wisconsin senator has performed a service to his country by arousing public interest with respect to Communist techniques and methods of infiltration in America.

Whatever the merits of the controversy over congressional committee "methods" and however much some persons have come to dislike the senator from Wisconsin as a result of the recent televised hearings, the practical aspect from a political viewpoint is that literally millions of Republican voters think Senator McCarthy now is being persecuted not for a few intemperate remarks and speeches made under provocation but because he fought the Communists in government.

These millions of voters include many hundreds of thousands who crossed over from the Democratic to the Republican party in several key states in the 1952 elections because they believed the Truman administration was "soft" on the Communist issue. They have by no means been convinced that they should go back to the Democratic party, but they probably will make their protest in November by not voting at all.

Candidates Will Suffer

The McCarthy issue is, of course, a troublesome one from any political viewpoint, and most candidates on the Republican side are fighting shy of any mention of it. But the Republican candidates will suffer just the same because of President Eisenhower's part in the fight. For the fact remains that Senator Flanders, a Republican, started the move for a formal "censure" by resolution of the Senate without the sanction of the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Then Mr. Eisenhower wrote a letter to Senator Flanders praising his speech on censure, and the latter has since made public references to that Eisenhower letter.

Now, just at a time when the energies of the Republicans might better be spent in campaigning against the Democrats, a committee of six senators is to hold extensive hearings which will keep the McCarthy issue in the headlines throughout September and perhaps October.

Senator Flanders started out with a demand for the removal of Senator McCarthy from his chairmanship of the Committee on Government Operations and of the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, and then switched to a proposal for "censure." But it looks now as if the Vermont Senator is going to have his original wish fulfilled. For, according to the election outlook as of today, not only is Senator McCarthy going to lose his chairmanship in the coming elections, but so will all the other Republican chairmen of committees in both the House and the Senate.

At the grass roots the emotional reaction to the McCarthy issue is so strong that, even if the weakest of the percentage totals shown by the various Gallup Polls as to those who are on the McCarthy side is taken as an accurate measurement today of the pro-McCarthy sentiment It is enough to defeat the Republican party by the simple device of their not voting at the coming elections.

Consulted ADA

The feeling is bitter because the whole anti-McCarthy attack at this last session of Congress was spearheaded by the "Americans for Democratic Action"—which backed Stevenson in 1952—and by an offshoot of that organization known as "The National Committee for an Effective Congress." Senator Flanders admitted on the floor of the Senate that he had been consulting with that group of New Dealers in the preparation of his charges against Senator McCarthy.

All this is grist for the Democratic mill. Yet the Republican high command, beginning with the President and the White House staff, are doing little or nothing to heal the breach in the party, and the Democrats are doing everything they can to goad the Eisenhower staff to stir up more and more friction inside the party.

When the history of the Eisenhower administration is finally written, if there is such a thing as a medal for "distinguished political disservice," it might be awarded to the members of the White House staff and the administration officials who thought up the bright idea of a public fight with McCarthy by means of the Cohn-Schine trivialities. The anti-McCarthy controversy has served to dramatize the dissention inside the Republican party and to aggravate it to a point almost beyond repair. That's why the betting on the election of a Democratic Congress is growing every day to the point where any Republicans foolish enough to bet can demand big odds.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We have been accused of fighting the St. Lawrence Waterway out to the Gaspe Peninsula and 11 miles at sea.

The project bobbed forth around 1932 disguised as a rider on the federal dog housing bill. The windfallers were taking their cream straight off the top.

We resisted the scheme knowing the gulf stream would be running hot gravy.

So the next year Franklin Delano Roosevelt came up with a bill filling in the St. Lawrence and making it a boulevard.

You remember my speech before the congressional committee of one to a telephone booth. I said, "What good is a harbor if you don't have to dredge it deeper?

This sentiment touched their patriotism to the quick. The quick is where you look into the manicurist's big blue eyes and say, "Ouch!"

Around 1941 there was some alien bidding on another harbor in Hawaii. But the St. Lawrence came up again in 1948 with stimulated shilling and accumulated conjecture. In order to get acquainted with the subject the committee went up the Erie Canal in a glass-bottomed boat.

The advantage of the St. Lawrence Waterway is it's a route to a storm at sea. Florence Chadwick doesn't care much either way. Flossie is used to the English Channel.

But Chicago is boosting the Nova Scotia short line hook, cork and sinker. It will make Chicago an ocean port with riparian privileges and deepwater demurrage.

Silicone Creams Available For Protection Of Skin

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Creams are available now to protect the skin from irritating chemicals, dust, soaps, and detergents. These ointments contain silicone, an inert substance that repels water, oil, and other common irritants used in the home and in industry. This new type of protective cream is most helpful to victims of contact dermatitis of the hands and face.

There are several silicone preparations and some work better than others. Certain products may not protest against strong solvents or fuels that dissolve the silicone and greasy types will be of little use for those who handle paper or clothing.

To overcome these drawbacks, there is a special plasticized compound of silicone in a greaseless vanishing cream base. The substance is harmless so far as is known. An adequate barrier to irritating agents is afforded by using two or three times a day and the previous application need not be removed as additional layers offer further protection.

Many individuals are sensitive to a variety of materials and a rash appears whenever such irritants are touched. The problem is more serious when the offending agent is known but cannot be avoided because it is necessary to use it at work. When a physician or nurse, for example, is sensitive to penicillin or to latex in rubber gloves, the ability to work is limited.

The same can be said of a housewife who is sensitive to common soaps or detergents. In the past she resorted to rubber gloves or got someone else to do the dishes and cleaning chores. Silicone cream is a lifesaver for her hands. She applies the protective material two or three times a day and it forms a film like an invisible glove. Since the ointment is water and oil repellent, she can do her housework without its rubbing or washing off.

The preparations also are of value in allergies to agents commonly used in industry including leather, rubber, brass, hair, glue, fertilizer, paint, dye, food products, oils, and chemicals. The ointment is a boon to chronic dermatitis sufferers when the condition is aggravated by soap, detergents, water, cosmetics, wool, cotton, hair, and pollens.

There is a possibility that the silicone creams may prevent diaper rash and irritation of the skin surrounding a draining abscess or a colostomy. Theoretically, those who are sensitive to poison ivy ought to be able to touch the leaves with impunity after applying a silicone compound.

TOMORROW: Mild bouts of abdominal pain.

Sharpster Takes Uncle Sam To Tune Of $10,000 In Death Claim Payment

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being Mr. Pearson's assistant, Jack Anderson, who is also author of the best-seller "McCarthy, The Man, The Senator, The Ism.")

WASHINGTON — Federal agents are combing the country for a sharpster who fleeced Uncle Sam out of $10,000 and disappeared without a trace.

Not since a con man first sold the Brooklyn bridge has such a slick job been pulled.

Here is the inside story:

Last March, the Veterans Administration received a routine insurance claim from George E. Scott of Abbeville, S. C. His son, Air Force Sgt. Johnnie M. Scott, had drowned, leaving $10,000 in GI insurance. The father was named beneficiary.

For three months, the claim was painstakingly investigated. Finally all the papers were found in order and a check for $10,000 was made out to George E. Scott.

However, it was not mailed to Scott's home in Abbeville, S. C., but to a rooming house at 701 19th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. — the address appearing on the claim.

Meanwhile, a stranger moved into the 19th Street rooming house and registered as George E. Scott. He minded his own business, asking no questions and answering none. All G-men know is that he was not the deceased sergeant's father.

Treasury Department Cashes Check

The mysterious stranger stayed long enough to receive one letter. It came from the Veterans Administration and contained the $10,000 check.

The morning this important mail arrived, he marched straight to the Treasury Department with the check and demanded payment. Treasury officials looked at the $10,000 figure and shook their heads. They couldn't cash it, they said. The check was too large. Why didn't he take it to his bank?

The man who called himself George E. Scott became indignant. He spoke bitterly of the sacrifices of fallen GIs and the way their beneficiaries were kicked around by the government. He threatened to take his complaint all the way to the secretary of the treasury.

Impressed, the officials wavered in their refusal, agreed to try again. They carried the check from office to office, finally got an O.K. to cash it.

The stranger produced papers identifying himself as George E. Scott. A few minutes later, he walked off with $10,000 in crisp, new Treasury bills. That's the last seen of the spurious George E. Scott or the crisp, new bills.

Agents quickly discovered that the original claim listed the correct Abbeville, S. C., address. Someone had pulled a last-minute switch, substituting the rooming house address.

In other words, the fast-buck artist must have had an inside accomplice, someone who knew exactly the right minute to switch vouchers, agents are convinced. They are investigating all possible suspects, giving lie detector tests to everyone who got near the vouchers. But so far, no clues.

Meanwhile, the veterans Administration and Treasury Department got into a squabble over who should make good the $10,000 payment to the real George E. Scott. VA claimed it was the Treasury's responsibility for cashing the check for the wrong man. But Treasury insisted that the VA should get stung for sending the check to the wrong address.

To settle the dispute, the General Accounting Office was called in and officially blamed the VA.

Modern Pioneers

A band of pioneers, packing typewriters, set out recently to recently to discover Mare Island — a long, low strip in California's San Pablo Bay. The purpose was to pave the way for any others who may want to help celebrate the Mare Island Naval Shipyard's 100th birthday.

The citizens of Vallejo, Calif., are throwing a $200,000 birthday party for the shipyard September 16-19.

The advance press expedition, assembled in New York, Washington and Chicago, crossed the country in a noisy, drafty, but above all, poky, four-engine transport plane. They missed the cross-country speed record by some 20 hours.

They flew so slow, in fact, that the New York Herald Tribune's veteran war correspondent, Homer Bigart, eyed the four engines skeptically and concluded: "Two must be decoys."

International News Service columnist Bob Considine almost missed the plane. He told a New York taxi driver: "Hurry to the airport! I've got to get to California in the worst way!"

After bouncing around in the air for several hours, he acknowledged: "I got my wish. I'm going to California in the worst way."

The press gang was greeted at Mare Island by Rear Admiral Fred Entwistle, shipyard commander, who told all about the yard and also disclosed the incidental intelligence that the martini got its name from near-by Martinez, Calif. Some went on to rediscover the island, others back to rediscover the martini.

Mare Island took its name from an amphibious mare that somehow was spilled into the brine and swam the treacherous tides to the small island. Local historians dispute whether she was dumped by a capsized raft or an upset ferryboat. In any case, the mare's determined owner, General Vallejo, found her on the island and promptly proclaimed it La Isla de la Yegua. Shortened to unromantic English, this means Mare Island.

The shipyard was founded September 16, 1854, by Commander David G. Farragut, one of the Navy's celebrated heroes. In the century following, the yard has built nearly 500 ships for the Navy, repaired thousands more and served the Pacific fleets through five wars.

The Megatons Did It

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

After nearly two years of backing and filling, the Eisenhower administration is finally showing signs of tackling the American air defense problem in a serious way.

The difficulty that has to be surmounted is the same that has caused the delay to date. An honest and adequate air defense program can eventually add from $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 annually to our military expenditures.

Most of the increase in outlay will come the second year. The increase can of course be slowed down by slowing down the program. It can be made less honest and less adequate, in short. But even a half-measure program is likely to increase the 1956 military budget—the election year budget—by around $2,500,000,000.

Thus the decision will not be painless under any circumstances; and it will be opposed by all those who give budgetary and fiscal convenience a higher priority than national security.

On the other hand, it is very hard to see how the obstructionist tactics that have worked so well until now, can continue to succeed hereafter. Nearly two years after the urgent need was first pointed out by the scientists of Project Lincoln, the Pentagon has at last set up a Continental Air Defense Command under Gen. Benjamin Chidlaw. The mere existence of such a command, specifically charged with specific responsibility for a life and death mission, will inevitably generate an almost irresistible demand for the tools that are needed for the job.

Study Going Ahead

It has not been announced, but the National Security Council in effect prepared to answer this future demand even before the Continental Air Defense Command was set up. A new special commission composed of high officials and outside experts was named by the NSC, to study the nation's air defense requirements and report back this autumn.

This study has been going forward for some time in an altogether new atmosphere. There is none of the sleazy, interested outcry against "Maginot Line thinking" that was heard when an effective American air defense system was first proposed in the Lincln report of two years ago. There is none of the defeatist talk, either, about an effective air defense system was first proposed in the Lincoln report of two years ago. There is none of the defeatist talk, either, about an effective air defense being an impossible long-hair dream.

The brilliant success of Project Corrode has proven the value of the Lincoln scientists' designs for new early warning devices. Work has already started on the so-called McGill Warning Line, running across northern Canada. After Corrode, there is growing support for the once-ridiculed Lincoln proposal of a Far North Line, on the extreme continental fringe. And air-borne early warning devices have been developed with such success, that the planners even talk of detecting an attacking force almost at the moment of take-off, halfway 'round the world.

Interception Plans Progressing

By the same token, important progress has been made with the other half of the air defense problem—the weapons of interception without which the best warning is useless.

Another of the Lincoln ideas that was once ridiculed and is now beginning to find acceptance is the use of "Hunter-Killer" aircraft. These will be planes of considerable size and range, perhaps even bombers. They will be able to exploit an early warning better than a short-range fighter. And they will be equipped with air-to-air guided missiles, probably with atomic warheads, to increase certainty of a kill.

The original Lincoln program, which was waiting for the Eisenhower administration when it took office, had a maximum kill-rate of 80 per cent of all attacking aircraft as its supposedly over-ambitious target.

The present NSC commission is the fifth or sixth such body to review the Lincoln findings. In addition, a detailed technical review is being carried on, on behalf of the new NSC commission, by the Rand Corporation and the Johns Hopkins University contractors of the Army's office of research on operations. And instead of being lowered, the air defense target has now been increased to a kill-rate of no less than 90 per cent of all attacking aircraft.

If nine out of ten attackers can be brought down in the "remote air battle," this country may be damaged, but it will be neither crippled nor destroyed by A-bomb or even H-bomb attack. That is the incalculable increase of security which is now promised, providing the Eisenhower administration's policymakers are willing to take the budgetary consequences.

It might embarrass the children when their playmates discovered the noblest ideals of the mother. They might write words in chalk. So the parents finally married in accordance with the law.

Life is too complicated for anyone to set himself up as the sole judge even of his own conduct. He might not get a job on that yardstick of propriety; therefore even radicals wear dinner jackets with black ties to establish that one might think along the lines of Karl Marx and dress according to the style of Fred Astaire.

The prophets of gloom and doom are often very cheerful persons who have read much history and know some anthropology and psychology and even economics and who have reached the conclusion that while the human race has tried all sorts of experiments in living, some methods have worked better than others. The New Deal is as old as Joseph in Egypt who conceived of a planned economy that ultimately made everybody poor; fascism was proposed by Saint-Simon at the time of the French Revolution but his followers called it the "New Christianity." Many of his followers became arch-capitalists, the bourgeoisie of the 1830s, just as the current followers of Marx and Bakunin have produced a slave state while seeking a perfect society in which government will wither away.

The prophets of gloom and doom know that government will not wither away, just as they know that if a government spends too much, its currency will depreciate and the reservoirs of private capital will dry up. They know that an intermediate step of pirvate monopoly precedes the era of government monopoly. While the so-called liberal believes that he is saving his world from revolution, actually he is laying down a red carpet to welcome the revolution; that is, the change-over from private ownership of wealth to government ownership of the means of production and distribution. What he overlooks is the essential nature of those means, namely, that they consist not only of machines but of human beings.

Therefore, while he believes that he is producing a greater freedom for all, he is actually laboring for a government control of the lives of the people. Lenin saw that clearly and removed the liberals as an obstacle to scientific socialism. The conservatives ran away. So Lenin had the field to himself and his permanent revolution. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxembourg in Germany were less successful because they themselves were of a liberal tradition. In the United States, the prophets of doom and gloom give ballast to a trend toward the permanent revolution in the hope that it may run itself out.

Sharpster Takes Uncle Sam To Tune Of $10,000 In Death Claim Payment

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being Mr. Pearson's assistant, Jack Anderson, who is also author of the best-seller "McCarthy, The Man, The Senator, The Ism.")

WASHINGTON — Federal agents are combing the country for a sharpster who fleeced Uncle Sam out of $10,000 and disappeared without a trace.

Not since a con man first sold the Brooklyn bridge has such a slick job been pulled.

Here is the inside story:

Last March, the Veterans Administration received a routine insurance claim from George E. Scott of Abbeville, S. C. His son, Air Force Sgt. Johnnie M. Scott, had drowned, leaving $10,000 in GI insurance. The father was named beneficiary.

For three months, the claim was painstakingly investigated. Finally all the papers were found in order and a check for $10,000 was made out to George E. Scott.

However, it was not mailed to Scott's home in Abbeville, S. C., but to a rooming house at 701 19th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. — the address appearing on the claim.

Meanwhile, a stranger moved into the 19th Street rooming house and registered as George E. Scott. He minded his own business, asking no questions and answering none. All G-men know is that he was not the deceased sergeant's father.

Treasury Department Cashes Check

The mysterious stranger stayed long enough to receive one letter. It came from the Veterans Administration and contained the $10,000 check.

The morning this important mail arrived, he marched straight to the Treasury Department with the check and demanded payment. Treasury officials looked at the $10,000 figure and shook their heads. They couldn't cash it, they said. The check was too large. Why didn't he take it to his bank?

The man who called himself George E. Scott became indignant. He spoke bitterly of the sacrifices of fallen GIs and the way their beneficiaries were kicked around by the government. He threatened to take his complaint all the way to the secretary of the treasury.

Impressed, the officials wavered in their refusal, agreed to try again. They carried the check from office to office, finally got an O.K. to cash it.

The stranger produced papers identifying himself as George E. Scott. A few minutes later, he walked off with $10,000 in crisp, new Treasury bills. That's the last seen of the spurious George E. Scott or the crisp, new bills.

Agents quickly discovered that the original claim listed the correct Abbeville, S. C., address. Someone had pulled a last-minute switch, substituting the rooming house address.

In other words, the fast-buck artist must have had an inside accomplice, someone who knew exactly the right minute to switch vouchers, agents are convinced. They are investigating all possible suspects, giving lie detector tests to everyone who got near the vouchers. But so far, no clues.

Meanwhile, the veterans Administration and Treasury Department got into a squabble over who should make good the $10,000 payment to the real George E. Scott. VA claimed it was the Treasury's responsibility for cashing the check for the wrong man. But Treasury insisted that the VA should get stung for sending the check to the wrong address.

To settle the dispute, the General Accounting Office was called in and officially blamed the VA.

Modern Pioneers

A band of pioneers, packing typewriters, set out recently to recently to discover Mare Island — a long, low strip in California's San Pablo Bay. The purpose was to pave the way for any others who may want to help celebrate the Mare Island Naval Shipyard's 100th birthday.

The citizens of Vallejo, Calif., are throwing a $200,000 birthday party for the shipyard September 16-19.

The advance press expedition, assembled in New York, Washington and Chicago, crossed the country in a noisy, drafty, but above all, poky, four-engine transport plane. They missed the cross-country speed record by some 20 hours.

They flew so slow, in fact, that the New York Herald Tribune's veteran war correspondent, Homer Bigart, eyed the four engines skeptically and concluded: "Two must be decoys."

International News Service columnist Bob Considine almost missed the plane. He told a New York taxi driver: "Hurry to the airport! I've got to get to California in the worst way!"

After bouncing around in the air for several hours, he acknowledged: "I got my wish. I'm going to California in the worst way."

The press gang was greeted at Mare Island by Rear Admiral Fred Entwistle, shipyard commander, who told all about the yard and also disclosed the incidental intelligence that the martini got its name from near-by Martinez, Calif. Some went on to rediscover the island, others back to rediscover the martini.

Mare Island took its name from an amphibious mare that somehow was spilled into the brine and swam the treacherous tides to the small island. Local historians dispute whether she was dumped by a capsized raft or an upset ferryboat. In any case, the mare's determined owner, General Vallejo, found her on the island and promptly proclaimed it La Isla de la Yegua. Shortened to unromantic English, this means Mare Island.

The shipyard was founded September 16, 1854, by Commander David G. Farragut, one of the Navy's celebrated heroes. In the century following, the yard has built nearly 500 ships for the Navy, repaired thousands more and served the Pacific fleets through five wars.

Apathy Of Some Workers May Cause Defeat Of GOP

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The morale of precinct workers and local organizations of the Republican party in several states is shot to pieces, and this may prove a major cause contributing to the loss of Republican control of both houses of Congress in the elections next November.

Letters received by this correspondent from many parts of the country tell of influential Republican party workers, including some county chieftains, who have decided to be passive in the coming campaign. Some of them say they will not even vote.

Reasons for the apathy inside the Republican party vary. Some of it is due to a lack of interest on the part of President Eisenhower, and particularly of the White House staff, in the fortunes of the regular organizations. Some of it has arisen because the "Citizens for Eisenhower" movement is being interpreted as a threat to discipline regular Republicans who have conscientiously adopted views differing from some of those of the President.

Think Ike's a Captive

There is indeed a widespread feeling that, ever since the death of Senator Taft of Ohio, the so-called "liberal" wing has made a captive of President Eisenhower at the White House.

Perhaps the most serious cleavage in the Republican party arises from the mishandling of the McCarthy issue by the White House staff, whose influence is believed to be responsible for goading President Eisenhower into the position of seeking deliberately to punish the Wisconsin senator. For several months the direct and indirect attacks on Senator McCarthy at the President's press conferences have not gone unnoticed among Republicans who feel that the Wisconsin senator has performed a service to his country by arousing public interest with respect to Communist techniques and methods of infiltration in America.

Whatever the merits of the controversy over congressional committee "methods" and however much some persons have come to dislike the senator from Wisconsin as a result of the recent televised hearings, the practical aspect from a political viewpoint is that literally millions of Republican voters think Senator McCarthy now is being persecuted not for a few intemperate remarks and speeches made under provocation but because he fought the Communists in government.

These millions of voters include many hundreds of thousands who crossed over from the Democratic to the Republican party in several key states in the 1952 elections because they believed the Truman administration was "soft" on the Communist issue. They have by no means been convinced that they should go back to the Democratic party, but they probably will make their protest in November by not voting at all.

Candidates Will Suffer

The McCarthy issue is, of course, a troublesome one from any political viewpoint, and most candidates on the Republican side are fighting shy of any mention of it. But the Republican candidates will suffer just the same because of President Eisenhower's part in the fight. For the fact remains that Senator Flanders, a Republican, started the move for a formal "censure" by resolution of the Senate without the sanction of the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Then Mr. Eisenhower wrote a letter to Senator Flanders praising his speech on censure, and the latter has since made public references to that Eisenhower letter.

Now, just at a time when the energies of the Republicans might better be spent in campaigning against the Democrats, a committee of six senators is to hold extensive hearings which will keep the McCarthy issue in the headlines throughout September and perhaps October.

Senator Flanders started out with a demand for the removal of Senator McCarthy from his chairmanship of the Committee on Government Operations and of the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, and then switched to a proposal for "censure." But it looks now as if the Vermont Senator is going to have his original wish fulfilled. For, according to the election outlook as of today, not only is Senator McCarthy going to lose his chairmanship in the coming elections, but so will all the other Republican chairmen of committees in both the House and the Senate.

At the grass roots the emotional reaction to the McCarthy issue is so strong that, even if the weakest of the percentage totals shown by the various Gallup Polls as to those who are on the McCarthy side is taken as an accurate measurement today of the pro-McCarthy sentiment It is enough to defeat the Republican party by the simple device of their not voting at the coming elections.

Consulted ADA

The feeling is bitter because the whole anti-McCarthy attack at this last session of Congress was spearheaded by the "Americans for Democratic Action"—which backed Stevenson in 1952—and by an offshoot of that organization known as "The National Committee for an Effective Congress." Senator Flanders admitted on the floor of the Senate that he had been consulting with that group of New Dealers in the preparation of his charges against Senator McCarthy.

All this is grist for the Democratic mill. Yet the Republican high command, beginning with the President and the White House staff, are doing little or nothing to heal the breach in the party, and the Democrats are doing everything they can to goad the Eisenhower staff to stir up more and more friction inside the party.

When the history of the Eisenhower administration is finally written, if there is such a thing as a medal for "distinguished political disservice," it might be awarded to the members of the White House staff and the administration officials who thought up the bright idea of a public fight with McCarthy by means of the Cohn-Schine trivialities. The anti-McCarthy controversy has served to dramatize the dissention inside the Republican party and to aggravate it to a point almost beyond repair. That's why the betting on the election of a Democratic Congress is growing every day to the point where any Republicans foolish enough to bet can demand big odds.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We have been accused of fighting the St. Lawrence Waterway out to the Gaspe Peninsula and 11 miles at sea.

The project bobbed forth around 1932 disguised as a rider on the federal dog housing bill. The windfallers were taking their cream straight off the top.

We resisted the scheme knowing the gulf stream would be running hot gravy.

So the next year Franklin Delano Roosevelt came up with a bill filling in the St. Lawrence and making it a boulevard.

You remember my speech before the congressional committee of one to a telephone booth. I said, "What good is a harbor if you don't have to dredge it deeper?

This sentiment touched their patriotism to the quick. The quick is where you look into the manicurist's big blue eyes and say, "Ouch!"

Around 1941 there was some alien bidding on another harbor in Hawaii. But the St. Lawrence came up again in 1948 with stimulated shilling and accumulated conjecture. In order to get acquainted with the subject the committee went up the Erie Canal in a glass-bottomed boat.

The advantage of the St. Lawrence Waterway is it's a route to a storm at sea. Florence Chadwick doesn't care much either way. Flossie is used to the English Channel.

But Chicago is boosting the Nova Scotia short line hook, cork and sinker. It will make Chicago an ocean port with riparian privileges and deepwater demurrage.

The Megatons Did It

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

After nearly two years of backing and filling, the Eisenhower administration is finally showing signs of tackling the American air defense problem in a serious way.

The difficulty that has to be surmounted is the same that has caused the delay to date. An honest and adequate air defense program can eventually add from $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 annually to our military expenditures.

Most of the increase in outlay will come the second year. The increase can of course be slowed down by slowing down the program. It can be made less honest and less adequate, in short. But even a half-measure program is likely to increase the 1956 military budget—the election year budget—by around $2,500,000,000.

Thus the decision will not be painless under any circumstances; and it will be opposed by all those who give budgetary and fiscal convenience a higher priority than national security.

On the other hand, it is very hard to see how the obstructionist tactics that have worked so well until now, can continue to succeed hereafter. Nearly two years after the urgent need was first pointed out by the scientists of Project Lincoln, the Pentagon has at last set up a Continental Air Defense Command under Gen. Benjamin Chidlaw. The mere existence of such a command, specifically charged with specific responsibility for a life and death mission, will inevitably generate an almost irresistible demand for the tools that are needed for the job.

Study Going Ahead

It has not been announced, but the National Security Council in effect prepared to answer this future demand even before the Continental Air Defense Command was set up. A new special commission composed of high officials and outside experts was named by the NSC, to study the nation's air defense requirements and report back this autumn.

This study has been going forward for some time in an altogether new atmosphere. There is none of the sleazy, interested outcry against "Maginot Line thinking" that was heard when an effective American air defense system was first proposed in the Lincln report of two years ago. There is none of the defeatist talk, either, about an effective air defense being an impossible long-hair dream.

The brilliant success of Project Corrode has proven the value of the Lincoln scientists' designs for new early warning devices. Work has already started on the so-called McGill Warning Line, running across northern Canada. After Corrode, there is growing support for the once-ridiculed Lincoln proposal of a Far North Line, on the extreme continental fringe. And air-borne early warning devices have been developed with such success, that the planners even talk of detecting an attacking force almost at the moment of take-off, halfway 'round the world.

Interception Plans Progressing

By the same token, important progress has been made with the other half of the air defense problem—the weapons of interception without which the best warning is useless.

Another of the Lincoln ideas that was once ridiculed and is now beginning to find acceptance is the use of "Hunter-Killer" aircraft. These will be planes of considerable size and range, perhaps even bombers. They will be able to exploit an early warning better than a short-range fighter. And they will be equipped with air-to-air guided missiles, probably with atomic warheads, to increase certainty of a kill.

The original Lincoln program, which was waiting for the Eisenhower administration when it took office, had a maximum kill-rate of 80 per cent of all attacking aircraft as its supposedly over-ambitious target.

The present NSC commission is the fifth or sixth such body to review the Lincoln findings. In addition, a detailed technical review is being carried on, on behalf of the new NSC commission, by the Rand Corporation and the Johns Hopkins University contractors of the Army's office of research on operations. And instead of being lowered, the air defense target has now been increased to a kill-rate of no less than 90 per cent of all attacking aircraft.

If nine out of ten attackers can be brought down in the "remote air battle," this country may be damaged, but it will be neither crippled nor destroyed by A-bomb or even H-bomb attack. That is the incalculable increase of security which is now promised, providing the Eisenhower administration's policymakers are willing to take the budgetary consequences.

Silicone Creams Available For Protection Of Skin

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Creams are available now to protect the skin from irritating chemicals, dust, soaps, and detergents. These ointments contain silicone, an inert substance that repels water, oil, and other common irritants used in the home and in industry. This new type of protective cream is most helpful to victims of contact dermatitis of the hands and face.

There are several silicone preparations and some work better than others. Certain products may not protest against strong solvents or fuels that dissolve the silicone and greasy types will be of little use for those who handle paper or clothing.

To overcome these drawbacks, there is a special plasticized compound of silicone in a greaseless vanishing cream base. The substance is harmless so far as is known. An adequate barrier to irritating agents is afforded by using two or three times a day and the previous application need not be removed as additional layers offer further protection.

Many individuals are sensitive to a variety of materials and a rash appears whenever such irritants are touched. The problem is more serious when the offending agent is known but cannot be avoided because it is necessary to use it at work. When a physician or nurse, for example, is sensitive to penicillin or to latex in rubber gloves, the ability to work is limited.

The same can be said of a housewife who is sensitive to common soaps or detergents. In the past she resorted to rubber gloves or got someone else to do the dishes and cleaning chores. Silicone cream is a lifesaver for her hands. She applies the protective material two or three times a day and it forms a film like an invisible glove. Since the ointment is water and oil repellent, she can do her housework without its rubbing or washing off.

The preparations also are of value in allergies to agents commonly used in industry including leather, rubber, brass, hair, glue, fertilizer, paint, dye, food products, oils, and chemicals. The ointment is a boon to chronic dermatitis sufferers when the condition is aggravated by soap, detergents, water, cosmetics, wool, cotton, hair, and pollens.

There is a possibility that the silicone creams may prevent diaper rash and irritation of the skin surrounding a draining abscess or a colostomy. Theoretically, those who are sensitive to poison ivy ought to be able to touch the leaves with impunity after applying a silicone compound.

TOMORROW: Mild bouts of abdominal pain.

Pittsburgh Firm Commends City For Cooperation

With the announcement that preliminary construction work on Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's new plant here would be underway within a month, officers of the firm have expressed sincere thanks to the Cumberland community for cooperation extended to the firm during the past several months.

Speaking for the company, Harry B. Higgins, president, said that the cooperation of city and county officials of the civic groups and various individuals contributed substantially to the location of Pittsburgh Plate's $34,000,000 plant here.

Initial contact with the large manufacturing organization was established by Albert H. Hargreaves, director of Industrial Development, who serves in that capacity for the Chamber of Commerce, Industrial Development Department. The Chamber of Commerce, through Hargreaves, had been working with Pittsburgh Plate officials since the early months of 1953.

William C. Walsh, chairman of the industrial promotion committee, during the many months prior to the firm's committment to locate here, assisted Pittsburgh Plate in its contact with city and county agencies and departments. In addition, Judge Walsh handled the legal negotiations and the legal work pursuant to acquisition of the 603 acre plant site in the Mexico Farm area.

According to Higgins, Senator J. Glenn Beall, and all city and county officials, with whom Pittsburgh Plate had discussed the problems of plant location during the past year, have lent every possible assistance to assure location of the huge plant in this non-target and labor surplus area.

RC Bloodmobile Unit Will Visit Here On Monday

Cumberland will be out to maintain its record of having exceeded its quota of blood donations during the two visits made by the mobile unit of the Johnstown Regional Blood Center during the present fiscal year, when the unit comes here Monday.

Officials of the County Red Cross Chapter pointed out residents of this city contributed 155½ pints during the only visit made in the county during July, and then set a near record on August 3 when local donors gave 202½ pints. The quota for each visit is 150 pints, it was pointed out, and the one-day record is 217½ pints, made last February 2.

Mrs. Charles F. Helmrich, recruitment chairman, said the headquarters for the local visit Monday will be at the Eagles Home, North Mechanic Street, with the unit operating between noon and 6 p.m. On the following day, the unit will be in Frostburg at the home of Farrady Post 24, American Legion, for residents of that area.

Mrs. Helmrich has asked donors to keep their appointments if at all possible. If any person will be unable to, she said, such information should be phoned in at either 3556 or 4181 in order that a substitute can be notified.

It was "walk-in" donors last month who helped Cumberland to reach only the second time that the 200-pint mark was attained here since the monthly visits of the unit started in January 1952, Mrs. Helmrich stated. She explained that nearly half of the 307 persons scheduled to give blood on August 2 failed to show up for appointments. Walk-ins that day totaled 61, according to Mrs. Helmrich.

Mrs. Kathleen Todd and Mrs. J. C. Cobey are in charge of recruiting donors in the Frostburg area.

The executive committee voted to print PTA calendars in time for distribution next month.

Mrs. Ralph Isimfnger, chairman of the third annual fellowship dinner, said the event will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 29, at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Principal speaker for the event will be Wilson Raver, executive secretary of the State Teachers Association.

Mrs. Isiminger, who will appoint her own committee, said the program and principal speaker will be announced at a later date. The dinner, she explained, is for school personnel, educators, PTA leaders and other interested persons.

Council officers, besides Belt are Mrs. Lester McGill, president; Mrs. Isiminger, first vice president; Alfred Fritz, second vice president; Mrs. John Lower, recording secretary, and Robert Jones, corresponding secretary. A Fleet Separates Reds And Formosa

If Peiping issued those bombastic threats to "liquidate" Chiang Kai-shek to ascertain if the United States would fight if an attack were launched against Formosa, it should no longer have the slightest doubt on that score. If the Chinese Reds should attack Formosa, President Eisenhower said, they would have to run over the Seventh U. S. Fleet. The President made it clear that on this issue the American position is not subject to change.

It also appears that the President is confident Red China will not go so far as to try to change it by compulsion. If there had been any great concern on that score, he would have consulted his advisers on what to do if the Seventh Fleet should prove unable to stop a full-fledged assault from the mainland. Chances are that the talk from Peiping has been noted but that observers on the ground have not seen proof that the Reds mean business.

The President posed a question, however, when he said that in 1953 he had reaffirmed existing orders to the Seventh Fleet with respect to Formosa. Those original orders were former President Truman's and they directed the fleet to do two things—prevent a Nationalist attack on the mainland as well as defend the island from the Reds. President Eisenhower rescinded the limitation on Chiang's troops in January 1953, but let the other part stand.

It is possible that the Chinese Reds are merely talking tough to find out what U. S. intentions are. It may be that they fear an attack—or at least would like to make some gullible persons believe they do. Now they been told again that if they attack Formosa they will be met by force.

The next move is up to them.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Prophets Of Gloom

It is no novelty in any age or in any place that the older generations see the movement of life before them with weary eyes. Change is alway uncomfortable for those who have become accustomed to their own ways. Jeremiah and Amos relive each century but so does St. Francis of Assisi who found in life itself, whatever the circumstances, an everlasting goodness.

So, in our times, there are prophets of gloom and doom who serve well because they counter-balance the over-optimistic and the blindly hopeful who believe that change is an end in itself. The prophets of gloom and doom, to use a phrase, do not believe that change for the sake of change serves a logical design of living. The concept of the permanent revolution is grounded in biology, not in morals.

Our people do not divide themselves into conservatives, liberals and radicals—nor for that matter, do any other people. In the good, old days of the anarchism of Emma Goldman, there were those who insisted that as there could be no God, they would not accept conventional morality.

A friend of mine of those days wanted to marry a young lady of extraordinary charm. Although he called himself a philosophic anarchist, he insisted on making the girl an honest woman according to the mores of his New England ancestors. She, on the other hand, insisted that a lawful marriage would involve a repudiation of her noblest ideal, which was that she alone could determine what was right or wrong for herself. I listened to this argument for months in my youth. They lived happily out of wedlock and had some children. Then the issue arose that the children might not care to be illegitimate. It might embarrass the children when their playmates discovered the noblest ideals of the mother. They might write words in chalk. So the parents finally married in accordance with the law.

Life is too complicated for anyone to set himself up as the sole judge even of his own conduct. He might not get a job on that yardstick of propriety; therefore even radicals wear dinner jackets with black ties to establish that one might think along the lines of Karl Marx and dress according to the style of Fred Astaire.

The prophets of gloom and doom are often very cheerful persons who have read much history and know some anthropology and psychology and even economics and who have reached the conclusion that while the human race has tried all sorts of experiments in living, some methods have worked better than others. The New Deal is as old as Joseph in Egypt who conceived of a planned economy that ultimately made everybody poor; fascism was proposed by Saint-Simon at the time of the French Revolution but his followers called it the "New Christianity." Many of his followers became arch-capitalists, the bourgeoisie of the 1830s, just as the current followers of Marx and Bakunin have produced a slave state while seeking a perfect society in which government will wither away.

The prophets of gloom and doom know that government will not wither away, just as they know that if a government spends too much, its currency will depreciate and the reservoirs of private capital will dry up. They know that an intermediate step of pirvate monopoly precedes the era of government monopoly. While the so-called liberal believes that he is saving his world from revolution, actually he is laying down a red carpet to welcome the revolution; that is, the change-over from private ownership of wealth to government ownership of the means of production and distribution. What he overlooks is the essential nature of those means, namely, that they consist not only of machines but of human beings.

Therefore, while he believes that he is producing a greater freedom for all, he is actually laboring for a government control of the lives of the people. Lenin saw that clearly and removed the liberals as an obstacle to scientific socialism. The conservatives ran away. So Lenin had the field to himself and his permanent revolution. Liebknecht and Rosa Luxembourg in Germany were less successful because they themselves were of a liberal tradition. In the United States, the prophets of doom and gloom give ballast to a trend toward the permanent revolution in the hope that it may run itself out.

Sharpster Takes Uncle Sam To Tune Of $10,000 In Death Claim Payment

By Jack Anderson

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being Mr. Pearson's assistant, Jack Anderson, who is also author of the best-seller "McCarthy, The Man, The Senator, The Ism.")

WASHINGTON — Federal agents are combing the country for a sharpster who fleeced Uncle Sam out of $10,000 and disappeared without a trace.

Not since a con man first sold the Brooklyn bridge has such a slick job been pulled.

Here is the inside story:

Last March, the Veterans Administration received a routine insurance claim from George E. Scott of Abbeville, S. C. His son, Air Force Sgt. Johnnie M. Scott, had drowned, leaving $10,000 in GI insurance. The father was named beneficiary.

For three months, the claim was painstakingly investigated. Finally all the papers were found in order and a check for $10,000 was made out to George E. Scott.

However, it was not mailed to Scott's home in Abbeville, S. C., but to a rooming house at 701 19th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. — the address appearing on the claim.

Meanwhile, a stranger moved into the 19th Street rooming house and registered as George E. Scott. He minded his own business, asking no questions and answering none. All G-men know is that he was not the deceased sergeant's father.

Treasury Department Cashes Check

The mysterious stranger stayed long enough to receive one letter. It came from the Veterans Administration and contained the $10,000 check.

The morning this important mail arrived, he marched straight to the Treasury Department with the check and demanded payment. Treasury officials looked at the $10,000 figure and shook their heads. They couldn't cash it, they said. The check was too large. Why didn't he take it to his bank?

The man who called himself George E. Scott became indignant. He spoke bitterly of the sacrifices of fallen GIs and the way their beneficiaries were kicked around by the government. He threatened to take his complaint all the way to the secretary of the treasury.

Impressed, the officials wavered in their refusal, agreed to try again. They carried the check from office to office, finally got an O.K. to cash it.

The stranger produced papers identifying himself as George E. Scott. A few minutes later, he walked off with $10,000 in crisp, new Treasury bills. That's the last seen of the spurious George E. Scott or the crisp, new bills.

Agents quickly discovered that the original claim listed the correct Abbeville, S. C., address. Someone had pulled a last-minute switch, substituting the rooming house address.

In other words, the fast-buck artist must have had an inside accomplice, someone who knew exactly the right minute to switch vouchers, agents are convinced. They are investigating all possible suspects, giving lie detector tests to everyone who got near the vouchers. But so far, no clues.

Meanwhile, the veterans Administration and Treasury Department got into a squabble over who should make good the $10,000 payment to the real George E. Scott. VA claimed it was the Treasury's responsibility for cashing the check for the wrong man. But Treasury insisted that the VA should get stung for sending the check to the wrong address.

To settle the dispute, the General Accounting Office was called in and officially blamed the VA.

Modern Pioneers

A band of pioneers, packing typewriters, set out recently to recently to discover Mare Island — a long, low strip in California's San Pablo Bay. The purpose was to pave the way for any others who may want to help celebrate the Mare Island Naval Shipyard's 100th birthday.

The citizens of Vallejo, Calif., are throwing a $200,000 birthday party for the shipyard September 16-19.

The advance press expedition, assembled in New York, Washington and Chicago, crossed the country in a noisy, drafty, but above all, poky, four-engine transport plane. They missed the cross-country speed record by some 20 hours.

They flew so slow, in fact, that the New York Herald Tribune's veteran war correspondent, Homer Bigart, eyed the four engines skeptically and concluded: "Two must be decoys."

International News Service columnist Bob Considine almost missed the plane. He told a New York taxi driver: "Hurry to the airport! I've got to get to California in the worst way!"

After bouncing around in the air for several hours, he acknowledged: "I got my wish. I'm going to California in the worst way."

The press gang was greeted at Mare Island by Rear Admiral Fred Entwistle, shipyard commander, who told all about the yard and also disclosed the incidental intelligence that the martini got its name from near-by Martinez, Calif. Some went on to rediscover the island, others back to rediscover the martini.

Mare Island took its name from an amphibious mare that somehow was spilled into the brine and swam the treacherous tides to the small island. Local historians dispute whether she was dumped by a capsized raft or an upset ferryboat. In any case, the mare's determined owner, General Vallejo, found her on the island and promptly proclaimed it La Isla de la Yegua. Shortened to unromantic English, this means Mare Island.

The shipyard was founded September 16, 1854, by Commander David G. Farragut, one of the Navy's celebrated heroes. In the century following, the yard has built nearly 500 ships for the Navy, repaired thousands more and served the Pacific fleets through five wars.

Apathy Of Some Workers May Cause Defeat Of GOP

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The morale of precinct workers and local organizations of the Republican party in several states is shot to pieces, and this may prove a major cause contributing to the loss of Republican control of both houses of Congress in the elections next November.

Letters received by this correspondent from many parts of the country tell of influential Republican party workers, including some county chieftains, who have decided to be passive in the coming campaign. Some of them say they will not even vote.

Reasons for the apathy inside the Republican party vary. Some of it is due to a lack of interest on the part of President Eisenhower, and particularly of the White House staff, in the fortunes of the regular organizations. Some of it has arisen because the "Citizens for Eisenhower" movement is being interpreted as a threat to discipline regular Republicans who have conscientiously adopted views differing from some of those of the President.

Think Ike's a Captive

There is indeed a widespread feeling that, ever since the death of Senator Taft of Ohio, the so-called "liberal" wing has made a captive of President Eisenhower at the White House.

Perhaps the most serious cleavage in the Republican party arises from the mishandling of the McCarthy issue by the White House staff, whose influence is believed to be responsible for goading President Eisenhower into the position of seeking deliberately to punish the Wisconsin senator. For several months the direct and indirect attacks on Senator McCarthy at the President's press conferences have not gone unnoticed among Republicans who feel that the Wisconsin senator has performed a service to his country by arousing public interest with respect to Communist techniques and methods of infiltration in America.

Whatever the merits of the controversy over congressional committee "methods" and however much some persons have come to dislike the senator from Wisconsin as a result of the recent televised hearings, the practical aspect from a political viewpoint is that literally millions of Republican voters think Senator McCarthy now is being persecuted not for a few intemperate remarks and speeches made under provocation but because he fought the Communists in government.

These millions of voters include many hundreds of thousands who crossed over from the Democratic to the Republican party in several key states in the 1952 elections because they believed the Truman administration was "soft" on the Communist issue. They have by no means been convinced that they should go back to the Democratic party, but they probably will make their protest in November by not voting at all.

Candidates Will Suffer

The McCarthy issue is, of course, a troublesome one from any political viewpoint, and most candidates on the Republican side are fighting shy of any mention of it. But the Republican candidates will suffer just the same because of President Eisenhower's part in the fight. For the fact remains that Senator Flanders, a Republican, started the move for a formal "censure" by resolution of the Senate without the sanction of the Senate Republican Policy Committee. Then Mr. Eisenhower wrote a letter to Senator Flanders praising his speech on censure, and the latter has since made public references to that Eisenhower letter.

Now, just at a time when the energies of the Republicans might better be spent in campaigning against the Democrats, a committee of six senators is to hold extensive hearings which will keep the McCarthy issue in the headlines throughout September and perhaps October.

Senator Flanders started out with a demand for the removal of Senator McCarthy from his chairmanship of the Committee on Government Operations and of the Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, and then switched to a proposal for "censure." But it looks now as if the Vermont Senator is going to have his original wish fulfilled. For, according to the election outlook as of today, not only is Senator McCarthy going to lose his chairmanship in the coming elections, but so will all the other Republican chairmen of committees in both the House and the Senate.

At the grass roots the emotional reaction to the McCarthy issue is so strong that, even if the weakest of the percentage totals shown by the various Gallup Polls as to those who are on the McCarthy side is taken as an accurate measurement today of the pro-McCarthy sentiment It is enough to defeat the Republican party by the simple device of their not voting at the coming elections.

Consulted ADA

The feeling is bitter because the whole anti-McCarthy attack at this last session of Congress was spearheaded by the "Americans for Democratic Action"—which backed Stevenson in 1952—and by an offshoot of that organization known as "The National Committee for an Effective Congress." Senator Flanders admitted on the floor of the Senate that he had been consulting with that group of New Dealers in the preparation of his charges against Senator McCarthy.

All this is grist for the Democratic mill. Yet the Republican high command, beginning with the President and the White House staff, are doing little or nothing to heal the breach in the party, and the Democrats are doing everything they can to goad the Eisenhower staff to stir up more and more friction inside the party.

When the history of the Eisenhower administration is finally written, if there is such a thing as a medal for "distinguished political disservice," it might be awarded to the members of the White House staff and the administration officials who thought up the bright idea of a public fight with McCarthy by means of the Cohn-Schine trivialities. The anti-McCarthy controversy has served to dramatize the dissention inside the Republican party and to aggravate it to a point almost beyond repair. That's why the betting on the election of a Democratic Congress is growing every day to the point where any Republicans foolish enough to bet can demand big odds.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

We have been accused of fighting the St. Lawrence Waterway out to the Gaspe Peninsula and 11 miles at sea.

The project bobbed forth around 1932 disguised as a rider on the federal dog housing bill. The windfallers were taking their cream straight off the top.

We resisted the scheme knowing the gulf stream would be running hot gravy.

So the next year Franklin Delano Roosevelt came up with a bill filling in the St. Lawrence and making it a boulevard.

You remember my speech before the congressional committee of one to a telephone booth. I said, "What good is a harbor if you don't have to dredge it deeper?

This sentiment touched their patriotism to the quick. The quick is where you look into the manicurist's big blue eyes and say, "Ouch!"

Around 1941 there was some alien bidding on another harbor in Hawaii. But the St. Lawrence came up again in 1948 with stimulated shilling and accumulated conjecture. In order to get acquainted with the subject the committee went up the Erie Canal in a glass-bottomed boat.

The advantage of the St. Lawrence Waterway is it's a route to a storm at sea. Florence Chadwick doesn't care much either way. Flossie is used to the English Channel.

But Chicago is boosting the Nova Scotia short line hook, cork and sinker. It will make Chicago an ocean port with riparian privileges and deepwater demurrage.

The Megatons Did It

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

After nearly two years of backing and filling, the Eisenhower administration is finally showing signs of tackling the American air defense problem in a serious way.

The difficulty that has to be surmounted is the same that has caused the delay to date. An honest and adequate air defense program can eventually add from $5,000,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 annually to our military expenditures.

Most of the increase in outlay will come the second year. The increase can of course be slowed down by slowing down the program. It can be made less honest and less adequate, in short. But even a half-measure program is likely to increase the 1956 military budget—the election year budget—by around $2,500,000,000.

Thus the decision will not be painless under any circumstances; and it will be opposed by all those who give budgetary and fiscal convenience a higher priority than national security.

On the other hand, it is very hard to see how the obstructionist tactics that have worked so well until now, can continue to succeed hereafter. Nearly two years after the urgent need was first pointed out by the scientists of Project Lincoln, the Pentagon has at last set up a Continental Air Defense Command under Gen. Benjamin Chidlaw. The mere existence of such a command, specifically charged with specific responsibility for a life and death mission, will inevitably generate an almost irresistible demand for the tools that are needed for the job.

Study Going Ahead

It has not been announced, but the National Security Council in effect prepared to answer this future demand even before the Continental Air Defense Command was set up. A new special commission composed of high officials and outside experts was named by the NSC, to study the nation's air defense requirements and report back this autumn.

This study has been going forward for some time in an altogether new atmosphere. There is none of the sleazy, interested outcry against "Maginot Line thinking" that was heard when an effective American air defense system was first proposed in the Lincln report of two years ago. There is none of the defeatist talk, either, about an effective air defense being an impossible long-hair dream.

The brilliant success of Project Corrode has proven the value of the Lincoln scientists' designs for new early warning devices. Work has already started on the so-called McGill Warning Line, running across northern Canada. After Corrode, there is growing support for the once-ridiculed Lincoln proposal of a Far North Line, on the extreme continental fringe. And air-borne early warning devices have been developed with such success, that the planners even talk of detecting an attacking force almost at the moment of take-off, halfway 'round the world.

Interception Plans Progressing

By the same token, important progress has been made with the other half of the air defense problem—the weapons of interception without which the best warning is useless.

Another of the Lincoln ideas that was once ridiculed and is now beginning to find acceptance is the use of "Hunter-Killer" aircraft. These will be planes of considerable size and range, perhaps even bombers. They will be able to exploit an early warning better than a short-range fighter. And they will be equipped with air-to-air guided missiles, probably with atomic warheads, to increase certainty of a kill.

The original Lincoln program, which was waiting for the Eisenhower administration when it took office, had a maximum kill-rate of 80 per cent of all attacking aircraft as its supposedly over-ambitious target.

The present NSC commission is the fifth or sixth such body to review the Lincoln findings. In addition, a detailed technical review is being carried on, on behalf of the new NSC commission, by the Rand Corporation and the Johns Hopkins University contractors of the Army's office of research on operations. And instead of being lowered, the air defense target has now been increased to a kill-rate of no less than 90 per cent of all attacking aircraft.

If nine out of ten attackers can be brought down in the "remote air battle," this country may be damaged, but it will be neither crippled nor destroyed by A-bomb or even H-bomb attack. That is the incalculable increase of security which is now promised, providing the Eisenhower administration's policymakers are willing to take the budgetary consequences.

Silicone Creams Available For Protection Of Skin

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Creams are available now to protect the skin from irritating chemicals, dust, soaps, and detergents. These ointments contain silicone, an inert substance that repels water, oil, and other common irritants used in the home and in industry. This new type of protective cream is most helpful to victims of contact dermatitis of the hands and face.

There are several silicone preparations and some work better than others. Certain products may not protest against strong solvents or fuels that dissolve the silicone and greasy types will be of little use for those who handle paper or clothing.

To overcome these drawbacks, there is a special plasticized compound of silicone in a greaseless vanishing cream base. The substance is harmless so far as is known. An adequate barrier to irritating agents is afforded by using two or three times a day and the previous application need not be removed as additional layers offer further protection.

Many individuals are sensitive to a variety of materials and a rash appears whenever such irritants are touched. The problem is more serious when the offending agent is known but cannot be avoided because it is necessary to use it at work. When a physician or nurse, for example, is sensitive to penicillin or to latex in rubber gloves, the ability to work is limited.

The same can be said of a housewife who is sensitive to common soaps or detergents. In the past she resorted to rubber gloves or got someone else to do the dishes and cleaning chores. Silicone cream is a lifesaver for her hands. She applies the protective material two or three times a day and it forms a film like an invisible glove. Since the ointment is water and oil repellent, she can do her housework without its rubbing or washing off.

The preparations also are of value in allergies to agents commonly used in industry including leather, rubber, brass, hair, glue, fertilizer, paint, dye, food products, oils, and chemicals. The ointment is a boon to chronic dermatitis sufferers when the condition is aggravated by soap, detergents, water, cosmetics, wool, cotton, hair, and pollens.

There is a possibility that the silicone creams may prevent diaper rash and irritation of the skin surrounding a draining abscess or a colostomy. Theoretically, those who are sensitive to poison ivy ought to be able to touch the leaves with impunity after applying a silicone compound.

TOMORROW: Mild bouts of abdominal pain.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

John Malone is threatening to compile a volume called "Sexual Behavior of Vegetables," obviously hoping to cut in on the lucrative Kinsey market. He promises to tell just what makes a Brussels sprout, a celery stalk, and a radish repeat. He will show how a potato first has its eyes opened, and why luscious grapes turn into withered raisins. The frontispiece will show a carrot in the raw. Obviously, this daring tome is headed for the best-seller lists!

Two sound-effects men at Columbia Broadcasting engaged in a furious hassle in the main entrance hall the other evening. It seems they were stealing each other's thunder.

Have you heard about the termite (read this one aloud and with the proper intonation) who went into a saloon and asked, "Is the bar tender here?"

For Variety Serve Cold Cuts Hot

Speed up meal preparations with ready-to serve meats. But instead of serving them chilled, serve them hot.

For instance, broil thick slices of liver sausage. Arrange slices on broiler rack so that the top surface is two to three inches from the heat. Then brush slices generously with melted butter or margarine. Brown on top side, then turn and brown on the second side. Heat tomato halves, sprinkled with grated cheese, along with the meat for an excellent accompaniment.

Liver sausage and other ready-to-serve meats may be heated on top of the range, too. Place a small amount of fat in a frying-pan, then brown the slices on both sides. Turn them frequently for even cooking.. For a third way, heat ready-to-serve meats with other foods in a casserole. Spiced ham or cervelat topping scalloped potatoes, green beans au gratin or Spanish rice provide hearty and satisfying servings.

Versatile Canned Ham

The honeymoon is .ot over if, when your husband phones at the end of a sweltering day to say there'll be unexpected company for dinner, you pleasantly agree it's a fine idea! For such emergencies, a canned ham in the refrigerator will always come in handy.

For a company meal, heat the ham in a 325°F. oven 15 to 20 minutes per pound. (Top with your favorite glaze the last half-hour.) Or slice cold and serve with chilled potato salad and juicy tomato wedges.

After the company dinner, there's usually plenty of ham — even from a medium size one—to supply one or two more meals for the family.

Meal number 1 might consist of fried thinly sliced ham accompanied by butter-browned pineapple rings.

For a second meal, make ham a la king from the diced leftover ham. To the ham and white sauce, add pre-cooked diced green pepper, fried mushrooms and diced pimientos. Serve in patty shells or on crisp fried canned noodles.

Summer Main Dish

It's a well known rule that summer menus always should include one hot food.

Sometimes a casserole dish for dinner hits the spot. In this family type casserole, thrifty ground beef is baked in layers with onion, celery, peas and cream of mushroom soup. Crushed potato chips makes a crispy topping.

Ground Beef Crunch Casserole

1 pound ground beef; ¼ cup finely chopped onion; 1 teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1 No. 303 can peas (2 cups); 1 cup diced celery; 1 can cream of mushroom soup; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; ⅓ cup milk; 1 cup crushed potato chips.

Brown ground beef in 2 tablespoons hot fat. Add onion and cook until soft. Add salt and pepper. In a 1½ quart casserole, alternate layers of ground beef, drained peas and celery. Combine soup, Worcestershire sauce and milk; pour over contents of casserole, lifting up layers with a fork so soup will run through. Top with potato chips and bake at 350°F. for 30 minutes. 4 servings.

Here's a New Idea

An 'Office' for Your Kitchen!

This kitchen "office," styled from steel cabinets, is a perfect answer to the busy housewife's need for a handy place to figure her budget, plan meals, telephone, and write letters. The corner desk arrangement is fashioned from steel base cabinets with a large counter top and provides plenty of work space as well as drawers for storing recipe and budget files and writing materials. Cook books also can be kept in the nearby floor-to-ceiling steel utility cabinet or in the attractive wall cabinets above the desk. Because of the adaptability of steel cabinets, virtually any kitchen "office" layout is possible simply by utilizing standard cabinet units and a counter styling to fit space requirements.

Canned Meats Supply Protein Summer-Style

Even when hot weather takes the starch out of the cook's desire to cook and the zest away from appetites, meals need to be well- balanced. Nutrition experts agree that meats are important in each day's menu for body-building protein, their minerals and B vitamins.

Meats in cans are especially adaptable to easy summer cooking because they are already cooked, and can be served with a minimum of heating. Many can be served chilled. From a nutritional point of view they offer the same high quality protein and other food values of home-prepared meats. Since there is no waste, one pound of these meats will serve four to six persons.

So many dishes can be prepared in the summer with canned meats that will stimulate the lagging appetite. Here are two hearty, cool salad suggestions: diced potatoes and vegetables with the zestful flavor of canned frankfurters, and luncheon meat with pineapple and shredded cabbage.

Frankfurter-Summer Salad

1 can frankfurters, cut in ¼-inch slices; I head lettuce, shredded; 1 green pepper, cut in strips; 2 stalks celery, diced; ⅛ pound Swiss cheese,cut in strips; 3 cooked potatoes, diced; 1 medium onion, sliced; French dressing; ¼ teaspoon Tabasco; 2 tomatoes, cut in eighths.

Combine frankfurters, lettuce, green pepper, celery, cheese, potatoes and onions. Toss together lightly with French dressing seasoned with Tabasco. Top salad with tomato wedges. YIELD: 8 servings.

Luncheon Meat-Hawaiian Slaw

1 12-ounce can luncheon meat*; 1 tablespoon vinegar; 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish; 1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing; 3 cups shredded cabbage; 1 cup diced celery; ¼ cup minced green pepper; 2 cups cubed fresh pineapple or 1 No. 2 can pineapple, drained and cubed.

Cut luncheon meat into ¼-inch wide strips. Combine vinegar and horseradish with mayonnaise. Add to luncheon meat and remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Serve in lettuce-lined salad bowl. 6 servings.

No old-fashioned heaviness!

Genuine mayonnaise—but what a difference! Light . . . light . . . LIGHT! Taste it—it's light. Eat all you want—it's light! The old-fashioned oily heaviness is gone! Delicate egg whites . . . foamy egg yolks. Salad oil so light and thin it fluffs away—you taste the richness, but never the oil! Mrs. Filbert's own idea. Eat some today. Only a woman could make it taste so good!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Refrigerator Pudding Has A Chocolate Pecan Topping

This pudding is made in a "shake" and is stored in the refrigerator—ready and waiting for a snack, a meal or unexpected guests.

A creamy vanilla rice pudding is topped with a quick chocolate pecan topping and each serving is lavished with whipped cream.

Ingredients: 1 package (3 oz.) vanilla flavor pudding; 2 ½ cups milk; 3 cups hot cooked white rice; 2 ½ teaspoons vanilla; 3 tablespoons milk; ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate bits; ⅓ cup chopped pecans; 1 cup whipping cream, chilled; 1 tablesoon beet or cane sugar.

Quick method for cooking fluffy white rice: To make 3 heaping cups of white, fluffy perfectly cooked rice:

1. Put 1 cup uncooked white rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.

2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid or stir rice while it is cooking.

3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Turn heat off. The rice is now ready to use. However, leave the cover on the saucepan to keep the rice warm if you are not ready to use it immediately.

For extra fluffy, tender separate grains — allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes—with heat off, but without removing lid.

Method: Empty vanilla pudding into a saucepan. Gradually add the 2 ½ cups milk, stirring to keep mixture smooth. Add the hot cooked rice. Cook over a medium heat, stirring, for about 5 minutes or until the pudding thickens and bubbles begin to break around the edges of the saucepan. Pour the pudding into a greased refrigerator tray. Cool slightly at room temperature. While pudding is cooling, place the 3 tablespoons milk in a saucepan. Add the chocolate bits and cook over a low heat, stirring, until the chocolate melts. Spread the chocolate over the top of the pudding. Sprinkle the pecans over the chocolate. Cover and chill until ready to serve. To serve, whip cream and fold in sugar. Serve over squares of the pudding.

This recipe makes 8 servings.

Orange Sauce

Team lamb chops with a tasty orange sauce. Brown lamb shoulder chops, then add ½ cup of orange juice. Place an orange slice on each chop, cover closely and cook slowly for 45 minutes. Remove chops from pan. Blend 1 tablespoon of flour with ½ cup water to make a smooth paste. Add to meat liquid in frying-pan and boil for 3 minutes. Serve orange sauce over chops.

For Variety Serve Cold Cuts Hot

Speed up meal preparations with ready-to serve meats. But instead of serving them chilled, serve them hot.

For instance, broil thick slices of liver sausage. Arrange slices on broiler rack so that the top surface is two to three inches from the heat. Then brush slices generously with melted butter or margarine. Brown on top side, then turn and brown on the second side. Heat tomato halves, sprinkled with grated cheese, along with the meat for an excellent accompaniment.

Liver sausage and other ready-to-serve meats may be heated on top of the range, too. Place a small amount of fat in a frying-pan, then brown the slices on both sides. Turn them frequently for even cooking.. For a third way, heat ready-to-serve meats with other foods in a casserole. Spiced ham or cervelat topping scalloped potatoes, green beans au gratin or Spanish rice provide hearty and satisfying servings.

Versatile Canned Ham

The honeymoon is .ot over if, when your husband phones at the end of a sweltering day to say there'll be unexpected company for dinner, you pleasantly agree it's a fine idea! For such emergencies, a canned ham in the refrigerator will always come in handy.

For a company meal, heat the ham in a 325°F. oven 15 to 20 minutes per pound. (Top with your favorite glaze the last half-hour.) Or slice cold and serve with chilled potato salad and juicy tomato wedges.

After the company dinner, there's usually plenty of ham — even from a medium size one—to supply one or two more meals for the family.

Meal number 1 might consist of fried thinly sliced ham accompanied by butter-browned pineapple rings.

For a second meal, make ham a la king from the diced leftover ham. To the ham and white sauce, add pre-cooked diced green pepper, fried mushrooms and diced pimientos. Serve in patty shells or on crisp fried canned noodles.

Summer Main Dish

It's a well known rule that summer menus always should include one hot food.

Sometimes a casserole dish for dinner hits the spot. In this family type casserole, thrifty ground beef is baked in layers with onion, celery, peas and cream of mushroom soup. Crushed potato chips makes a crispy topping.

Ground Beef Crunch Casserole

1 pound ground beef; ¼ cup finely chopped onion; 1 teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; 1 No. 303 can peas (2 cups); 1 cup diced celery; 1 can cream of mushroom soup; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; ⅓ cup milk; 1 cup crushed potato chips.

Brown ground beef in 2 tablespoons hot fat. Add onion and cook until soft. Add salt and pepper. In a 4½ quart casserole, alternate layers of ground beef, drained peas and celery. Combine soup, Worcestershire sauce and milk; pour over contents of casserole, lifting up layers with a fork so soup will run through. Top with potato chips and bake at 350°F. for 30 minutes. 4 servings.

An 'Office' for Your Kitchen!

This kitchen "office," styled from steel cabinets, is a perfect answer to the busy housewife's need for a handy place to figure her budget, plan meals, telephone, and write letters. The corner desk arrangement is fashioned from steel base cabinets with a large counter top and provides plenty of work space as well as drawers for storing recipe and budget files and writing materials. Cook books also can be kept in the nearby floor-to-ceiling steel utility cabinet or in the attractive wall cabinets above the desk. Because of the adaptability of steel cabinets, virtually any kitchen "office" layout is possible simply by utilizing standard cabinet units and a counter styling to fit space requirements.

Canned Meats Supply Protein Summer-Style

Even when hot weather takes the starch out of the cook's desire to cook and the zest away from appetites, meals need to be well- balanced. Nutrition experts agree that meats are important in each day's menu for body-building protein, their minerals and B vitamins.

Meats in cans are especially adaptable to easy summer cooking because they are already cooked, and can be served with a minimum of heating. Many can be served chilled. From a nutritional point of view they offer the same high quality protein and other food values of home-prepared meats. Since there is no waste, one pound of these meats will serve four to six persons.

So many dishes can be prepared in the summer with canned meats that will stimulate the lagging appetite. Here are two hearty, cool salad suggestions: diced potatoes and vegetables with the zestful flavor of canned frankfurters, and luncheon meat with pineapple and shredded cabbage.

Frankfurter-Summer Salad

1 can frankfurters, cut in ¼-inch slices; 1 head lettuce, shredded; 1 green pepper, cut in strips; 2 stalks celery, diced; ⅛ pound Swiss cheese,cut in strips; 3 cooked potatoes, diced; 1 medium onion, sliced; French dressing; ¼ teaspoon Tabasco; 2 tomatoes, cut in eighths.

Combine frankfurters, lettuce, green pepper, celery, cheese, potatoes and onions. Toss together lightly with French dressing seasoned with Tabasco. Top salad with tomato wedges. YIELD: 8 servings.

Luncheon Meat-Hawaiian Slaw

1 12-ounce can luncheon meat*; 1 tablespoon vinegar; 1 teaspoon prepared horseradish; 1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing; 3 cups shredded cabbage; 1 cup diced celery; ¼ cup minced green pepper; 2 cups cubed fresh pineapple or 1 No. 2 can pineapple, drained and cubed.

Cut luncheon meat into ¼-inch wide strips. Combine vinegar and horseradish with mayonnaise. Add to luncheon meat and remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Serve in lettuce-lined salad bowl. 6 servings.

College life is more enjoyable if you are, and if you have, a pleasant roommate.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Book learning is only one of the things a girl acquires at college. Your personality grows, just as your store of knowledge expands. One decided influence on personality growth is — a roomate.

Many girls sign up for single rooms in a college dormitory, thinking that "one's company, two's a crowd" when there's studying to be done. Any career girl with school years just behind her will tell you that such single-minded thinking is often a mistake. Getting along with a roommate is helpful education for the give-and-take of any later career—marriage included.

There are ways and means of being a preferred roommate, just as there are rules for playing any game that involves two people. You're the center of your own world, naturally, but you're not the center of the whole wide world. Your roommate has a right to her ideas and her possessions, too.

Rule One

Your first rule should be that of share and share alike. You put your belongings away. She takes care of hers, and you combine efforts to keep your room shipshape.

The share-alike rule sometimes needs modification. No fair "taking over" your roommate's best beau, or wearing her clothes (even if they're exactly your size) unless you've reached an agreement in advance. Should you decide that borrowing is a reasonable way to enlarge both your wardrobe and hers, see that all things—from books to boots—are returned in good condition.

Like jazz? How about your roommate? If she's sold on classical music, she'll appreciate your sparing her day-long jazz concerts. If she's exposed to it once in a while, maybe you'll convince her she likes it, and perhaps she'll have you liking the classics. You'll broaden your thinking by learning to accept, not to sneer at others' tastes.

That's exhibiting your own good nature, and not taking advantage of another's. Try not to take advantage — ever. Your roommate may not object, vocally, to your dressing noisily in the morning before she's awake, to your studying late with all the lights gleaming, to your commandeering more than your share of the closet space... but these little matters can add up to a major annoyance in no time at all.

Good Sense

Mind your manners, your tongue and your temper. Don't betray secrets or burden a roommate with too many of your own. Don't make yourself and your roommate a closed corporation. Where one goes, it isn't always necessary that the other go, too. The larger your circle of friends, the better.

Put it this way: The most congenial roommates are friends, but not "best" friends; they're individual personalities, but not selfishly individual.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE" — Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! This "P.S." gives you complete information on handling lines to your own best advantage. Fun For Early Morn

Make breakfast time picnic time. Early morning outings can be so much fun. This is an ideal way to avoid crowds that come later in the day and to enjoy the cooling morning breezes.

For this morning meal what could be better than the time-favored ham or bacon and eggs. Take along your old frying-pan for preparing the main course. Have an assortment of fresh fruits or fruit juice for the breakfasters while the meat and the eggs are cooking. Have slices of bread to toast over the open fire, or sweet rolls wrapped in aluminum foil ready to heat. Of course, a big pot of coffee is a must.

Here's a suggestion. Have as much of your picnic basket as possible packed the night before. Come morning all you need do is slip the fruit or juice and the bacon and eggs in the basket and you're off to the picnic spot.

Five Ideas For Tasty Meat Loaves

Meat loaves mean good eating any time. But they make an especially good choice for summer days. Five suggestions for varying meat loaves with little effort are:

(1) Prepare a sauce topped loaf. In the bottom of the loaf pan spread catchup, a barbecue sauce, or mustard sauce. Then mold the meat mixture over it and bake. When unmolded you have a ready-made sauce.

(2) Or make a design in the bottom of the pan using olive slices, pickles, hard-cooked eggs, pimiento or green pepper. Mold the meat mixture over the design and bake.

(3) Look to your cupboard for different pans in which to bake the loaf—a square pan, allowing for square servings of the meat loaf. Or a ring mold, serving the center filled with creamed peas or succotash. Or bake meat mixture in individual muffin pans or shape into individual loaves and bake in a shallow pan for a crisp crust.

(4) Prepare a plain meat loaf and serve with a sauce. Suggested are cheese, olive, tomato, horseradish, mustard and pimiento sauces.

(5) Use different combinations of meat for your loaf such as ground beef and pork or ham; beef, veal and ham; veal and pork; ham and pork.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Refrigerator Pudding Has A Chocolate Pecan Topping

This pudding is made in a "shake" and is stored in the refrigerator—ready and waiting for a snack, a meal or unexpected guests.

A creamy vanilla rice pudding is topped with a quick chocolate pecan topping and each serving is lavished with whipped cream.

Ingredients: 1 package (3 oz.) vanilla flavor pudding; 2 ½ cups milk; 3 cups hot cooked white rice; 2 ½ teaspoons vanilla; 3 tablespoons milk; ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate bits; ½ cup chopped pecans; 1 cup whipping cream, chilled; 1 tablesoon beet or cane sugar.

Quick method for cooking fluffy white rice: To make 3 heaping cups of white, fluffy perfectly cooked rice:

1. Put 1 cup uncooked white rice, 2 cups cold water and 1 teaspoon salt into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil.

2. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with a lid. Do not remove lid or stir rice while it is cooking.

3. Leave saucepan over this low heat for 14 minutes. Turn heat off. The rice is now ready to use. However, leave the cover on the saucepan to keep the rice warm if you are not ready to use it immediately.

For extra fluffy, tender separate grains — allow the rice to steam for an additional 10 minutes—with heat off, but without removing lid.

Method: Empty vanilla pudding into a saucepan. Gradually add the 2 ½ cups milk, stirring to keep mixture smooth. Add the hot cooked rice. Cook over a medium heat, stirring, for about 5 minutes or until the pudding thickens and bubbles begin to break around the edges of the saucepan. Pour the pudding into a greased refrigerator tray. Cool slightly at room temperature. While pudding is cooling, place the 3 tablespoons milk in a saucepan. Add the chocolate bits and cook over a low heat, stirring, until the chocolate melts. Spread the chocolate over the top of the pudding. Sprinkle the pecans over the chocolate. Cover and chill until ready to serve. To serve, whip cream and fold in sugar. Serve over squares of the pudding.

This recipe makes 8 servings.

Orange Sauce

Team lamb chops with a tasty orange sauce. Brown lamb shoulder chops, then add ½ cup of orange juice. Place an orange slice on each chop, cover closely and cook slowly for 45 minutes. Remove chops from pan. Blend 1 tablespoon of flour with ½ cup water to make a smooth paste. Add to meat liquid in frying-pan and boil for 3 minutes. Serve orange sauce over chops.

College life is more enjoyable if you are, and if you have, a pleasant roommate.

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Book learning is only one of the things a girl acquires at college. Your personality grows, just as your store of knowledge expands. One decided influence on personality growth is — a roomate.

Many girls sign up for single rooms in a college dormitory, thinking that "one's company, two's a crowd" when there's studying to be done. Any career girl with school years just behind her will tell you that such single-minded thinking is often a mistake. Getting along with a roommate is helpful education for the give-and-take of any later career—marriage included.

There are ways and means of being a preferred roommate, just as there are rules for playing any game that involves two people. You're the center of your own world, naturally, but you're not the center of the whole wide world. Your roommate has a right to her ideas and her possessions, too.

Rule One

Your first rule should be that of share and share alike. You put your belongings away. She takes care of hers, and you combine efforts to keep your room shipshape.

The share-alike rule sometimes needs modification. No fair "taking over" your roommate's best beau, or wearing her clothes (even if they're exactly your size) unless you've reached an agreement in advance. Should you decide that borrowing is a reasonable way to enlarge both your wardrobe and hers, see that all things—from books to boots—are returned in good condition.

Like jazz? How about your roommate? If she's sold on classical music, she'll appreciate your sparing her day-long jazz concerts. If she's exposed to it once in a while, maybe you'll convince her she likes it, and perhaps she'll have you liking the classics. You'll broaden your thinking by learning to accept, not to sneer at others' tastes.

That's exhibiting your own good nature, and not taking advantage of another's. Try not to take advantage — ever. Your roommate may not object, vocally, to your dressing noisily in the morning before she's awake, to your studying late with all the lights gleaming, to your commandeering more than your share of the closet space... but these little matters can add up to a major annoyance in no time at all.

Good Sense

Mind your manners, your tongue and your temper. Don't betray secrets or burden a roommate with too many of your own. Don't make yourself and your roommate a closed corporation. Where one goes, it isn't always necessary that the other go, too. The larger your circle of friends, the better.

Put it this way: The most congenial roommates are friends, but not "best" friends; they're individual personalities, but not selfishly individual.

"WHAT'S YOUR LINE" — Horizontal, vertical and diagonal lines make a world of difference in what clothing will do for (or to) your figure! This "P.S." gives you complete information on handling lines to your own best advantage. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed return envelope for a copy of WHAT'S YOUR LINE?

Fun For Early Morn

Make breakfast time picnic time. Early morning outings can be so much fun. This is an ideal way to avoid crowds that come later in the day and to enjoy the cooling morning breezes.

For this morning meal what could be better than the time-favored ham or bacon and eggs. Take along your old frying-pan for preparing the main course. Have an assortment of fresh fruits or fruit juice for the breakfasters while the meat and the eggs are cooking. Have slices of bread to toast over the open fire, or sweet rolls wrapped in aluminum foil ready to heat. Of course, a big pot of coffee is a must.

Here's a suggestion. Have as much of your picnic basket as possible packed the night before. Come morning all you need do is slip the fruit or juice and the bacon and eggs in the basket and you're off to the picnic spot.

Five Ideas For Tasty Meat Loaves

Meat loaves mean good eating any time. But they make an especially good choice for summer days. Five suggestions for varying meat loaves with little effort are:

(1) Prepare a sauce topped loaf. In the bottom of the loaf pan spread catchup, a barbecue sauce, or mustard sauce. Then mold the meat mixture over it and bake. When unmolded you have a ready-made sauce.

(2) Or make a design in the bottom of the pan using olive slices, pickles, hard-cooked eggs, pimiento or green pepper. Mold the meat mixture over the design and bake.

(3) Look to your cupboard for different pans in which to bake the loaf—a square pan, allowing for square servings of the meat loaf. Or a ring mold, serving the center filled with creamed peas or succotash. Or bake meat mixture in individual muffin pans or shape into individual loaves and bake in a shallow pan for a crisp crust.

(4) Prepare a plain meat loaf and serve with a sauce. Suggested are cheese, olive, tomato, horseradish, mustard and pimiento sauces.

(5) Use different combinations of meat for your loaf such as ground beef and pork or ham; beef, veal and ham; veal and pork; ham and pork.

Meat Cut Ideas For Only Two

With a wise selection of meat, homemakers who cook for two can easily plan interesting menus without fear of mealtime monotony. Here are some meat suggestions.

First, choose a pork loin roast for preparing two meals. When you purchase the roast, ask your meat retailer to loosen the chine bone from the rib side and remove. With this bone loosened, chops for the first meal can be easily cut from one end, leaving a nice roast for the second meal.

A thick arm bone pot-roast is another good buy when cooking for two. For one meal, cut cubes from the round end for a summer one-dish stew. Then divide the remaining portion in half. Use one section for braising as a pot-roast. The other half may be cut into individual servings for Swiss or country-fried steak.

Another small roast for the small family is a smoked shoulder butt. After simmering in water to cover until nearly tender, remove to a roasting pan and top with a glaze. Heat in a moderate oven for 30 minutes to set the glaze and to finish cooking the meat. After the first serving, the meat may be sliced for a cold meat tray or it is always a wonderful find for the refrigerator raider.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By Lichty

"It wasn't easy! . . . He had some crazy idea that every girl he met was looking for a husband . . ."

Go Ahead And Plan Picnic And Don't Fuss If It Rains

If there's one thing a picnic should be—it's carefree. And the other thing is delicious. So go right ahead and plan the food, without keeping an anxious eye cocked at the sky, and an ear tuned to the radio.

Yes, I know you're busy, and you hate to spend time cooking for a picnic unless you're really going to have it. The answer is, have it anyhow, regardless of weather! One of the most successful picnics we know of was held in a garage out in back of the house, while the rain pelted on the roof. Afterwards they had a square dance, and so much fun they wondered if it really paid to have picnics in the open.

Most people's idea of super delicious picnic food is fried chicken. It's really de luxe picnic fare. Deep fry it at home to a rich crunchy brown, and pack it away to be eaten cold when you reach the picnic site. Then you have time to enjoy yourself without worrying about gathering wood for a fire and burning the food.

Here is a recipe for Fried Chicken dipped in batter — real Southern fashion — that you'll want to clip for your recipe file. It's something worth crowing about. And when you eat it, you won't care if you're sitting on a grassy knoll under a smiling sky or on a cushion plunked on the floor of a familiar living room.

Fried Chicken De Luxe

Makes 4 servings

1 frying chicken cut in pieces; 1 egg; ⅞ cup milk; 3 tablespoons melted Crisco; 1 cup sifted flour; ½ teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons sugar; Crisco for deep frying.

Steam chicken 20 to 25 minutes. Beat egg with milk and add melted shortening. Add sifted dry ingredients. Beat until smooth. Salt chicken and then dip into batter. Fry in deep shortening heated to 365°F. (or until an inch cube of bread browns in 60 seconds). Fry until golden brown, about 7 to 10 minutes.

Timesaving Beef Cuts

Quick-to-prepare meats are pets of the summer cook. Succulent steaks and juicy ground beef patties are as much a part of summer living as are picnics and beach parties.

When you're shopping for meats which can be quickly prepared, remember that many of the thriftiest meat buys these days are in beef. Ground beef, for example, is famous for its economy as well as its ease of preparation. Shape it into patties and broil, or make up your favorite meat loaf mixture and bake it in muffin tins or custard cups to shorten cooking time.

Beef steaks—porterhouse, T-bone, rib, sirloin, club and minute steaks—also are happy solutions to the dinner-in-a-hurry problem. Just remember that round steak is not one of the "quickie" beef cuts; it requires long, slow cooking in moist heat.

Meat Cut Ideas For Only Two

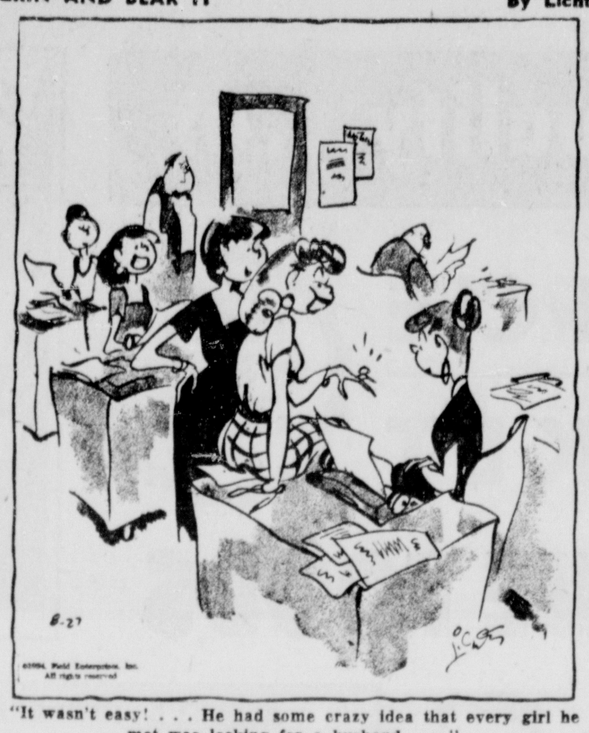
With a wise selection of meat, homemakers who cook for two can easily plan interesting menus without fear of mealtime monotony. Here are some meat suggestions.

First, choose a pork loin roast for preparing two meals. When you purchase the roast, ask your meat retailer to loosen the chine bone from the rib side and remove. With this bone loosened, chops for the first meal can be easily cut from one end, leaving a nice roast for the second meal.

A thick arm bone pot-roast is another good buy when cooking for two. For one meal, cut cubes from the round end for a summer one-dish stew. Then divide the remaining portion in half. Use one section for braising as a pot-roast. The other half may be cut into individual servings for Swiss or country-fried steak.

Another small roast for the small family is a smoked shoulder butt. After simmering in water to cover until nearly tender, remove to a roasting pan and top with a glaze. Heat in a moderate oven for 30 minutes to set the glaze and to finish cooking the meat. After the first serving, the meat may be sliced for a cold meat tray or it is always a wonderful find for the refrigerator raider.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By Lichty



"It wasn't easy! . . . He had some crazy idea that every girl he met was looking for a husband . . ."

Go Ahead And Plan Picnic And Don't Fuss If It Rains

If there's one thing a picnic should be—it's carefree. And the other thing is delicious. So go right ahead and plan the food, without keeping an anxious eye cocked at the sky, and an ear tuned to the radio.

Yes, I know you're busy, and you hate to spend time cooking for a picnic unless you're really going to have it. The answer is, have it anyhow, regardless of weather! One of the most successful picnics we know of was held in a garage out in back of the house, while the rain pelted on the roof. Afterwards they had a square dance, and so much fun they wondered if it really paid to have picnics in the open.

Most people's idea of super delicious picnic food is fried chicken. It's really de luxe picnic fare. Deep fry it at home to a rich crunchy brown, and pack it away to be eaten cold when you reach the picnic site. Then you have time to enjoy yourself without worrying about gathering wood for a fire and burning the food.

Here is a recipe for Fried Chicken dipped in batter — real Southern fashion — that you'll want to clip for your recipe file. It's something worth crowing about. And when you eat it, you won't care if you're sitting on a grassy knoll under a smiling sky . . . or on a cushion plunked on the floor of a familiar living room.

Fried Chicken De Luxe

Makes 4 servings

1 frying chicken cut in pieces; 1 egg; ⅞ cup milk; 3 tablespoons melted Crisco; 1 cup sifted flour; ¼ teaspoon salt; 2 teaspoons sugar; Crisco for deep frying.

Steam chicken 20 to 25 minutes. Beat egg with milk and add melted shortening. Add sifted dry ingredients. Beat until smooth. Salt chicken and then dip into batter. Fry in deep shortening heated to 365°F. (or until an inch cube of bread browns in 60 seconds). Fry until golden brown, about 7 to 10 minutes.

Timesaving Beef Cuts

Quick-to-prepare meats are pets of the summer cook. Succulent steaks and juicy ground beef patties are as much a part of summer living as are picnics and beach parties.

When you're shopping for meats which can be quickly prepared, remember that many of the thriftiest meat buys these days are in beef. Ground beef, for example, is famous for its economy as well as its ease of preparation. Shape it into patties and broil, or make up your favorite meat loaf mixture and bake it in muffin tins or custard cups to shorten cooking time.

Beef steaks—porterhouse, T-bone, rib,sirloin, club and minute steaks—also are happy solutions to the dinner-in-a-hurry problem. Just remember that round steak is not one of the "quickie" beef cuts; it requires long, slow cooking in moist heat.

Education Board Backs Capital Outlays For Project At Romney

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 26 (AP)—The State Board of Education recommended today that the 1955 Legislature appropriate $4,750,000 for new buildings and other capital expenditures at nine colleges under board jurisdiction.

Also receiving board sanction were proposed capital outlays at the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind at Romney, Hampshire County.

The requests for the Romney schools, where the board hopes soon to integrate deaf and blind institutions for white and Negro students, included $400,000 for a structure to contain eight classrooms and 60 dormitory rooms for boys and girls at the elementary blind school level.

Other proposals there included $165,000 for a new dining room and kitchen, and $100,000 for destruction of part of the old administration building and renovation of a section of that Romney landmark.

Proposals for the FFA-FHA camp included $300,000 for a dining hall and $19,500 for a director's home.

The preferential list of immediate capital needs, as recommended by the college presidents and approved by the board, included a women's dormitory at Shepherd, capacity 200, $350,000.

Palmer Whips Stranahan And Cherry In National Amateur

Last Of Big Name Golfers Ushered Out

Palmer And Meister, Sweeny And Lenczyk Play In Semi-Finals

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 26 (AP)—Arnold Palmer, a purposeful young Pennsylvanian, eliminated two of amateur golf's brightest sons today to go into the semi-finals of the 54th National Championship with a New England dentist, an international socialite and an Ohio plugger making his 13th try for the title.

Answering the rollcall with Palmer, 24-year-old son of Latrobe, Pa., professional, were Dr. Ted Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., Bob Sweeny, 43-year-old investment banker who won the British amateur in 1937, and Edward Meister, a 36-year-old magazine publisher from Willoughby, Ohio.

Big Names Fade Out

They came through a double round of eliminations over the 6,875-yard Country Club of Detroit course while the last of the big-name competitors—Frank Stranahan, Bill Campbell, Don Cherry and Dale Morey—were sent to the sidelines.

In tomorrow's 36-hole semi-finals Palmer plays Meister and Sweeny goes against Lenczyk.

Palmer, a deadly-serious young man who attended Wake Forest, took care of two of the prime favorites, defeating Stranahan, 3 and 1, in the morning and following with a comeback 1 up triumph over Cherry, an Americas Cup member who won the Canadian crown in 1953.

Won At Tam O'Shanter

The solidly-built Palmer, recent winner of the All-America amateur title at Tam O'Shanter, had to share the day's individual honors with Sweeny, the dapper Port Washington, N.Y., socialite who ousted Dale Morey of Indianapolis, runnerup last year to the now pro Gene Littler.

Grooving his shots in a chill, tricky wind that blew in from the north after yesterday's thundershowers, Sweeny won over Morey, 4 and 3, playing the 15 holes in two under par. Earlier in the day he ousted young Ed Merrins of Meridian, Miss., 3 and 1.

Lenczyk, 33, ousted John Culp of Kendallville, Ind., 2 and 1, and then followed with a 4 and 3 triumph over Davis Love of El Dorado, Ark., 18-year-old University of Texas junior.

The powerfully-built Meister won a fifth round match over Glenn Johnson 1 up, and then whipped Edward Martin of Winchester, Mass., 3 and 2. Martin earlier had eliminated Campbell, weary runnerup this year in the British and Canadian amateur championships, 5 and 4.

Athletics Hold White Sox Even

Consuegra Wins, 8-1, Johnson Loses, 4-1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26 (AP) — Sandy Consuegra coasted to his 16th victory of the season tonight as the Chicago White Sox won the first game of a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-1. But the A's snapped back on the strength of Bill Renna's two-run homer and Joe DeMaestri's two-tally triple to take the nightcap, 4-1.

Loser Arnold Portocarrero helped the White Sox score six runs in the first two innings of the opener with two wild throws which kept alive rallies by the American League third-placers.

In the nightcap, Charley Bishop won his third of the campaign against five losses when Renna homered behind Jim Finigan's single and DeMaestri tripled back of singles by rookie Joe Taylor and Bill Wilson.

Turley Defeats Boston Sox, 5-3

Breaks Baltimore's Long Losing Streak

BOSTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Bullet Bob Turley survived a shaky ninth inning to pitch Baltimore to a seven-hit, 5-3 victory over Boston tonight, snapping a 14-game Oriole losing streak, as the Red Sox' Ted Williams reached a home run milestone.

Williams got the first sox run off Turley in the eighth inning when he sent his 361st major league home run into the right field stands. The blow, Williams' 24th of the season, tied him for fifth place among the all-timers with Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee clipper. Fourth place is held by another one time Yankee, the late Lou Gehrig with 493.

Then Turley, strapping young fastball specialist, weakened for two more runs in the ninth on three singles, a walk and a sacrifice fly.

Wally Ulrich Leads Toronto Golf Tourney

Post Score Of 130, Winninger Is 2nd

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Wally Ulrich, 30-year-old Rochester, Minn., pro, swept into the lead tonight at the halfway mark of the 72-hole $26,500 Labatt Open Golf Championship.

The well-built shotsmith clobbered the par-71 Scarboro layout for a six-under-par 65 to match his opening-day round for 130 and took over the lead from lanky Dave Douglas of Grossinger's N.Y. Douglas, the first-day leader with a 63, slipped to 69 in his second 18 for a 132-total and third place.

The runner-up spot was taken by Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Okla., who put together rounds of 65-66 for 131.

The 6,607-yard course took a terrific walloping yesterday when 58 of the 170 starters shot sub-par rounds and the free-for-all eased off only slightly today when more than 30 broke regulation figures.

The 60 lows and ties qualify plus enough others to insure the field for Friday and Saturday includes at least five amateurs and 15 Canadian professionals.

Tied for fourth place with 133 each were Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., winner of the tournament at Montreal last year. Bolt put together rounds of 65-68 and Ford 67-66.

Sam Snead of Greenbrier, W. Va., stayed in the running with 135. He fired a 68 to add to his 67 first round.

LaVale Eliminates Barrelville; Hyndman Loses To Ellerslie

LaVale's Maroons eliminated Barrelville from the Pen-Mar Little League playoffs by defeating the latter yesterday at Barrelville by the score of 8-1 while Ellerslie squared its series with Hyndman at one-all by registering a 9-0 triumph at Hyndman.

LaVale amassed 15 hits to crush Barrelville while Mickey Scaletta was holding the home team to five safeties.

Arnold Zaks paced the Maroons at the platter with a triple, two doubles and a single. McKenzie and Wanless garnered three hits each and Femi and Scaletta had two bingles apiece. Four of Barrelville's five hits were shared by Jerry Emerick and Linn.

The Maroons had won the series opener by the score of 5-4.

Don Lowery missed a no-hit game when J. Miller's pop fly dropped safely on the infield in the final inning as Ellerslie's pennant winners shut out Hyndman.

The Ellerslie hurler also proved to be a demon with the willow, belting a two-run homer and three singles for a perfect day. Jack Lowery, Richard Lybarger and Jim Cook collected two hits each. Cook had a triple and Lybarger a three-bagger.

The "rubber" game of the Hyndman-Ellerslie series is set for Tuesday at 6 p.m. in Hyndman. Scores:

AT BARRELVILLE:

LAVALE MAROONS	205 100—8 15 1

O'Connell's Hit In Ninth Gives Braves 3-2 Win

Single With Bases Loaded Sinks Phils

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Danny O'Connell slashed a bases-loaded single into centerfield with two out in the ninth inning today as the Milwaukee Braves nipped Philadelphia, 3-2, and ran their winning streak to four straight.

The hit, the seventh off Herm Wehmeier who went all the way for the Phillies, scored Del Crandall, who had doubled leading off the inning. Crandall was sacrificed to third and the bases were loaded on intentional walks to pinchhitter George Metkovich and Billy Bruton wrapped around Hank Aaron's outfield fly.

Wehmeier had throttled the Braves except for the first inning when they picked up two runs on three hits. The only other blows off the veteran righthander were a fifth inning double and an eighth inning single by Bobby Thomson, who had three for four all day.

The Phillies got both their runs off Jim (No-Hit) Wilson, who lasted until the seventh.

Baltimore Bullets Sign John Barber

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Johnny Barber, Los Angeles State Negro who once scored 188 points in a game just to show up Bevo Francis, was signed today by the Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association.

Barber did almost all the shooting in a 206-83 scoring fiesta with Chapman College on orders of his coach, Sax Elliott. The West Coast coach said he wanted to show that others besides Francis of Rio Grande could score at will.

Barber tallied 150 and 103 points in two other games of the announced experiment. In his 188-point outburst he took 153 shots and made 92. Barber is six inches over six feet.

Draft Board Rejects Clevenger Of Red Sox

VISALIA, Calif., Aug. 26 (INS)—The Tulare County Selective Board at Visalia reported today that Truman Clevenger, rookie Boston Red Sox pitcher, has been rejected for the draft because of an old back injury.

The board indicated that Clevenger may be subject to recall at any time for another medical examination.

A furore developed over Clevenger's draft status several weeks ago when Visalia board member Lee Mitchell resigned because the district board at Fresno classified the baseball player as 1-A, overruling the Visalia Board which had deferred him for dependency reasons.

Outdoor Club Downs Elks In 5-4 Tilt

Win In 1st Inning, Even Series At 1-1

Scoring five runs in the first inning, the Cumberland Outdoor Club went on to defeat the B.P.O. Elks yesterday at Stitcher Field, 5-4, and thereby evened up their Rocking Chair Softball League playoff series at one win each.

The team will tangle in the "rubber" game Monday or Tuesday.

Ted Durbin started the big first inning by leading off with a single. After Cecil Grimes, singled, both runners advanced on Bill Underdonk's wild pitch. Jack Luttrell batted in two runs with a single and scored later on Vern Penner's two base clout. Joe Geatz singled home Penner with the fourth run of the inning. Geatz moved to second on a wild pitch, took third on an infield out and scored on "Butch" Johnson's sacrifice fly.

Cleveland Beats Washington, 2-1

Al Smith's Home Run Breaks Up Slab Duel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Al Smith broke up a nifty pitching duel between Early Wynn and Mickey McDermott with an eighth inning home run that gave the league-leading Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory tonight over the Washington Senators.

The Indians thus preserved their 4½ game lead over the New York Yankees, who walloped Detroit today, 11-2.

The victory was No. 18 for Wynn, who set down his former teammates with two hits and would have had a shutout if it had not been for a fielding lapse by shortstop Sam Dente.

Dente's boot in the fourth was followed by a double by Roy Sievers, which accounted for Washington's only score.

That run tied the game at 1-1. The Indians had scored in the first when Bobby Avila walked, moved up on a wild pickoff throw by McDermott and scored on a single by Larry Doby.

Grim And Noren Spark New York To 11-2 Victory

Irv Gets Four Hits Off Tiger Hurlers

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Rookie Bob Grim pitched brilliantly in the stretch and Irv Noren, the Yankees' league-leading batter, connected for four straight hits today as the New Yorkers trounced Detroit 11-2 for their third straight victory.

The victory moved the Yanks within four games of the leading Cleveland Indians, who played tonight, and dropped Detroit into fifth place, a half game behind the Boston Red Sox. The Sox met Baltimore under the lights.

A six-run splurge against Dick Marlowe, third Detroit hurler, sewed up Grim's 17th triumph. He has lost five.

The 24-year-old righthander was reached for five hits and two runs in the first three innings, but settled down and blanked the Tigers with three hits the rest of the way.

Noren, who boosted his average six points, from .335 to .341, collected four hits in six trips. He was on base in every one of the Yankees' five scoring innings.

The rangy, 29-year-old Californian reached first in the opening inning on an error, then banged out three singles and a double. He scored three runs and drove in another. After doubling in the eighth, Noren's hit streak was snapped in the same inning when he grounded out to end the Yankees' spree.

Kid Gavilan Says Hand Is O. K. For Bout With Saxton

SUMMIT, N. J., Aug. 26 (AP) — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan said today his right hand is okay again and that he intends to demonstrate its power on challenger Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia next Wednesday in their title fight.

This will be the Cuban's first outing since he lost a decision to middleweight king Bobo Olson in Chicago April 2. After that fight, the Keed claimed he had injured his right hand some time before and couldn't use it effectively against Bobo.

Physicians of the Illinois Athletic Commission had examined the hand before the fight and said there was nothing wrong with it. Nevertheless, Gavilan insisted there was and when he went home to Cuba he had it placed in a cast.

"It feel better now," said the 28-year-old 147-pound ruler. "I use it in training. It okay."

Education Board Backs Capital Outlays For Project At Romney

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 26 (AP)—The State Board of Education recommended today that the 1955 Legislature appropriate $4,750,000 for new buildings and other capital expenditures at nine colleges under board jurisdiction.

Also receiving board sanction were proposed capital outlays at the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind at Romney, Hampshire County.

The requests for the Romney schools, where the board hopes soon to integrate deaf and blind institutions for white and Negro students, included $400,000 for a structure to contain eight classrooms and 60 dormitory rooms for boys and girls at the elementary blind school level.

Other proposals there included $165,000 for a new dining room and kitchen, and $100,000 for destruction of part of the old administration building and renovation of a section of that Romney landmark.

Proposals for the FFA-FHA camp included $300,000 for a dining hall and $19,500 for a director's home.

The preferential list of immediate capital needs, as recommended by the college presidents and approved by the board, included a women's dormitory at Shepherd, capacity 200, $350,000.

Demons Boost 4th Place Lead To Game Over Cumberland

Centerville Is Victim, Rizzo Posts 4-2 Win

Winning Margin Is Provided By Baker, Nolan Hits In 6th

ALL-STATES ASSOCIATION

Moorefield	19	4	Frostburg	11	13
Westvaco	13	9	Cumberland	10	14
Centerville	14	10	Romney	3	20

Frostburg's Demons increased their margin to one game over the Cumberland Old Germans in the race for the fourth place playoff spot in the All-States Baseball Association by edging the Centerville Reds at Frostburg yesterday by the score of 4-2.

Each team is scheduled to play one more game on Saturday, the final day of the regular season. Frostburg plays at Romney and Cumberland visits Westvaco. A Cumberland victory coupled with a Frostburg defeat would tie up the race for fourth place on the final day.

Frostburg's winning margin was attained in the sixth inning when successive doubles by Lou Baker and Hugh Nolan produced two runs and gave the Demons a 4-1 advantage. Centerville scored its final run in the ninth when Dave Rose singled home Williams, who had been inserted to run for Deremer.

Centerville scored its first run in the second frame after two out. Deremer singled and advanced to second when Ray Rizzo's pickoff throw got through Nolan. Harry Oliver singled to score Deremer. Dave Rose also hit safely but was forced at second by Verle Nave.

Frostburg tied it up in the third when Jimmy Byrnes doubled, took third on Rizzo's sacrifice and crossed the platter on Barney Spearman's infield out.

The Demons took a 2-1 lead in the fourth on Langan's two-bagger, Shuck's free ticket and Nolan's double.

In the sixth after Thompson and Langan fanned, Denny Shuck walked and pilfered second. He galloped home on Baker's double and the latter scored on Nolan's second two-base wallop of the game.

Ray Rizzo posted his third win of the season against a single loss. He fanned eight and issued three walks. Oliver went all the way for the Pennsylvanians, whiffed three and gave up three passes.

Nolan accounted for two of Frostburg's six hits with a pair of doubles. Byrnes, Langan and Baker also had two-base wallops. Dave Rose, Dwight Rose and Glenn Deremer garnered two hits each for the losers. Score:

Hi-Lo's Forbes, Record-Breaking Pacer, Retired

Will Be Sent To Farm At St. Margaret's, Md.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 26 (AP)—An old leg ailment that almost prevented him from ever racing today forced the retirement of Hi-Lo's Forbes, a world-record breaking pacer and 1953's "Harness Horse of the Year."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Wagner of Landover Hills, Md., announced efforts to cure an ankle injury had failed. Hi-Lo's Forbes will be retired to a farm at St. Margaret's, Md., which his earnings helped buy.

The 6-year-old black stallion was bought as a yearling for $265 by Mrs. Wagner's father. Lameness caused by a calcium deposit prevented him from racing as a 2-year-old.

The Wagners inherited the pacer upon David Cantwell's death and he was no great shakes as a racer as a 3-year-old or early in 1952. Wagner continued to drive a milk truck in Washington, D. C., and borrowed money to keep entering Hi-Lo's Forbes.

Late in the summer of 1952, Hi-Lo's Forbes suddenly came to life and at Lexington, Ky., paced a mile in two minutes flat, the mark of an exceptional harness horse.

At New York's Roosevelt Raceway on May 6 of 1953 he went 1:58 3-5, knocking a full second off the former world record for a half-mile track. It was only the sixth time in history that a harness horse had run a mile on a half mile track in two minutes or less. To prove it was no fluke, Hi-Lo's Forbes went two minutes at Laurel, Md., a few weeks later.

He wound up winning 11 of 17 races and earning $52,625.

Then the old lameness returned and he hasn't raced this year.

His retirement was announced at Brandywine Raceway in Wilmington coincident with his withdrawal from its $10,000 Free-For-All Pace. Tomorrow night he will be given a farewell with an exhibition pace around the track during the regular program.

The third and deciding game of the series is scheduled at Fairview Field on Sunday at 4 p. m. Score:

WILEY FORD	000 000 2	2	7 3
FORT ASHBY	130 203 x	9	9 1

Phils Pledge Support To Terry Moore

Line Up With Pilot In Row With Hamner

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, in a statement handed to newsmen today by pitcher Robin Roberts, aligned themselves with Manager Terry Moore in his row with second baseman Granny Hamner.

The typewritten statement, Roberts said, was "agreed to unanimously" by all members of the squad. It carried no signatures. The players held a meeting in the clubhouse this afternoon before today's game with the Braves.

The statement which did not mention Hamner by name read as follows:

"The statements made in the press recently about our ball club were strictly the personal opinion of one player and do not represent the feelings of the rest of the squad. We have too much respect for our manager, Terry Moore, to let this misrepresentation go unanswered. We hope the future results on the field will bear out these feelings."

Moore and Hamner patched up their disagreement late yesterday after exchanging charges and counter-charges in the wake of Hamner's remarks that the Phillies were "treating the players like high school kids."

Mt. Savage Host In Pony Opener

Battle Cresaptown Saturday At 2:30

The first game of the final playoff series for the championship of the Bi-State Pony Baseball League between Mt. Savage and Cresaptown will be staged Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at Mt. Savage.

Cresaptown will be the scene of the second game on Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Mt. Savage eliminated LaVale and Cresaptown won over Midland in the playoff semi-finals. Mt. Savage finished the regular season in first place.

Umpires assigned for the title series are Kenny Johnson at home plate and Breedlove on the bases.

The site of a third game, if necessary, will be determined by the toss of a coin and will be played Wednesday, September 1.

Welters Matched

At the same time, Taylor announced the signing of George Johnson of Trenton, N. J., and Del Flanagan of St. Paul, Minn., to a 10-rounder two weeks later at the Arena, Oct. 8.

Chicago Cracks Giants' 7-Game Win Streak, 4-3

Antonelli Wins 19th, Takes Nightcap, 2-1

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs snapped the first-place New York Giants' seven-game victory string, 4-3, in the opener, but Dusty Rhodes slammed across both runs to give the Giants a 2-1 triumph in the finale of a twin bill today.

The split kept the Giants 3½ games ahead of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

The third-place Milwaukee Braves, however, gained a half-game with a 3-2 verdict over Philadelphia to stand 6½ games off the pace.

Both games were decided in the eighth inning, Rhodes doubling across Don Mueller in that frame of the finale and New York's defense crumbling to give the Cubs two runs in the eighth inning of the opener.

Rhodes had singled home Whitey Lockman in the first inning of the nightcap for a 1-0 lead.

Ralph Kiner's 20th homer in the second inning gave the Cubs their lone run and Johnny Antonelli blanked the Bruins the rest of the way for his 19th victory against only three defeats. Bob Rush took his 15th loss against eight victories.

In the opener, Willie Mays' 38th homer with a mate aboard gave the Giants a 3-2 lead in the eighth inning. But in the bottom of the frame throwing errors by reliefer Marv Grissom and Davey Williams on a bunt, scored one Cub run and Kiner singled across the deciding tally.

Jim Tatum Invites 68 To Football Practice

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Coach Jim Tatum has invited 68 candidates to report to Maryland's football practice starting next Wednesday.

The "Coach of the Year" in 1953 lost only nine letiemen, but they included the entire first string backfield and starting tackles, All-America Stan Jones and Bob Morgan.

However, last year's second backfield is ready to move up intact. It is composed of Quarterback Charley Boxold, Halfbacks Ronnie Waller and Joe Horning, and Fullback Dick Bielski.

Coach Tatum also will be set at the ends, guards, and centers with experience.

He will have practice twice a day for the first 10 days, the morning session starting at 6:45 o'clock. The defending national champions open their 1954 season Sept. 18 at Kentucky.

Palmer Whips Stranahan And Cherry In National Amateur

Last Of Big Name Golfers Ushered Out

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 26 (AP)—Arnold Palmer, a purposeful young Pennsylvanian, eliminated two of amateur golf's brightest sons today to go into the semi-finals of the 54th National Championship with a New England dentist, an international socialite and an Ohio plugger making his 13th try for the title.

Answering the rollcall with Palmer, 24-year-old son of Latrobe, Pa., professional, were Dr. Ted Lenczyk of Newington, Conn., Bob Sweeny, 43-year-old investment banker who won the British amateur in 1937, and Edward Meister, a 36-year-old magazine publisher from Willoughby, Ohio.

Big Names Fade Out

They came through a double round of eliminations over the 6,875-yard Country Club of Detroit course while the last of the big-name competitors—Frank Stranahan, Bill Campbell, Don Cherry and Dale Morey—were sent to the sidelines.

In tomorrow's 36-hole semi-finals Palmer plays Meister and Sweeny goes against Lenczyk.

Palmer, a deadly-serious young man who attended Wake Forest, took care of two of the prime favorites, defeating Stranahan, 3 and 1, in the morning and following with a comeback 1 up triumph over Cherry, an Americas Cup member who won the Canadian crown in 1953.

Won At Tam O'Shanter

The solidly-built Palmer, recent winner of the All-America amateur title at Tam O'Shanter, had to share the day's individual honors with Sweeny, the dapper Port Washington, N.Y., socialite who ousted Dale Morey of Indianapolis, runnerup last year to the now pro Gene Littler.

Grooving his shots in a chill, tricky wind that blew in from the north after yesterday's thundershowers, Sweeny won over Morey, 4 and 3, playing the 15 holes in two under par. Earlier in the day he ousted young Ed Merrins of Meridian, Miss., 3 and 1.

Lenczyk, 33, ousted John Culp of Kendallville, Ind., 2 and 1, and then followed with a 4 and 3 triumph over Davis Love of El Dorado, Ark., 18-year-old University of Texas junior.

The powerfully-built Meister won a fifth round match over Glenn Johnson 1 up, and then whipped Edward Martin of Winchester, Mass., 3 and 2. Martin earlier had eliminated Campbell, weary runnerup this year in the British and Canadian amateur championships, 5 and 4.

Jim Norris tossed a four hitter and struck out seven yesterday as the Thoroughbreds defeated the Mustangs by the score of 9-6 at Fort Hill Field and went into a tie for second place in the Cumberland Pony League. Darkness halted the contest after 5½ innings.

The Thoroughbreds and Mustangs are deadlocked for the runner-up spot with .500 records.

Wayne Long and Donald Tipton had two hits each and Norris blasted a triple for the winners. George Hale obtained two hits and Ed Barley rapped a three-bagger for the Mustangs.

Two games are scheduled for today with the Colts playing the Mustangs at Fort Hill and the Thoroughbreds battling the Stallions at Campobello at 5:30. On Saturday the Colts oppose the Thoroughbreds at Campobello at 2 p. m. and the Mustangs engage the Stallions in a pair of five-inning games at Stitcher Field, commencing at 2 p. m. Athletics Hold White Sox Even

Consuegra Wins, 8-1, Johnson Loses, 4-1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26 (AP) — Sandy Consuegra coasted to his 16th victory of the season tonight as the Chicago White Sox won the first game of a doubleheader from the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-1. But the A's snapped back on the strength of Bill Renna's two-run homer and Joe DeMaestri's two-tally triple to take the nightcap, 4-1.

Loser Arnold Portocarrero helped the White Sox score six runs in the first two innings of the opener with two wild throws which kept alive rallies by the American League third-placers.

In the nightcap, Charley Bishop won his third of the campaign against five losses when Renna homered behind Jim Finigan's single and DeMaestri tripled back of singles by rookie Joe Taylor and Bill Wilson.

Breaks Baltimore's Long Losing Streak

BOSTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Bullet Bob Turley survived a shaky ninth inning to pitch Baltimore to a seven-hit, 5-3 victory over Boston tonight, snapping a 14-game Oriole losing streak, as the Red Sox' Ted Williams reached a home run milestone.

Williams got the first sox run off Turley in the eighth inning when he sent his 361st major league home run into the right field stands. The blow, Williams' 24th of the season, tied him for fifth place among the all-timers with Joe DiMaggio, the Yankee clipper. Fourth place is held by another one time Yankee, the late Lou Gehrig with 493.

Then Turley, strapping young fastball specialist, weakened for two more runs in the ninth on three singles, a walk and a sacrifice fly.

Wally Ulrich Leads Toronto Golf Tourney

Post Score Of 130, Winninger Is 2nd

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (AP) — Wally Ulrich, 30-year-old Rochester, Minn., pro, swept into the lead tonight at the halfway mark of the 72-hole $26,500 Labatt Open Golf Championship.

The well-built shotsmith clobbered the par-71 Scarboro layout for a six-under-par 65 to match his opening-day round for 130 and took over the lead from lanky Dave Douglas of Grossinger's N.Y. Douglas, the first-day leader with a 63, slipped to 69 in his second 18 for a 132-total and third place.

The runner-up spot was taken by Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Okla., who put together rounds of 65-66 for 131.

The 6,607-yard course took a terrific walloping yesterday when 58 of the 170 starters shot sub-par rounds and the free-for-all eased off only slightly today when more than 30 broke regulation figures.

The 60 lows and ties qualify plus enough others to insure the field for Friday and Saturday includes at least five amateurs and 15 Canadian professionals.

Tied for fourth place with 133 each were Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., winner of the tournament at Montreal last year. Bolt put together rounds of 65-68 and Ford 67-66.

Sam Snead of Greenbrier, W. Va., stayed in the running with 135. He fired a 68 to add to his 67 first round.

Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., considered one of the threats after his opening-round 64, ballooned to a one-over-par 72 for 136 in a tie with four others.

LaVale Eliminates Barrelville; Hyndman Loses To Ellerslie

LaVale's Maroons eliminated Barrelville from the Pen-Mar Little League playoffs by defeating the latter yesterday at Barrelville by the score of 8-1 while Ellerslie squared its series with Hyndman at one-all by registering a 9-0 triumph at Hyndman.

LaVale amassed 15 hits to crush Barrelville while Mickey Scaletta was holding the home team to five safeties.

Arnold Zaks paced the Maroons at the platter with a triple, two doubles and a single. McKenzie and Wanless garnered three hits each and Femi and Scaletta had two bingles apiece. Four of Barrelville's five hits were shared by Jerry Emerick and Linn.

The Maroons had won the series opener by the score of 5-4.

Don Lowery missed a no-hit game when J. Miller's pop fly dropped safely on the infield in the final inning as Ellerslie's pennant winners shut out Hyndman.

The Ellerslie hurler also proved to be a demon with the willow, belting a two-run homer and three singles for a perfect day. Jack Lowery, Richard Lybarger and Jim Cook collected two hits each. Cook had a triple and Lybarger a three-bagger.

The "rubber" game of the Hyndman-Ellerslie series is set for Tuesday at 6 p.m. in Hyndman. Scores:

AT BARRELVILLE:

O'Connell's Hit In Ninth Gives Braves 3-2 Win

Single With Bases Loaded Sinks Phils

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Danny O'Connell slashed a bases-loaded single into centerfield with two out in the ninth inning today as the Milwaukee Braves nipped Philadelphia, 3-2, and ran their winning streak to four straight.

The hit, the seventh off Herm Wehmeier who went all the way for the Phillies, scored Del Crandall, who had doubled leading off the inning. Crandall was sacrificed to third and the bases were loaded on intentional walks to pinchhitter George Metkovich and Billy Bruton wrapped around Hank Aaron's outfield fly.

Wehmeier had throttled the Braves except for the first inning when they picked up two runs on three hits. The only other blows off the veteran righthander were a fifth inning double and an eighth inning single by Bobby Thomson, who had three for four all day.

The Phillies got both their runs off Jim (No-Hit) Wilson, who lasted until the seventh.

Baltimore Bullets Sign John Barber

BALTIMORE, Aug. 26 (AP) — Johnny Barber, Los Angeles State Negro who once scored 188 points in a game just to show up Bevo Francis, was signed today by the Baltimore Bullets of the National Basketball Association.

Barber did almost all the shooting in a 206-83 scoring fiesta with Chapman College on orders of his coach, Sax Elliott. The West Coast coach said he wanted to show that others besides Francis of Rio Grande could score at will.

Barber tallied 150 and 103 points in two other games of the announced experiment. In his 188-point outburst he took 153 shots and made 92. Barber is six inches over six feet.

Draft Board Rejects Clevenger Of Red Sox

VISALIA, Calif., Aug. 26 (INS)—The Tulare County Selective Board at Visalia reported today that Truman Clevenger, rookie Boston Red Sox pitcher, has been rejected for the draft because of an old back injury.

The board indicated that Clevenger may be subject to recall at any time for another medical examination.

A furore developed over Clevenger's draft status several weeks ago when Visalia board member Lee Mitchell resigned because the district board at Fresno classified the baseball player as 1-A, overruling the Visalia Board which had deferred him for dependency reasons.

Outdoor Club Downs Elks In 5-4 Tilt

Win In 1st Inning, Even Series At 1-1

Scoring five runs in the first inning, the Cumberland Outdoor Club went on to defeat the B.P.O. Elks yesterday at Stitcher Field, 5-4, and thereby evened up their Rocking Chair Softball League playoff series at one win each.

The team will tangle in the "rubber" game Monday or Tuesday.

Ted Durbin started the big first inning by leading off with a single. After Cecil Grimes, singled, both runners advanced on Bill Underdonk's wild pitch. Jack Luttrell batted in two runs with a single and scored later on Vern Penner's two base clout. Joe Geatz singled home Penner with the fourth run of the inning. Geatz moved to second on a wild pitch, took third on an infield out and scored on "Butch" Johnson's sacrifice fly.

Charley Day had the Elks blanked until the sixth when they counted four times. Johnny Cox walked and scored on Bob Pence's triple. Underdonk batted in Pence with a single and trotted home on Jim Gaffney's three-base wallop. Roy Lester singled home Gaffney with the fourth and final run.

"Chick" Cubbage, right fielder, and Manager Cecil Grimes, shortstop, starred afield for the Outdoor Club.

Grimes garnered two singles, Luttrell socked a double and single and Vern Penner larruped a double for the winners. Bill Underdonk obtained two hits while Pence and Gaffney hit triples for the Elks. Score:

Cleveland Beats Washington, 2-1

Al Smith's Home Run Breaks Up Slab Duel

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Al Smith broke up a nifty pitching duel between Early Wynn and Mickey McDermott with an eighth inning home run that gave the league-leading Cleveland Indians a 2-1 victory tonight over the Washington Senators.

The Indians thus preserved their 4½ game lead over the New York Yankees, who walloped Detroit today, 11-2.

The victory was No. 18 for Wynn, who set down his former teammates with two hits and would have had a shutout if it had not been for a fielding lapse by shortstop Sam Dente.

Dente's boot in the fourth was followed by a double by Roy Sievers, which accounted for Washington's only score.

That run tied the game at 1-1. The Indians had scored in the first when Bobby Avila walked, moved up on a wild pickoff throw by McDermott and scored on a single by Larry Doby.

Grim And Noren Spark New York To 11-2 Victory

Irv Gets Four Hits Off Tiger Hurlers

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Rookie Bob Grim pitched brilliantly in the stretch and Irv Noren, the Yankees' league-leading batter, connected for four straight hits today as the New Yorkers trounced Detroit 11-2 for their third straight victory.

The victory moved the Yanks within four games of the leading Cleveland Indians, who played tonight, and dropped Detroit into fifth place, a half game behind the Boston Red Sox. The Sox met Baltimore under the lights.

A six-run splurge against Dick Marlowe, third Detroit hurler, sewed up Grim's 17th triumph. He has lost five.

The 24-year-old righthander was reached for five hits and two runs in the first three innings, but settled down and blanked the Tigers with three hits the rest of the way.

Noren, who boosted his average six points, from .335 to .341, collected four hits in six trips. He was on base in every one of the Yankees' five scoring innings.

The rangy, 29-year-old Californian reached first in the opening inning on an error, then banged out three singles and a double. He scored three runs and drove in another. After doubling in the eighth, Noren's hit streak was snapped in the same inning when he grounded out to end the Yankees' spree.

Kid Gavilan Says Hand Is O. K. For Bout With Saxton

SUMMIT, N. J., Aug. 26 (AP) — Welterweight champion Kid Gavilan said today his right hand is okay again and that he intends to demonstrate its power on challenger Johnny Saxton in Philadelphia next Wednesday in their title fight.

This will be the Cuban's first outing since he lost a decision to middleweight king Bobo Olson in Chicago April 2. After that fight, the Keed claimed he had injured his right hand some time before and couldn't use it effectively against Bobo.

Physicians of the Illinois Athletic Commission had examined the hand before the fight and said there was nothing wrong with it. Nevertheless, Gavilan insisted there was and when he went home to Cuba he had it placed in a cast.

"It feel better now," said the 28-year-old 147-pound ruler. "I use it in training. It okay."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (INS)—I wasn't in Dallas at the time but from a friend who lives there I hear the teen-agers tried to chop down Tony Curtis' door to get to see him. So with all this popularity and the fact that Tony and Janet Leigh rate number one spot on several exhibitor polls it isn't surprising that he's being given the A-treatment at Universal-International.

"The Purple Mask," a swashbuckler play by Matheson Lang on the French Revolution, is next on the list for Tony. It starts October 1.

This will give the popular Mr. Curtis about six weeks to rest but not enough time to go to Europe as he and Janet had planned, because she starts "My Sister Eileen" the 13th of next month.

Just heard from London that Huntington Hartford is finding himself in the ironic position of being husband to a big star.

When he took Marjorie Steele to England for "Sabrina Fair" he was the important millionaire and she was the wife. Now Marjorie has received enough movie offers to keep her busy in London for two years. Besides, she's a smash hit on the stage in "Sabrina Fair."

Huntington gets here Monday on business for his new theatre. Marjorie remains in London and he will go back after his gala first night. He wants Marjorie to star in a motion picture which he and Howard Hughes set up before the Hartfords went to Europe.

There's one person that Marilyn Monroe will pose with anytime and that's Ben Lyon. It was Ben who gave Marilyn her first movie job when he was head of casting at 20th Century-Fox. In fact, he named Norma Fran Daugherty Marilyn Monroe, the Marilyn being for Marilyn Miller whom Ben admired many years ago. (P.S. That was before Bebe Daniels won his heart.)

The little Monroe sent word she wants to see Ben and he's going to 20th and have some pictures taken with her. In fact, he fought hard for this girl who has come a long way since Ben got her that first job.

Discussions may rage pro and con about whether Clark Gable is as big a star as he once was (when I was in London the newspapers were making a big to-do about this) but the one person who seems to be entirely unconcerned is Clark himself.

More than any actor I know, the king never gets in the fray nor does he seem to get excited about anything.

He is happy, however, that he'll go to Hong Kong to make "Soldier of Fortune" which I told you weeks ago 20th had bought for him. It's by Ernest Gann whose "High and the Mighty" starring John Wayne is cleaning up at the box office.

One of the weirdst personal careers in Hollywood is that of Tony Dexter, who clicked so terrifically in "Valentino" and then virtually disappeared.

Now I get word that he has made "The Black Pirate" in El Salvador and that he will be brought here by Robert Lippert Jr., for "Charge of the Rurales."

In case you're as dumb as I am and don't know what rurales are, I looked it up and I'll tell you. They are the Mexican version of the Canadian Mounties and are both tough and dashing! Okay?

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Singer Kay Starr and her ex-husband, Hal Stanley, her manager, are together constantly, but both say it's no reconciliation.

Victor Mature, who has kept practically every cent he's ever made, is not very happy over the idea of paying a sizeable sum to his wife.

Wanani, Cuban singer, and protegee of Tyrone and Linda Power, did a pinch-hitting job for Gloria De Haven. The Charles Feldmans were in the audience.

Martin Milner, who was the smallest boy in "Life With Father," is back after serving two years at Ft. Ord. Glad to say Martin gets a job in "Mister Roberts" and leaves next week for Honolulu.

Bette Davis sends word that it's untrue that she doesn't want to work in Hollywood. She said she objected to Hollywood backgrounds in a script submitted to her because it had nothing to do with Hollywood.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Aide To FDR May Seek Colombia Citizenship

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Lauchlin Currie, one-time administrative assistant to President Roosevelt and whose name has been mentioned in Washington investigations of Soviet spy rings, said today he might consider applying for Colombian citizenship.

He said any positive action would depend on a decision to live in this country permanently. A former adviser to Colombia's economic planning council, Currie presently is engaged in farming and cattle raising not far from Bogota. His four-year contract as adviser expired last February.

A news story published in the United States said Currie was reported considering renouncing his American citizenship if his passport, which has expired, is not renewed.

Questioned about this, Currie said: "I am perfectly satisfied as I am."

Ladds' Daughter To Wed

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Alan Ladds today announced the engagement of their 20-year-old daughter, Carol Lee, to Actor Dick Anderson.

BRIDGE LEAPER — Charles Fleckenstein, Jr., 38, a refrigeration engineer, is shown after he jumped from the Tri-borough Bridge into the East River, N. Y., using a blanket for a parachute. Fleckenstein, who lives with his wife and their five-month-old son, Charles III in Astoria, N. Y., told policemen that a man can jump from any height into the water "as long as he has a rudder."

THOMAS GRACE, former New York State Federal Housing Administrator, sits with lips tightened after admitting to Senate Banking Committee probers, in Manhattan, that while holding his post he received $48,500 from the law firm in which he is a partner. The investigators were told that he was connected with his brother, George, in a firm that handled multiple housing mortgages insured by the FHA for $84,771,030.

Demons Boost 4th Place Lead To Game Over Cumberland

Centerville Is Victim, Rizzo Posts 4-2 Win

Winning Margin Is Provided By Baker, Nolan Hits In 6th

ALL-STATES ASSOCIATION

Centerville	14	10	Romney	3	20

Frostburg's Demons increased their margin to one game over the Cumberland Old Germans in the race for the fourth place playoff spot in the All-States Baseball Association by edging the Centerville Reds at Frostburg yesterday by the score of 4-2.

Each team is scheduled to play one more game on Saturday, the final day of the regular season. Frostburg plays at Romney and Cumberland visits Westvaco. A Cumberland victory coupled with a Frostburg defeat would tie up the race for fourth place on the final day.

Frostburg's winning margin was attained in the sixth inning when successive doubles by Lou Baker and Hugh Nolan produced two runs and gave the Demons a 4-1 advantage. Centerville scored its final run in the ninth when Dave Rose singled home Williams, who had been inserted to run for Deremer.

Centerville scored its first run in the second frame after two out. Deremer singled and advanced to second when Ray Rizzo's pickoff throw got through Nolan. Harry Oliver singled to score Deremer. Dave Rose also hit safely but was forced at second by Verle Nave.

Frostburg tied it up in the third when Jimmy Byrnes doubled, took third on Rizzo's sacrifice and crossed the platter on Barney Spearman's infield out.

The Demons took a 2-1 lead in the fourth on Langan's two-bagger, Shuck's free ticket and Nolan's double.

In the sixth after Thompson and Langan fanned, Denny Shuck walked and pilfered second. He galloped home on Baker's double and the latter scored on Nolan's second two-base wallop of the game.

Ray Rizzo posted his third win of the season against a single loss. He fanned eight and issued three walks. Oliver went all the way for the Pennsylvanians, whiffed three and gave up three passes.

Nolan accounted for two of Frostburg's six hits with a pair of doubles. Byrnes, Langan and Baker also had two-base wallops. Dave Rose, Dwight Rose and Glenn Deremer garnered two hits each for the losers. Score:

Hi-Lo's Forbes, Record-Breaking Pacer, Retired

Will Be Sent To Farm At St. Margaret's, Md.

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 26 (AP)—An old leg ailment that almost prevented him from ever racing today forced the retirement of Hi-Lo's Forbes, a world-record breaking pacer and 1953's "Harness Horse of the Year."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Wagner of Landover Hills, Md., announced efforts to cure an ankle injury had failed. Hi-Lo's Forbes will be retired to a farm at St. Margaret's, Md., which his earnings helped buy.

The 6-year-old black stallion was bought as a yearling for $265 by Mrs. Wagner's father. Lameness caused by a calcium deposit prevented him from racing as a 2-year-old.

The Wagners inherited the pacer upon David Cantwell's death and he was no great shakes as a racer as a 3-year-old or early in 1952. Wagner continued to drive a milk truck in Washington, D. C., and borrowed money to keep entering Hi-Lo's Forbes.

Late in the summer of 1952, Hi-Lo's Forbes suddenly came to life and at Lexington, Ky., paced a mile in two minutes flat, the mark of an exceptional harness horse.

At New York's Roosevelt Raceway on May 6 of 1953 he went 1:58 3-5, knocking a full second off the former world record for a half-mile track. It was only the sixth time in history that a harness horse had run a mile on a half mile track in two minutes or less. To prove it was no fluke, Hi-Lo's Forbes went two minutes at Laurel, Md., a few weeks later.

He wound up winning 11 of 17 races and earning $52,625.

Then the old lameness returned and he hasn't raced this year.

His retirement was announced at Brandywine Raceway in Wilmington coincident with his withdrawal from its $10,000 Free-For-All Pace. Tomorrow night he will be given a farewell with an exhibition pace around the track during the regular program.

The third and deciding game of the series is scheduled at Fairview Field on Sunday at 4 p. m. Score:

Phils Pledge Support To Terry Moore

Line Up With Pilot In Row With Hamner

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, in a statement handed to newsmen today by pitcher Robin Roberts, aligned themselves with Manager Terry Moore in his row with second baseman Granny Hamner.

The typewritten statement, Roberts said, was "agreed to unanimously" by all members of the squad. It carried no signatures. The players held a meeting in the clubhouse this afternoon before today's game with the Braves.

The statement which did not mention Hamner by name read as follows:

"The statements made in the press recently about our ball club were strictly the personal opinion of one player and do not represent the feelings of the rest of the squad. We have too much respect for our manager, Terry Moore, to let this misrepresentation go unanswered. We hope the future results on the field will bear out these feelings."

Moore and Hamner patched up their disagreement late yesterday after exchanging charges and counter-charges in the wake of Hamner's remarks that the Phillies were "treating the players like high school kids."

Mt. Savage Host In Pony Opener

Battle Cresaptown Saturday At 2:30

The first game of the final playoff series for the championship of the Bi-State Pony Baseball League between Mt. Savage and Cresaptown will be staged Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at Mt. Savage.

Cresaptown will be the scene of the second game on Sunday at 2:30 p. m.

Mt. Savage eliminated LaVale and Cresaptown won over Midland in the playoff semi-finals. Mt. Savage finished the regular season in first place.

Umpires assigned for the title series are Kenny Johnson at home plate and Breedlove on the bases.

The site of a third game, if necessary, will be determined by the toss of a coin and will be played Wednesday, September 1.

Welters Matched

At the same time, Taylor announced the signing of George Johnson of Trenton, N. J., and Del Flanagan of St. Paul, Minn., to a 10-rounder two weeks later at the Arena, Oct. 8.

Chicago Cracks Giants' 7-Game Win Streak, 4-3

Antonelli Wins 19th, Takes Nightcap, 2-1

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs snapped the first-place New York Giants' seven-game victory string, 4-3, in the opener, but Dusty Rhodes slammed across both runs to give the Giants a 2-1 triumph in the finale of a twin bill today.

The split kept the Giants 3½ games ahead of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers.

The third-place Milwaukee Braves, however, gained a half-game with a 3-2 verdict over Philadelphia to stand 6½ games off the pace.

Both games were decided in the eighth inning. Rhodes doubling across Don Mueller in that frame of the finale and New York's defense crumbling to give the Cubs two runs in the eighth inning of the opener.

Rhodes had singled home Whitey Lockman in the first inning of the nightcap for a 1-0 lead.

Ralph Kiner's 20th homer in the second inning gave the Cubs their lone run and Johnny Antonelli blanked the Bruins the rest of the way for his 19th victory against only three defeats. Bob Rush took his 15th loss against eight victories.

In the opener, Willie Mays' 38th homer with a mate aboard gave the Giants a 3-2 lead in the eighth inning. But in the bottom of the frame throwing errors by reliefer Marv Grissom and Davey Williams on a bunt, scored one Cub run and Kiner singled across the deciding tally.

Jim Tatum Invites 68 To Football Practice

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Aug. 26 (AP)—Coach Jim Tatum has invited 68 candidates to report to Maryland's football practice starting next Wednesday.

The "Coach of the Year" in 1953 lost only nine letiemen, but they included the entire first string backfield and starting tackles, All-America Stan Jones and Bob Morgan.

However, last year's second backfield is ready to move up intact. It is composed of Quarterback Charley Boxold, Halfbacks Ronnie Waller and Joe Horning, and Fullback Dick Bielski.

Coach Tatum also will be set at the ends, guards, and centers with experience.

He will have practice twice a day for the first 10 days, the morning session starting at 6:45 o'clock. The defending national champions open their 1954 season Sept. 18 at Kentucky.

DUMMIES CRASH CARS IN TESTS

Dummy behind wheel came through "alive" because of restraining belt. Dummy on near side was "killed" by the impact.

RESEARCHERS at the University of California, Los Angeles, are trying to find out more about what might happen to humans under similar circumstances in auto accidents. Instruments, a movie camera, a barrier and old cars are used. (International)

During the Civil War Wilmer McLean had a hard time escaping marching armies. In 1861 he lived on a farm near Manassas, Va. On this farm the first and second battles of Bull Run were fought. McLean became tired of clashing armies. He bought a red brick home at Appomatox Court House, Va. Once again the armies reached McLean's house. But they fought no more. There Grant and Lee agreed on peace.

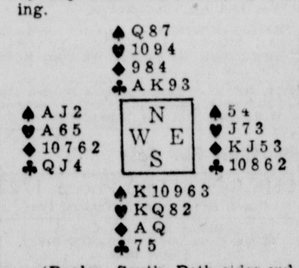
Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

GETTING BEST MILEAGE

YOU sometimes hear the expression, "getting the best mileage out of your cards." It has a connotation similar to that of getting the best mileage out of the gasoline you put in your automobile's tank. The difference is that, in bridge, you are trying to make every card accomplish the greatest service of which it is capable. That involves not only card-reading and keen planning, but out and out estimating, which in some cases can't be dignified by any better term than guessing.



(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠

That was adroit bidding. North's waiting for the second round to show spade support implied probably just three cards of the suit. South's ensuing bid of 3-Spades said that five probably were held, and that the previous bid of clubs now sounded good, but the final question of game was put up to North, who showed confidence in his partner by bidding it. Mrs. Desmond Wray, of Lynchburg, Virginia, is the one in whom he showed his trust.

The confidence had to be justified, as an unfortunate guess or break at any point would have beaten the contract. The diamond 2 lead brought the K and A, and the first hazard came when the spade 3 was led. After West played the 2, the Q was put in and won. The heart 10 was brought forth, East playing low and the Q going on. West decided to hold up the A, so the club 5 was then led to the A and the spade 7 sent to the 10 and J, after which West scored the A to kill dummy's last trump and led the club Q.

The K won that and the crisis of the deal was at hand, when the heart 9 was led. Again East decided to lay low, instead of covering with the J, which gave South a tough one to solve. But she decided aright, by playing the 2, the A winning. If she had come in with the K then and the A knocked it off, East's J would have become the setting trick. But as she played, she won the hand, as the heart K and 8 were now winners, so she took the rest.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (INS)—I wasn't in Dallas at the time but from a friend who lives there I hear the teen-agers tried to chop down Tony Curtis' door to get to see him. So with all this popularity and the fact that Tony and Janet Leigh rate number one spot on several exhibitor polls it isn't surprising that he's being given the A-treatment at Universal-International.

"The Purple Mask," a swashbuckler play by Matheson Lang on the French Revolution, is next on the list for Tony. It starts October 1.

This will give the popular Mr. Curtis about six weeks to rest but not enough time to go to Europe as he and Janet had planned, because she starts "My Sister Eileen" the 13th of next month.

Just heard from London that Huntington Hartford is finding himhelf in the ironic position of being husband to a big star.

When he took Marjorie Steele to England for "Sabrina Fair" he was the important millionaire and she was the wife. Now Marjorie has received enough movie offers to keep her busy in London for two years. Besides, she's a smash hit on the stage in "Sabrina Fair."

Huntington gets here Monday on business for his new theatre. Marjorie remains in London and he will go back after his gala first night. He wants Marjorie to star in a motion picture which he and Howard Hughes set up before the Hartfords went to Europe.

There's one person that Marilyn Monroe will pose with anytime and that's Ben Lyon. It was Ben who gave Marilyn her first movie job when he was head of casting at 20th Century-Fox. In fact, he named Norma Fran Daugherty Marilyn Monroe, the Marilyn being for Marilyn Miller whom Ben admired many years ago. (P.S That was before Bebe Daniels won his heart.)

The little Monroe sent word she wants to see Ben and he's going to 20th and have some pictures taken with her. In fact, he fought hard for this girl who has come a long way since Ben got her that first job.

Discussions may rage pro and con about whether Clark Gable is as big a star as he once was (when I was in London the newspapers were making a big to-do about this) but the one person who seems to be entirely unconcerned is Clark himself.

More than any actor I know, the king never gets in the fray nor does he seem to get excited about anything.

He is happy, however, that he'll go to Hong Kong to make "Soldier of Fortune" which I told you weeks ago 20th had bought for him. It's by Ernest Gann whose "High and the Mighty" starring John Wayne is cleaning up at the box office.

One of the weirdst personal careers in Hollywood is that of Tony Dexter, who clicked so terrifically in "Valentino" and then virtually disappeared.

Now I get word that he has made "The Black Pirate" in El Salvador and that he will be brought here by Robert Lippert Jr., for "Charge of the Rurales."

In case you're as dumb as I am and don't know what rurales are, I looked it up and I'll tell you. They are the Mexican version of the Canadian Mounties and are both tough and dashing! Okay?

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Singer Kay Starr and her ex-husband, Hal Stanley, her manager, are together constantly, but both say it's no reconciliation.

Victor Mature, who has kept practically every cent he's ever made, is not very happy over the idea of paying a sizeable sum to his wife.

Wanani, Cuban singer, and protegee of Tyrone and Linda Power, did a pinch-hitting job for Gloria De Haven. The Charles Feldmans were in the audience.

Martin Milner, who was the smallest boy in "Life With Father," is back after serving two years at Ft. Ord. Glad to say Martin gets a job in "Mister Roberts" and leaves next week for Honolulu.

Bette Davis sends word that it's untrue that she doesn't want to work in Hollywood. She said she objected to Hollywood backgrounds in a script submitted to her because it had nothing to do with Hollywood.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Debbie To See Eddie

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (AP)—Debbie Reynolds today said she is flying to New York tonight to see crooner Eddie Fisher but denied they have marriage plans.

BRIDGE LEAPER — Charles Fleckenstein, Jr., 38, a refrigeration engineer, is shown after he jumped from the Tri-borough Bridge into the East River, N. Y., using a blanket for a parachute. Fleckenstein, who lives with his wife and their five-month-old son, Charles III in Astoria, N. Y., told policemen that a man can jump from any height into the water "as long as he has a rudder."

THOMAS GRACE, former New York State Federal Housing Administrator, sits with lips tightened after admitting to Senate Banking Committee probers, in Manhattan, that while holding his post he received $48,500 from the law firm in which he is a partner. The investigators were told that he was connected with his brother, George, in a firm that handled multiple housing mortgages insured by the FHA for $84,771,030.

Aide To FDR May Seek Colombia Citizenship

BOGOTA, Colombia, Aug. 26 (AP)—Lauchlin Currie, one-time administrative assistant to President Roosevelt and whose name has been mentioned in Washington investigations of Soviet spy rings, said today he might consider applying for Colombian citizenship.

He said any positive action would depend on a decision to live in this country permanently. A former adviser to Colombia's economic planning council, Currie presently is engaged in farming and cattle raising not far from Bogota. His four-year contract as adviser expired last February.

A news story published in the United States said Currie was reported considering renouncing his American citizenship if his passport, which has expired, is not renewed.

Questioned about this, Currie said: "I am perfectly satisfied as I am."

Ladds' Daughter To Wed

You left this earth two years ago.
There's never a day that passes by,
That we always think of you and sigh.
The picture we have of you in mind,
Of your smiling face, and so we find
When we think of the suffering you endured,
We can thank God when He called you.
And said "You are cured"
So, sleep, mother dear, until judgment day,
Where we will join you later,
Somewhere along the way.
Sadly missed by her Daughter,
Son-in-law & Grandchildren.

DUMMIES CRASH CARS IN TESTS

Auto smashes into barrier at 25 mph. Cable in rear reaches to 36 measuring devices which record the various effects.

Dummy behind wheel came through "alive" because of restraining belt. Dummy on near side was "killed" by the impact.

RESEARCHERS at the University of California, Los Angeles, are trying to find out more about what might happen to humans under similar circumstances in auto accidents. Instruments, a movie camera, a barrier and old cars are used. (International)

McLean became tired of clashing armies. He bought a red brick home at Appomatox Court House, Va. Once again the armies reached McLean's house. But they fought no more. There Grant and Lee agreed on peace.

GETTING BEST MILEAGE

YOU sometimes hear the expression, "getting the best mileage out of your cards." It has a connotation similar to that of getting the best mileage out of the gasoline you put in your automobile's tank. The difference is that, in bridge, you are trying to make every card accomplish the greatest service of which it is capable. That involves not only card-reading and keen planning, but out and out estimating, which in some cases can't be dignified by any better term than guessing.

That was adroit bidding. North's waiting for the second round to show spade support implied probably just three cards of the suit. South's ensuing bid of 3-Spades said that five probably were held, and that the previous bid of clubs now sounded good, but the final question of game was put up to North, who showed confidence in his partner by bidding it. Mrs. Desmond Wray, of Lynchburg, Virginia, is the one in whom he showed his trust.

The confidence had to be justified, as an unfortunate guess or break at any point would have beaten the contract. The diamond 2 lead brought the K and A, and the first hazard came when the spade 3 was led. After West played the 2, the Q was put in and won. The heart 10 was brought forth, East playing low and the Q going on. West decided to hold up the A, so the club 5 was then led to the A and the spade 7 sent to the 10 and J, after which West scored the A to kill dummy's last trump and led the club Q.

The K won that and the crisis of the deal was at hand, when the heart 9 was led. Again East decided to lay low, instead of covering with the J, which gave South a tough one to solve. But she decided aright, by playing the 2, the A winning. If she had come in with the K then and the A knocked it off, East's J would have become the setting trick. But as she played, she won the hand, as the heart K and 8 were now winners, so she took the rest.

CHINA'S 'STEPPING STONES'

SECRETARY OF STATE John Foster Dulles focused world attention on the islands between Formosa and the Red Chinese mainland when he told a news conference in Washington that the United States may have to defend these "stepping stones." He declared that in the event of a Communist attack on the islands, or on the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, American forces would step in. At top, a Nationalist soldier is on guard on Quemoy Island. The Chinese mainland appears faintly in background. At bottom, Nationalists stand in review on the island of Ta-Cheng before a raid against the Reds. (International)

Market Falls For Fourth Day But Decline Slows Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — The fourth day of decline in the Stock Market slowed down today and a good measure of recovery from the lows was achieved.

The aircrafts displayed early weakness, and the whole market began to back down. However, in the afternoon prices firmed and rose well above their lows.

Lower with the aircrafts were the rubbers, utilities, railroads, and electrical equipments. Sugars and radio-televisions displayed fair gains. Other major divisions were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 50 cents at $131.80. That makes a total fall of $3.10 this week from the 25-year peak the average reached last Friday.

The industrial component of the average today was off 80 cents, the railroads were down 20 cents, and the utilities were 20 cents lower.

Out of the list of 15 most active issues, only two advanced. They were Electric & Musical industries up ⅛ at 3¼ as the fourth most active and Virginia-Carolina Chemical up 3¼ at 42½ the 12th most active issue. It gained 2½ yesterday.

Mack Trucks off 2⅜ at 18⅞, topped the list with 58,800 transactions and Montgomery Ward, down 1⅛ at 75⅞, was second on 41,700 shares. Curtiss-Wright was third unchanged at 13⅜, and it was followed by EMI, General Dynamics, and Northeast Capital.

Man Held On Bad Check Charge

KEYSER — Walter Ray Myers, 19, RFD No. 2, Keyser, was held for the October grand jury here, by Justice of the Peace Madalyn Bazzle, Thursday morning, on a charge of forging a check on Fred Rohe, also of RFD No. 2, Keyser. Myers was arrested Tuesday night by Cpl. F. H. Tribett, State Police officer in Keyser, after the bad check had been reported passed at the Kessel News Agency. In detaining him, Miss Bazzle placed his bond at $1,000.

Stabs Attacker

MRS. DOROTHY F. BELL (bottom), 38, of Roxbury, Mass., mother of three, is comforted by Mrs. Eunice Cibene after fighting off an attack by two teenagers. In the struggle, Mrs. Bell wrested a fisherman's knife from one of the youths and plunged it into his stomach, breaking off the blade. The boys fled, but police later found the 17-year-old stab victim lying on a sidewalk in a critical condition.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of Mrs. Mabel Smith, who died 2 years ago, August 27, 1952.

Oh, mother of mine, we miss you so,
You left this earth two years ago.
There's never a day that passes by,
That we always think of you and sigh.
The picture we have of you in mind,
Of your smiling face, and so we find
When we think of the suffering you endured,
We can thank God when He called you.
And said "You are cured"
So, sleep, mother dear, until judgment day,
Where we will join you later,
Somewhere along the way.
Sadly missed by her Daughter,
Son-in-law & Grandchildren.

AFL Will Fight 'Right To Work' Legislation

Fund Drive Planned To Wage Campaign

Harry Cohen, president of the Maryland and District of Columbia Federation of Labor last night urged AFL unions of Allegany County to contribute to a fund drive aimed at defeating attempts to pass a "right to work" law in Maryland.

Cohen termed the legislation the "employers' right to break unions", and said the AFL will raise a war chest big enough to defeat the latest effort to pass the law.

Sending Checks

He said unions are sending $1,000 checks to Labor's League for Political Education, where it will be used to elect friends of labor to the Maryland General Assembly.

He predicted the voluntary contributions, much of which will be used to defeat the plans of the Maryland Right to Work Committee, will average up to $1,000 for each AFL local in Maryland.

Speaking before the Allegany Trades Council, Robert Lester, Baltimore, treasurer of the state AFL, warned that if the bill is passed as planned, labor's present economic life will be "out the window."

F. Patrick Allender, president, asked all AFL locals of Allegany County to make their contributions to the LLPE by September 14.

The Executive Council of the State AFL met here last night following the Trades Council meeting to plan policy in the "right to work" battle and discuss legislation which will be introduced in the 1955 General Assembly.

The state AFL officials and city officials were guests of the Trades Council at a dinner meeting here last night.

Committee Formed

The Maryland Right-to-Work Committee has set up its headquarters at 6 East North Avenue, Baltimore, and is headed by Edward P. Colwell.

Composed of trade associations, business and professional men, the group was formed to present a right-to-work bill in the 1955 General Assembly.

The committee says 18 states have adopted various right-to-work measures, most of them containing clauses which outlaw compulsory unionism.

Union officials here recalled that three attempts have been made to pass such legislation in Maryland, but that each died in committee.

Tractor Driving Champ

Paul Clise, 20, of Frostburg, is shown being congratulated by Guy M. Gienger, agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland, after winning the annual 4-H tractor driving contest yesterday at the Cumberland Fair. James A. Weamert, assistant county agent, looks on. Clise, in winning, defeated nine other contestants, including the 1952-53 winner, Edward Miller, of Midland. He received a premium of $15 and will also represent this county at the state 4-H tractor driving contest next Saturday at the State Fair in Timonium.

Frostburg Youth Wins Tractor Driving Contest

Defending Champion Finishes Second

Jerry Clise, 20, of Frostburg, who became a member of the 4-H Tractor Maintenance Club this year, yesterday won the 4-H Tractor driving contest at the 37th annual Cumberland Fair, defeating nine other contestants, including the winner of the past two years, Midland's Edward Miller.

Clise, by winning the local contest, will represent this county at the State Fair next week at Timonium. The tractor driving contest there will be held Saturday, September 4. He also receives a premium of $15.

Other entrants, in the order of their finish, were Miller, Harmon Heavner, Flintstone; Argyle Wilson, Flintstone; James Bobo, Oldtown Road; Dale White, Wempe Drive; Donald Crites, Oldtown Road; Philip Carder, Oldtown; William Malone and Ronald Malone, RD 4, Cumberland.

The contest consisted of four parts and was based on state 4-H standards. The contest included a written and practical examination, tractor safety demonstration, operation of tractor, and the belting of a tractor to an implement.

Dealers furnishing tractors were A. M. Kight, Light and Decker, Heiskell Motors, Frostburg, and Collins Garage, Baltimore Pike.

Judges for yesterday's contest were Guy M. Gienger, agricultural engineer at the University of Maryland and a graduate of Flintstone High School; James McHenry, assistant county agent of Garrett County; Stewart Delbrook, of the local Soil Conservation Service; Merritt Pope, vocational agriculture teacher at Southern Garrett High School; Perry and Raymond Shyrock; Robert Miller; Brady Dolly, Flintstone, and Kenneth Malone, vo-ag teacher at Flintstone High School.

Rec Club To Meet

Central YMCA will hold its Rec Club Dance tonight from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock as usual, but has cancelled the September 3 dance because of repairs which are to be made in the gymnasium.

Salvation Army Campaign Goal Set At $25,273

Advanced Gifts Group Will Meet Monday

The Salvation Army will begin its annual fund raising campaign with a meeting of the Advanced Gifts Committee Monday night, and a general campaign kickoff on September 13, according to Earl E. Manges, general chairman.

The drive this year has a quota of $25,273, and campaign headquarters have been established at 125 North Mechanic Street.

Paul Pickens heads the Advanced Gifts Committee. Dennis McIntyre is Classified Division chairman. Lt. Harold May is in charge of the National Firms section. Lewis Ort will head the committee to solicit Industry, and William Rice is chairman for Organized Labor.

In the Classified Division, three major sections are set up. Section A includes, Automotive, with Jack Moore, chairman; Construction with Earl Lowery, chairman; and Public Service, headed by Ross Decker.

Section B includes, Clothing, with George Harman, chairman; Finance and Insurance, with Carl Amtower, chairman; and Foods and Drugs, with William Wendt, chairman.

Section C, headed by Charles N. "Jerry" Wilkinson includes Miscellaneous Professions; Furniture; Printing and Office Supplies; and Public Employes. Leaders for these four groups will be listed later.

Capt. Daniel Biggs, in charge of the Salvation Army here said organization committees have been at work several weeks, making preliminary plans for the campaign. He noted that Paul Pickens has called a meeting of all Advanced Committee workers for Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street, at which time that group will receive cards to begin their solicitation.

Crowd Observes Sign Installation

Yesterday quite a few residents watched the installation of a huge new neon sign which is being placed on the corner of the Algonquin Hotel building.

Workmen of the Queen City Neon Company Inc. were busy placing the sign which is about 40 feet in height. The sign is in three sections and made of a galvanized material which has been treated to assure that it will remain rust proof.

A number of guy wires are supporting the huge sign and braces from the sign to the corner of the building are on swivels to allow the sign to sway in the event of high winds.

The neon tubing will be installed in the next few days and when completed next week the sign will be bright red in color. Patrick I. Stakem, hotel manager, yesterday said the sign replaces the one which was dismantled late in February of this year.

High winds of last winter caused the sign, which was attached to the hotel for over 15 years, to become a hazard and it was removed in the interest of public safety.

Zoning Board Defers Decision In Beerman Case

Businessman Seeks Occupancy Permit

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night took under advisement the application of Michael Beerman, 153 Wineow Street, to locate his business on McMullen Highway.

Beerman recently sought an occupancy permit to locate a 30 by 80 foot building 500 feet inside the city limits, to be used as an office, storeroom and for storage.

Present were C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

Authority Lacking

Nuzum had referred the request to the Zoning Board after he was advised by Finan that the city did not have the authority to issue the permit.

They specifically cited the city zoning ordinance which prohibits, among other things, an "automobile storage yard for wrecking, dismantling and junking cars."

Clarence Lippel, who represented Beerman, said Beerman's business consists of buying and selling automobile parts and supplies, both wholesale and retail, and that only an eighth of his business consists of buying old cars which are dismantled and usable parts stocked in bins after other parts are disposed of.

Lippel cited the fact the city has never had a complaint from Beerman in the 27 years he has lived in Cumberland, and added Beerman has to seek a new location since his present location is needed for the flood control project.

He emphasized that the firm is "definitely not a junk business," that the location is the only suitable one which could be found, and that the story is he "either stays in town or be forced out."

It was explained that Beerman is planning to erect an attractive fence around the place of business, which is located just below a used car lot.

Appearing at the hearing was Edward E. Treiber, 216 Schley Street, who sought information on the effect the business would have on nearby property in which he has an interest.

Representing the Zoning Board were Charles Paul Roeder, chairman, and William B. Orndorff.

Home Destroyed, One Person Hurt By Lightning

A farmhouse was destroyed and one person knocked unconscious when two separate bolts of lightning struck during violent electrical storms Wednesday night in Tucker County.

About 8:30 p. m. Robert Hunter, 29, of Detroit, Mich. on a visit with his uncle, Brown Lantz, of Davis, was knocked unconscious when a bolt hit a lodge at Maple Grove Lake near Davis.

Hunter had attended a dinner at the lodge and was sitting on the front porch in a metal chair when the bolt struck a transformer in the rear of the building.

The chair absorbed the bolt and Hunter was taken to Tucker County Hospital for observation. However, he was released yesterday morning.

The six room, two-story frame farmhouse of Earl Cooper, located in Canaan Valley, was destroyed when another bolt hit at 10:20 p. m. Wednesday. Cooper, who is a cauliflower grower in that section of Tucker County, was not at home at the time and volunteer firemen from Davis managed to save a nearby barn, chicken house and another outbuilding.

Damages were estimated at $4,000. The violent electrical storms, accompanied by heavy rains, were described as the worst in the history of the county and lasted throughout the night.

Finance Firm Robbery Nets Gunman $537

Uniontown Office Scene Of Holdup

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—A tall, thin gunman escaped with $537 today from the Personal Finance Co. office in midtown Uniontown after ordering six employes and six customers to get on the floor.

Roy L. Hiester, manager of the local office, said the money was in cash drawers which the bandit cleaned out. Earlier, another official said the loss was less than $300.

State police established roadblocks on all roads in the area, particularly on Route 40 leading eastward over the mountains, and notified Maryland and West Virginia police.

A clerk, Cecilia Klimasara, described the holdup man, a Negro, as about 6 feet, thin and neatly dressed in a blue zipper-front jacket and blue trousers. She said:

"We all stooped or sat on the floor when he ordered us. We were plenty scared."

Uniontown Police Chief A. W. Davis said the description corresponds to that given of a person who held up a service station in Pittsburgh Aug. 19 and a stickup man who struck in Homestead near Pittsburgh Aug. 8.

Arthritis Clinics Planned Next Week

Monthly arthritis clinics will be conducted next week in Garrett and Allegany counties.

Dr. Leon A. Kochman of Baltimore will be in the Health Department offices in Garrett County Memorial Hospital at Oakland from 2:30 until 4 p. m. Thursday.

On Friday, September 3, Dr. Kochman will be here at the Crippled Children's League from 9 a. m. until noon. He will be at Memorial Hospital from 1 until 5 p. m. to see private patients.

Three Area Men Enlist In Navy

Three men enlisted this week in the US Navy at the local recruiting office in the Post Office building, according to Chief Edward J. Carey, in charge.

William Roger Dahl, 17, of 312 Jefferson Street, was signed for a minority enlistment.

Ralph William Strawser, 18, Corinth, W. Va., and Eugene Richard Kenney, 19, Mt. Savage, each enlisted for four years.

RAYMOND R. POMEROY

Two Teaching Positions In County Filled

Pomeroy Assigned To Allegany High

Two more teaching positions in Allegany County schools have been filled according to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

Raymond Richard Pomeroy, of 1202 Michigan Avenue, has been assigned to Allegany High School where he will teach junior high school mathematics and science. His appointment means an additional member added to the school's teaching staff.

A graduate of Fort Hill in 1947, Pomeroy attended Washington College, Chestertown, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1951. He majored in biology and minored in chemistry.

Last year he taught at Brooklyn Park Junior High School in Baltimore.

In the other appointment, Mrs. Mildred Nethken of Kitzmiller has been assigned to teach home economics at Cresaptown Junior High School.

She was graduated from Oakland High School in 1939 and received her Bachelor of Science in Home Economics at Bridgewater (Va.) College.

Mrs. Nethken taught at Kitzmiller High School from 1943 to 1946. Two teaching positions remain open, Rizer added, one being in industrial arts and the other in music.

Garrett Queen At Fair Tonight

Judging in nearly all departments of the 37th annual Cumberland Fair has been completed as the fair enters its fifth day today.

Tonight has been designated as Garrett County Farm Queen Night and Miss Hazel Mosser, of McHenry, the 1954 Garrett County Queen, will be presented.

Following the nightly presentation of the Cook and Rose stage shows, the fireworks display will feature "The Pelican Catching Flying Fish."

All exhibits will be open to the public and Prell's Greater Shows will provide entertainment.

Hyde Presents Roses

Rep. Dewitt S. Hyde, Republican Congressman from Maryland's Sixth District, last night presented a bouquet of red roses to Miss Jacqueline Wilkins, of Franklin, W.Va., poultry queen of West Virginia, during ceremonies at the Cumberland Fair.

Hyde will be in this county today.

City To Publish Unauthenticated Petition Names

Provides Opportunity To Correct Records

Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday announced plans for publishing the list of about 400 names found on crosstown bridge petitions but not on the city's registration books.

The names, he added, cannot be authenticated because they do not appear on the voting books.

Such petitioners, he added, will be given until September 9 to correct any errors which prevented their being counted.

Those who are eligible to be registered will be given an opportunity to register — which may be done Monday through Friday at City Hall under the city's continuous registration system — so they will be able to vote in city elections.

715 Are Certified

The mayor has already certified 715 petitioners, but this is 237 short of the total currently needed to call a referendum under the city's home rule law.

Mayor Eves said it is obviously impossible for him to visit or phone each of the 1,500 persons whose names have not been authenticated, and that the expense of mailing individual notices would be too high.

Publication next week in two Cumberland newspapers has been chosen, he added, to give everyone an opportunity to either authenticate his name or take steps to register for all city elections.

Many of the petitioners, he added, were under the impression they could vote when they signed the petition. In some cases, there are women who are voting under their maiden names, and others whose names have been stricken off the books for failure to vote during the past five years.

Registration Urged

In any case, the city is interested in getting every eligible citizen registered on the voting books, and on full participation in all regular and special elections.

Also included on the list of some 2,200 names are "Mr. and Mrs.", 14; address not the same as on city registration books, 443; women signing husband's first Christian name instead of their first names as on the poll books, 249; initials of Christian names not according to poll books, 332; signing twice, 8, and illegible, 12.

There is a question of whether those who have requested their names removed can do so. Several persons have written to the mayor asking their names be taken off the petitions.

There were some 2,200 names on the petitions. The law calls for a referendum in the event the signers

Umpire Slugged, Irate Fan Pays Fine Of $10

"Kill the umpire!"

Although he didn't literally employ this oft-used phrase, Irvin Snyder, of Eckhart, was fined yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court for striking a Tri-State Association umpire, Joe Stuckey, following a recent Pen-Mar Baseball League game between Eckhart and Wellersburg, at Eckhart.

Magistrate Morris Baron, who imposed the fine of $10 and costs, informed Stuckey during the trial that the assault upon him during the recent game represented one of the "occupational hazards" of the umpiring profession.

Incidentally, Wellersburg won the game, 14-4.

Autumn Color To Be Used For City Tax Bills

The fall motif will be in evidence in the tax bills which the City of Cumberland will mail to some 14,000 citizens within the next 30 days.

The copy to be printed on the statements, given to the printers yesterday, calls for a levy of $1.36 on each $100 of assessable property.

The bills will be printed on russett paper.

Officials said the reason the color is appropriate to the autumn season is that a different colored stock is used each year. Gray paper was used in 1952 and light green last year.

The Weather

A steady downpour of rain early yesterday morning was beneficial to lawns and gardens. And it seems a number of residents were bothered by mosquitoes during the night. Yesterday afternoon it clouded up and looked like another downpour would occur. The temperature was not quite so hot as in the past two days. The high yesterday was 86 degrees with a low reading of 65 and at 8:45 p. m. yesterday the mercury stood at 70 degrees. The amount of rainfall was .30 inches. The weatherman forecasts cloudy skies today with cooler temperatures.

Arkansas, The Wonder State, Storehouse Of Mineral Wealth, Featured At Library

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

The State of Arkansas, which joined the Union in 1836 and became the 25th star in the American flag, is currently being featured in the United States exhibit at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

According to information compiled by Mary Ann Lovenstein, librarian assistant, Arkansas can aptly be styled "The Wonder State," and "Amazing" is the adjective that best describes the state.

Primarily a farming state, Arkansas is also a great storehouse of mineral wealth, and the proud possessor of the only diamond field on the North American continent. Arkansas generously invites the rest of the population to share in its good fortune.

The present owners of the Crater of Diamonds, as the one-time farm of John W. Huddleston is now called, invites the public to come and join in the search for the diamonds, first discovered in 1906 near Murfreesboro. A visitor may keep any diamond under five carats that he finds. Over 800 rough diamonds have been discovered since this offer was first made. The state flag bears a white diamond with a blue border on a red field.

Rich In Bauxite

Arkansas has other important mineral deposits, including bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is refined. About 95 per cent of America's bauxite comes from this area. The state is also an important producer of petroleum, natural gas, coal, cinnabar and antimony.

Among the most heavily wooded states in the Union, Arkansas's most important industry is the manufacture of lumber and timber products. Also notable among the state's manufactures are the refining of petroleum and bauxite. Important agricultural crops include cotton, corn, soybeans, peaches, strawberries, and watermelons. An unusual crop, mushrooms, is grown in three Arkansas counties.

Ranking 26th among the states in area, the Wonder State provides a great variety of natural beauty for the traveler. Along the Mississippi and Louisiana borders are plantations that mark the Deep South. Moss-hung oaks make the southeastern section resemble a miniature Louisiana. The southwest has many cattle ranches, while in the North mountain cabins cling to the slopes of the Arkansas section of the Ozark range. The plateau of the northwestern corner of the state resembles the fertile plains of Indiana and Illinois.

Mecca For Sportsmen

The varied landscape of Arkansas also provides a mecca for the sportsman. In the fall, hunters come to track deer, opossum, and raccoon and to shoot game birds and water fowl. It's always open season on fishing in Arkansas' streams which abound in bass, bream, and crappies.

Important also to the health and pleasure seeking vacationer is Hot Springs National Park, the first national park in the United States. Many people come to bathe in the mineral and hot springs, which were first visited by a white man when DeSoto explored the Arkansas in 1541 and 1542. Declared

Collection Day, Today

Newest Arrival At Fair

Greenbottoms Mitzi, mother of the newest arrival at the Cumberland Fair, is pictured with her female calf, which was born about 10:300 p. m. Tuesday and is owned by R. A. McCauley, of Hagerstown, McCauley's Guernsey herd won several championships in Tuesday's judging. The calf is attracting quite a bit of attention, as one veteran livestock exhibitor said that patrons at the fair here are always interested in seeing the largest bull and smallest calf at the livestock exhibits.

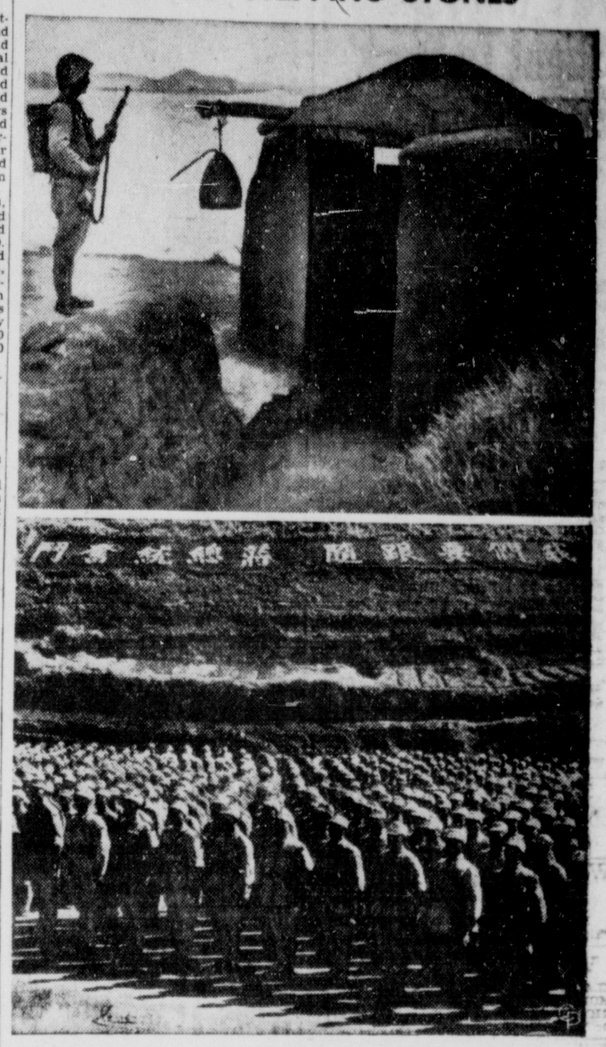
CHINA'S 'STEPPING STONES'



SECRETARY OF STATE John Foster Dulles focused world attention on the islands between Formosa and the Red Chinese mainland when he told a news conference in Washington that the United States may have to defend these "stepping stones." He declared that in the event of a Communist attack on the islands, or on the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa, American forces would step in. At top, a Nationalist soldier is on guard on Quemoy Island. The Chinese mainland appears faintly in background. At bottom, Nationalists stand in review on the island of Ta-Cheng before a raid against the Reds. (International)

Market Falls For Fourth Day But Decline Slows Up

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — The fourth day of decline in the Stock Market slowed down today and a good measure of recovery from the lows was achieved.

The aircrafts displayed early weakness, and the whole market began to back down. However, in the afternoon prices firmed and rose well above their lows.

Lower with the aircrafts were the rubbers, utilities, railroads, and electrical equipments. Sugars and radio-televisions displayed fair gains. Other major divisions were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 50 cents at $131.80. That makes a total fall of $3.10 this week from the 25-year peak the average reached last Friday.

The industrial component of the average today was off 80 cents, the railroads were down 20 cents, and the utilities were 20 cents lower.

Out of the list of 15 most active issues, only two advanced. They were Electric & Musical industries up ⅛ at 3¼ as the fourth most active and Virginia-Carolina Chemical up 3¼ at 42½ the 12th most active issue. It gained 2½ yesterday.

Mack Trucks off 2⅜ at 18⅞, topped the list with 58,800 transactions and Montgomery Ward, down 1⅛ at 75⅞, was second on 41,700 shares. Curtiss-Wright was third unchanged at 13⅜, and it was followed by EMI, General Dynamics, and Northeast Capital.

AFL Will Fight 'Right To Work' Legislation

Fund Drive Planned To Wage Campaign

Harry Cohen, president of the Maryland and District of Columbia Federation of Labor last night urged AFL unions of Allegany County to contribute to a fund drive aimed at defeating attempts to pass a "right to work" law in Maryland.

Cohen termed the legislation the "employers' right to break unions", and said the AFL will raise a war chest big enough to defeat the latest effort to pass the law.

Sending Checks

He said unions are sending $1,000 checks to Labor's League for Political Education, where it will be used to elect friends of labor to the Maryland General Assembly.

He predicted the voluntary contributions, much of which will be used to defeat the plans of the Maryland Right to Work Committee, will average up to $1,000 for each AFL local in Maryland.

Speaking before the Allegany Trades Council, Robert Lester, Baltimore, treasurer of the state AFL, warned that if the bill is passed as planned, labor's present economic life will be "out the window."

F. Patrick Allender, president, asked all AFL locals of Allegany County to make their contributions to the LLPE by September 14.

The Executive Council of the State AFL met here last night following the Trades Council meeting to plan policy in the "right to work" battle and discuss legislation which will be introduced in the 1955 General Assembly.

The state AFL officials and city officials were guests of the Trades Council at a dinner meeting here last night.

Committee Formed

The Maryland Right-to-Work Committee has set up its headquarters at 6 East North Avenue, Baltimore, and is headed by Edward P. Colwell.

Composed of trade associations, business and professional men, the group was formed to present a right-to-work bill in the 1955 General Assembly.

The committee says 18 states have adopted various right-to-work measures, most of them containing clauses which outlaw compulsory unionism.

Union officials here recalled that three attempts have been made to pass such legislation in Maryland, but that each died in committee.

He received a premium of $15 and will also represent this county at the state 4-H tractor driving contest next Saturday at the State Fair in Timonium.

Salvation Army Campaign Goal Set At $25,273

Advanced Gifts Group Will Meet Monday

The Salvation Army will begin its annual fund raising campaign with a meeting of the Advanced Gifts Committee Monday night, and a general campaign kickoff on September 13, according to Earl E. Manges, general chairman.

The drive this year has a quota of $25,273, and campaign headquarters have been established at 125 North Mechanic Street.

Paul Pickens heads the Advanced Gifts Committee. Dennis McIntyre is Classified Division chairman. Lt. Harold May is in charge of the National Firms section. Lewis Ort will head the committee to solicit Industry, and William Rice is chairman for Organized Labor.

In the Classified Division, three major sections are set up. Section A includes, Automotive, with Jack Moore, chairman; Construction with Earl Lowery, chairman; and Public Service, headed by Ross Decker.

Section B includes, Clothing, with George Harman, chairman; Finance and Insurance, with Carl Amtower, chairman; and Foods and Drugs, with William Wendt, chairman.

Section C, headed by Charles N. "Jerry" Wilkinson includes Miscellaneous Professions; Furniture; Printing and Office Supplies; and Public Employes. Leaders for these four groups will be listed later.

Capt. Daniel Biggs, in charge of the Salvation Army here said organization committees have been at work several weeks, making preliminary plans for the campaign. He noted that Paul Pickens has called a meeting of all Advanced Committee workers for Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the Citadel, 115 North Mechanic Street, at which time that group will receive cards to begin their solicitation.

Crowd Observes Sign Installation

Yesterday quite a few residents watched the installation of a huge new neon sign which is being placed on the corner of the Algonquin Hotel building.

Workmen of the Queen City Neon Company Inc. were busy placing the sign which is about 40 feet in height. The sign is in three sections and made of a galvanized material which has been treated to assure that it will remain rust proof.

A number of guy wires are supporting the huge sign and braces from the sign to the corner of the building are on swivels to allow the sign to sway in the event of high winds.

The neon tubing will be installed in the next few days and when completed next week the sign will be bright red in color. Patrick I. Stakem, hotel manager, yesterday said the sign replaces the one which was dismantled late in February of this year.

High winds of last winter caused the sign, which was attached to the hotel for over 15 years, to become a hazard and it was removed in the interest of public safety.

Zoning Board Defers Decision In Beerman Case

Businessman Seeks Occupancy Permit

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night took under advisement the application of Michael Beerman, 153 Wineow Street, to locate his business on McMullen Highway.

Beerman recently sought an occupancy permit to locate a 30 by 80 foot building 500 feet inside the city limits, to be used as an office, storeroom and for storage.

Present were C. R. Nuzum, city engineer, and Thomas B. Finan, city attorney.

Authority Lacking

Nuzum had referred the request to the Zoning Board after he was advised by Finan that the city did not have the authority to issue the permit.

They specifically cited the city zoning ordinance which prohibits, among other things, an "automobile storage yard for wrecking, dismantling and junking cars."

Clarence Lippel, who represented Beerman, said Beerman's business consists of buying and selling automobile parts and supplies, both wholesale and retail, and that only an eighth of his business consists of buying old cars which are dismantled and usable parts stocked in bins after other parts are disposed of.

Lippel cited the fact the city has never had a complaint from Beerman in the 27 years he has lived in Cumberland, and added Beerman has to seek a new location since his present location is needed for the flood control project.

He emphasized that the firm is "definitely not a junk business," that the location is the only suitable one which could be found, and that the story is he "either stays in town or be forced out."

It was explained that Beerman is planning to erect an attractive fence around the place of business, which is located just below a used car lot.

Appearing at the hearing was Edward E. Treiber, 216 Schley Street, who sought information on the effect the business would have on nearby property in which he has an interest.

Representing the Zoning Board were Charles Paul Roeder, chairman, and William B. Orndorff.

Home Destroyed, One Person Hurt By Lightning

A farmhouse was destroyed and one person knocked unconscious when two separate bolts of lightning struck during violent electrical storms Wednesday night in Tucker County.

About 8:30 p. m. Robert Hunter, 29, of Detroit, Mich. on a visit with his uncle, Brown Lantz, of Davis, was knocked unconscious when a bolt hit a lodge at Maple Grove Lake near Davis.

Hunter had attended a dinner at the lodge and was sitting on the front porch in a metal chair when the bolt struck a transformer in the rear of the building.

The chair absorbed the bolt and Hunter was taken to Tucker County Hospital for observation. However, he was released yesterday morning.

The six room, two-story frame farmhouse of Earl Cooper, located in Canaan Valley, was destroyed when another bolt hit at 10:20 p. m. Wednesday. Cooper, who is a cauliflower grower in that section of Tucker County, was not at home at the time and volunteer firemen from Davis managed to save a nearby barn, chicken house and another outbuilding.

Damages were estimated at $4,000. The violent electrical storms, accompanied by heavy rains, were described as the worst in the history of the county and lasted throughout the night.

Finance Firm Robbery Nets Gunman $537

Uniontown Office Scene Of Holdup

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—A tall, thin gunman escaped with $537 today from the Personal Finance Co. office in midtown Uniontown after ordering six employes and six customers to get on the floor.

Roy L. Hiester, manager of the local office, said the money was in cash drawers which the bandit cleaned out. Earlier, another official said the loss was less than $300.

State police established roadblocks on all roads in the area, particularly on Route 40 leading eastward over the mountains, and notified Maryland and West Virginia police.

A clerk, Cecilia Klimasara, described the holdup man, a Negro, as about 6 feet, thin and neatly dressed in a blue zipper-front jacket and blue trousers. She said:

"We all stooped or sat on the floor when he ordered us. We were plenty scared."

Uniontown Police Chief A. W. Davis said the description corresponds to that given of a person who held up a service station in Pittsburgh Aug. 19 and a stickup man who struck in Homestead near Pittsburgh Aug. 8.

RAYMOND R. POMEROY

Pomeroy Assigned To Allegany High

Two more teaching positions in Allegany County schools have been filled according to Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

Raymond Richard Pomeroy, of 1202 Michigan Avenue, has been assigned to Allegany High School where he will teach junior high school mathematics and science. His appointment means an additional member added to the school's teaching staff.

A graduate of Fort Hill in 1947, Pomeroy attended Washington College, Chestertown, where he received his Bachelor of Science degree in 1951. He majored in biology and minored in chemistry.

Last year he taught at Brooklyn Park Junior High School in Baltimore.

In the other appointment, Mrs. Mildred Nethken of Kitzmiller has been assigned to teach home economics at Cresaptown Junior High School.

She was graduated from Oakland High School in 1939 and received her Bachelor of Science in Home Economics at Bridgewater (Va.) College.

Mrs. Nethken taught at Kitzmiller High School from 1943 to 1946. Two teaching positions remain open, Rizer added, one being in industrial arts and the other in music.

City To Publish Unauthenticated Petition Names

Provides Opportunity To Correct Records

Mayor Roy W. Eves yesterday announced plans for publishing the list of about 400 names found on crosstown bridge petitions but not on the city's registration books.

The names, he added, cannot be authenticated because they do not appear on the voting books.

Such petitioners, he added, will be given until September 9 to correct any errors which prevented their being counted.

Those who are eligible to be registered will be given an opportunity to register — which may be done Monday through Friday at City Hall under the city's continuous registration system — so they will be able to vote in city elections.

715 Are Certified

The mayor has already certified 715 petitioners, but this is 237 short of the total currently needed to call a referendum under the city's home rule law.

Mayor Eves said it is obviously impossible for him to visit or phone each of the 1,500 persons whose names have not been authenticated, and that the expense of mailing individual notices would be too high.

Publication next week in two Cumberland newspapers has been chosen, he added, to give everyone an opportunity to either authenticate his name or take steps to register for all city elections.

Many of the petitioners, he added, were under the impression they could vote when they signed the petition. In some cases, there are women who are voting under their maiden names, and others whose names have been stricken off the books for failure to vote during the past five years.

Registration Urged

In any case, the city is interested in getting every eligible citizen registered on the voting books, and on full participation in all regular and special elections.

Also included on the list of some 2,200 names are "Mr. and Mrs.", 14; address not the same as on city registration books, 443; women signing husband's first Christian name instead of their first names as on the poll books, 249; initials of Christian names not according to poll books, 332; signing twice, 8, and illegible, 12.

There is a question of whether those who have requested their names removed can do so. Several persons have written to the mayor asking their names be taken off the petitions.

There were some 2,200 names on the petitions. The law calls for a referendum in the event the signers

Umpire Slugged, Irate Fan Pays Fine Of $10

"Kill the umpire!"

Although he didn't literally employ this oft-used phrase, Irvin Snyder, of Eckhart, was fined yesterday in Trial Magistrate's Court for striking a Tri-State Association umpire, Joe Stuckey, following a recent Pen-Mar Baseball League game between Eckhart and Wellersburg, at Eckhart.

Magistrate Morris Baron, who imposed the fine of $10 and costs, informed Stuckey during the trial that the assault upon him during the recent game represented one of the "occupational hazards" of the umpiring profession.

James S. Getty, assistant state's attorney, who represented the state at yesterday's trial, added that this is "open season on umpires."

Incidentally, Wellersburg won the game, 14-4.

Autumn Color To Be Used For City Tax Bills

The fall motif will be in evidence in the tax bills which the City of Cumberland will mail to some 14,000 citizens within the next 30 days.

The copy to be printed on the statements, given to the printers yesterday, calls for a levy of $1.36 on each $100 of assessable property.

The bills will be printed on russett paper.

Officials said the reason the color is appropriate to the autumn season is that a different colored stock is used each year. Gray paper was used in 1952 and light green last year.

Arkansas, The Wonder State, Storehouse Of Mineral Wealth, Featured At Library

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

The State of Arkansas, which joined the Union in 1836 and became the 25th star in the American flag, is currently being featured in the United States exhibit at the Cumberland Free Public Library.

According to information compiled by Mary Ann Lovenstein, librarian assistant, Arkansas can aptly be styled "The Wonder State," and "Amazing" is the adjective that best describes the state.

Primarily a farming state, Arkansas is also a great storehouse of mineral wealth, and the proud possessor of the only diamond field on the North American continent. Arkansas generously invites the rest of the population to share in its good fortune.

The present owners of the Crater of Diamonds, as the one-time farm of John W. Huddleston is now called, invites the public to come and join in the search for the diamonds, first discovered in 1906 near Murfreesboro. A visitor may keep any diamond under five carats that he finds. Over 800 rough diamonds have been discovered since this offer was first made. The state flag bears a white diamond with a blue border on a red field.

Rich In Bauxite

Arkansas has other important mineral deposits, including bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is refined. About 95 per cent of America's bauxite comes from this area. The state is also an important producer of petroleum, natural gas, coal, cinnabar and antimony.

Among the most heavily wooded states in the Union, Arkansas's most important industry is the manufacture of lumber and timber products. Also notable among the state's manufactures are the refining of petroleum and bauxite. Important agricultural crops include cotton, corn, soybeans, peaches, strawberries, and watermelons. An unusual crop, mushrooms, is grown in three Arkansas counties.

Ranking 26th among the states in area, the Wonder State provides a great variety of natural beauty for the traveler. Along the Mississippi and Louisiana borders are plantations that mark the Deep South. Moss-hung oaks make the southeastern section resemble a miniature Louisiana. The southwest has many cattle ranches, while in the North mountain cabins cling to the slopes of the Arkansas section of the Ozark range. The plateau of the northwestern corner of the state resembles the fertile plains of Indiana and Illinois.

Mecca For Sportsmen

The varied landscape of Arkansas also provides a mecca for the sportsman. In the fall, hunters come to track deer, opossum, and raccoon and to shoot game birds and water fowl. It's always open season on fishing in Arkansas' streams which abound in bass, bream, and crappies.

Important also to the health and pleasure seeking vacationer is Hot Springs National Park, the first national park in the United States. Many people come to bathe in the mineral and hot springs, which were first visited by a white man when DeSoto explored the Arkansas in 1541 and 1542. Declared

The Weather

A steady downpour of rain early yesterday morning was beneficial to lawns and gardens. And it seems a number of residents were bothered by mosquitoes during the night. Yesterday afternoon it clouded up and looked like another downpour would occur. The temperature was not quite so hot as in the past two days. The high yesterday was 86 degrees with a low reading of 65 and at 8:45 p. m. yesterday the mercury stood at 70 degrees. The amount of rainfall was .30 inches. The weatherman forecasts cloudy skies today with cooler temperatures.
